[Translator’s Forward]

In the name of Allāh, the Beneficent, the Merciful

Verily, all praise is due to Allāh and may the Peace and Blessings of Allāh be upon His Last Messenger, Muḥammad and his family and his companions until the Day of Judgment.

We present to the English reader, Millat Ibrāhīm, by the noble Shaykh, Abū Muḥammad Al-Maqdisī, may Allāh preserve him. This particular treatise has been an influential and significant book with many of the contemporary Islāmic groups intent upon forming an Islāmic state. Herein, the author draws several parallels between the form of idolatry in the time of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ and that which the apostate regimes have instituted from fabricated laws and methodologies of falsehood in the lands of the Muslims, which are the main obstacles to the formation of such a state.

In doing so, he touches upon the very basis of Tawḥīd and the obligation of the slave not only to hold these false deities with contempt inwardly – be they idols made of stone, or trees, or stars or the man-made legislations – but outwardly as well. And while most Muslims are familiar with the concept of having enmity towards the polytheists (Mushrīkin) and their false deities, within their hearts, there seems to be a pervasive lack of awareness regarding the outward enmity and what is required to be demonstrated in terms of aggression and hostility and warfare. And so, as the author points out, although most Muslims are aware of certain aspects of the events of Ibrāhīm’s life, may the blessings of Allāh be upon him, the various points of his Millah, in terms of his enmity towards the people of Shīrkh and Kufr and his taking them and that which they worshipped as enemies, both inwardly and outwardly, remain unclear to most. Therefore, the reader is encouraged to pay close attention, throughout the book, to the Shaykh’s points because, although there are many excellent books available in English regarding Tawhīd, this particular aspect has not been covered in the detail that it deserves for the English reader.

As the author mentions in his introduction, this edition of Millat Ibrāhīm was a follow-up to its initial publication. And subsequently, the Shaykh has addressed some of the comments that had been made about the original book and then included his refutation upon these comments within the introduction to this second edition. This is a very valuable segment as it provides a revealing glance into the mindsets of those who have objected to this subject matter being put forth by the Shaykh, may Allāh preserve him.

So the reader is advised to pay close attention to the points, which the opposition has raised in relation to this book, as well as to the accompanying refutation upon these points. And in this way, the reader will attain a more comprehensive view of the nature of the dispute between those who call for Millah of Ibrāhīm in its true form, and those who attempt to restrict its application in our time by means of diluting it and creating ambiguities and doubts concerning it. And to Allāh are the grievances.

As for the translation, we have attempted to be as precise as possible to the way in which the Shaykh has phrased many of his sentences and paragraphs. However, there were instances wherein we rearranged the order of the words to reflect the continuity and fluidity of English sentence structures. For example, sentences such as: “And sufficient for us, in that, is the guidance of the Prophet ﷺ in Makkah and how he would make the gods of Quraysh (appear) foolish…”, which is the literal word-for-word translation of the Arabic text, have undergone a rearrangement of words, yet retaining the same meaning: “And the guidance of the Prophet ﷺ, in Makkah, is sufficient for us in the way he would make the gods of Quraysh (appear) foolish…”, in order to serve the fluidity of the sentence.
There are also several passages of poetry, which have been translated and arranged in English according to the Arabic method poetic prose. However, although there was a great effort in reproducing the meaning of each couplet, often the impact and style of the Arabic text was lost as was the rhythm and rhyme.

One other change was the addition our own translator footnotes, which we’ve denoted with “Trans. Note:” in order to differentiate ours from those of the author. These notes were added in order to further clarify some of the points of the Shaykh or to assist with lengthy explanations of translated words of phrases etc. Because the Shaykh writes at such an academic level, it is assumed that the reader is familiar with many of the texts and evidences for the points, which he touches upon. So in those cases where the Shaykh has alluded to a Hadith or a principle of Islamic Jurisprudence (Fiqh), we have added various comments and references, which expand upon these points with the intent of further explaining them. At times, these footnotes may seem distracting; however, we hope that they will assist the reader with some of the more ambiguous passages of the book. And finally, we’ve taken all of the references that were used by the Shaykh within and text of the book itself, and dropped them down into footnotes so that the reader could locate them by scanning the bottom of each page.

Finally, we would like to thank all those who had assisted, in the translation of this treatise. Indeed there were tireless efforts on some of their parts, which they patiently offered as well as time and energy in the completion of this project. Again, I ask Allâh to reward them and protect them for their effort and sincerity for the sake of Allâh, the Most High.

And may Allâh, the Most High, give victory to His soldiers and callers who implement fully, and live their lives according to, the Millah of Ibrâhim. And all praise is due to Allâh.

Introduction by Juhayman Al-ʿUtaybī

All praise belongs to Allāh: “The Forgiver of sin, the Acceptor of repentance, the Severe in punishment, the Bestower (of favours), none has the right to be worshipped but He, to Him is the final return. None disputes in the Āyāt (proofs, evidences, verses, lessons, signs, revelations, etc.) of Allāh but those who disbelieve. So let not their ability of going about here and there through the land (for their purposes) deceive you [O Muhammad, their ultimate end will be the Fire of Hell]! The people of Nūh and the confederates after them denied (their Messengers) before these, and every (disbelieving) nation plotted against their Messenger to seize him, and disputed by means of falsehood to refute therewith the truth. So I seized them (with punishment), and how (terrible) was My punishment!”

And I testify that there is none worthy of being worshipped, except Allāh Alone, without any partner; and I testify that Muhammad is His Messenger and Slave – the one who said:

“I have left you with two things after which you shall never go astray, as long as you adhere to them: the Book of Allah and my Sunnah. And they shall never part until they attend my Basin of Al-Kawthar.”

Ammā Baʿd:

Thus, we intended to clarify our Manhaj with regards to holding onto these two fundamentals which necessitates the one who holds onto them, that he will never be misguided; and to clarify our proof upon that from the two, and showing the deficiency of most of those who claim to hold steadfast to these two (fundamentals). And we will suffice by mentioning some of their groups, who appear to us to be amongst the closest of the groups who adhere to the Book and Sunnah; We ask Allâh to make them from amongst those who listen to the Word and follow the best thereof, and that their status (high position) amongst the people does not deter them (from sincerely following the Truth); and that they stand firm, as ‘Abdollâh Ibn Salâm stood firm, when he accepted the Truth which the Messenger of Allâh came with (salutations be upon him), even though he knew that his people would distort all his good deeds into evil deeds, and that he would loose all his status which he held amongst them. As was narrated by Al-Bukhârî mentioning the incident of his entering into Islâm, until he had said:

O Messenger of Allâh! The Jews are a slanderous people- and indeed, if they know that I have become Muslim, then they will slander me.”

So the Jews came, and the Prophet (peace be upon him) asked them, “What type of a person is ‘Abdollâh Ibn Salâm amongst you?”

They replied, “He is the best of us, and the son of the best of us! He is our noble, the son of our noble!”

He said, “What would you think if he became Muslim?”

So they replied, “May Allâh give him refuge from such a thing!”

So ‘Abdollâh came out, and said, “I bear witness that there is none worthy of being worshipped, except Allâh; and I bear witness that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allâh.”

So they said, “He is the wretched one, the son of the wretched one!” And they insulted him.

So he said, “O Messenger of Allâh! This is what I had feared.”

And (we ask Allâh) to save them from the entrances of Shaytân, from which he enters upon some of the scholars and callers, and deceives them due to the large number of followers. And indeed, we have seen them holding on to a part of Islâm which is seventy-something branches; so sometimes, for example, he takes twenty branches only, and he adheres to them, and is harsh against those who contradict him in them- and from that, he gets some supporters, and some enemies; But in reality, he has lost the true fundamental (of La Ilaha Illaha Allaha), and he deceives his own self, and deceives others, while he and others think that they have fulfilled Islam.

Yet, the Messenger of Allâh (salutations and peace be upon him) said, “Indeed, none can fulfill the obligations of the Din of Allâh, except he who surrounds it from all sides.”

And the reason for which we have distanced ourselves from the Jamâ‘ât (groups), is because they think that disassociating from the mushrikîn and showing hostility to them, and speaking openly about the Truth, contains hardship and difficulty, and will prevent the spreading of the Da’wah, and will cause people to run away from it.

So there is amongst them those who are negligent regarding this fundamental, and there are those who have completely forsaken it; But we say that it is other than what they make it seem to be- Because Allâh has lifted hardship away from us, and has commanded us with this fundamental, and if there was hardship in it, then He would not have commanded us with it!

And listen to His (Most High)’s Statement:

And strive hard (i.e. wage Jihâd) in the Path of Allâh as you ought to strive. He has chosen you, and has not laid upon you in religion any hardship, it is the religion of your father Ibrâhîm. It is He (Allah) Who has named you Muslims both before and in this (the Qur’ân), that the 5 Narrated by Al-Hâkim, Abû Nu‘aym, Al-Bayhaqi in “Ad-Dalâ’il”, and the incident in which this Hadith is a part of, was declared “Hasan” by Al-Hâfîth Ibn Hajar in “Al-Fat’h” (7/22). Trans. Note: Also see “Kanz Al-‘Ummâl” (3/84).

Messenger (Muhammad) may be a witness over you and you be witnesses over mankind! So perform As-Salāt, give Az-Zakāt and hold steadfast to Allāh. He is your Mawlā (Patron, Lord, etc.), what an Excellent Mawlā (Patron, Lord, etc.) and what an Excellent Helper!” 6

So if Allāh has ordered us with Jihād, and has clarified that there is no hardship in it, and that that is the Millah of Ibrāhīm- then know that this fundamental – Waging Jihād With the Life, and Following the Religion of Ibrāhīm – it is this that differentiates the truthful one from the pretending claimant. And listen to what Allāh mentioned regarding the truthful ones:

“Only those are the believers who have believed in Allah and His Messenger, and afterward doubt not but strive with their wealth and their lives for the Cause of Allah. Those! They are the truthful.” 7

And said regarding the pretending claimants:

“Those who believe say: "If only a Sūrah (chapter) was sent down (for us)? But when a decisive Sūrah (explaining and ordering things) is sent down, and fighting (Qitāl) is mentioned (i.e. ordained) therein, you will see those in whose hearts is a disease (of hypocrisy) looking at you with a look of one fainting to death. But it was better for them (hypocrites, to listen to Allāh and to obey Him). Obedience (to Allāh) and good words (were better for them). And when the matter (preparation for Jihād) is resolved on, then if they had been true to Allāh, it would have been better for them.”

7 Al-Hujurāt: 15

And now we will clarify to you the Millah of Ibrāhīm – peace be upon him – so that you can be upon clarity, and so that it will be apparent to you that it is the differentiation between the Truth and Falsehood – contrary to what some of them say, that Islām is a “modernistic” religion, so that they can mix the East with the West, and so that they can imitate them, and live amongst them.

8 Muhammad: 21-22
[Declaration of Disavowal]

To the transgressing rulers (Tawāghīt) of every time and place... to the transgressing rulers (Tawāghīt); the governors and the leaders and the Caesars and the Kisrahs (Persian Emperors) and the Pharaohs and the Kings... to their servants and their misguiding scholars ('Ulamā)... to their supporters and their armies and their police and their intelligence agencies... and their guardians... to all of them collectively, we say: “Verily, we are free from you and whatever you worship besides Allāh.” [Al-Mumtaḥinah, 4] Free from your retched laws, methodologies, constitutions and values... free from your repugnant governments, courts, distinguishing characteristics and media... “We have rejected you, and there has become apparent between us and you, enmity and hatred forever, until you believe in Allāh Alone.” [Al-Mumtaḥinah, 4]

I will perform Jihād against Your enemies as long as you keep me (in existence),
And I will make fighting them my occupation
And I will expose them at the heads of the assemblies,
And I will slice their strength with my tongue.
Perish in your rage, for my Lord is well knowing,
Of the secrets you withhold, and the evil of your souls
For Allāh will support His Religion and His Book,
And His Messenger along with the knowledge and authority.
And the truth is a pillar, which no one can destroy
Even if the Thaqālān (man and Jinn) united (to do so).

MILLAT IBRĀHĪM
(THE RELIGION OF IBRĀHĪM)

[Introduction]

All praise is due to Allāh, the Guardian of the Pious and the One who brings humiliation to the enemies of the religion.

And may the most perfect blessings and fullest peace be upon our Prophet; our example, the one who said, “...verily, Allāh has taken me as His Khalīl (i.e. friend) just as He took Ibrāhīm.” 9

And to proceed: This is my book Millat Ibrāhīm, which I offer to the noble readers in its new form after it had been distributed and published and copied multiple times by the young men who distributed it in different regions of the world, prior to my preparing it for publication. And that was because I had given the manuscript, in my handwriting, to some of our Algerian brothers in Pakistan. And at that time, it was a chapter from a book I was compiling called Asālib at-Tughāt Fil-Kayd Lid-Da’wah Wad-Du’āt, during a period in which I had been traveling between countries, leaving it unfinished. So those brothers published the chapter with their modest resources and this was the first time it emerged and was the cause for its distribution.

Then, when Allāh, the Most High, covered (the matter) with His favor and generosity, I quickly prepared it for publication, especially due to the lengthy period in which I was under arrest and imprisoned due to the wrath of the enemies of Allāh, regarding this book. So every time they would arrest a brother, the first thing they would ask, was about this book; had he read it and did he know its author?

And some of them would even say to those who responded in the affirmative, “Then this is sufficient (to prove that) your ideology is Jihād-oriented and you have weapons because we have not arrested any armed group except that we found this book in their possession.”

9 From a Hadīth narrated by Muslim, narrated by Jundub ibn ‘Abdullāh, Marfū‘ān (i.e. raised up in the chain to the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ).
So all praise is due to Allāh, the One who made it a thorn in the throats and a pain in their chests and an ulcer in their livers (i.e. guts). And I ask Allāh to shelter us and for Him to round up the Tāghūt 10 with hook-shaped thorns (Sa’dān). 11

This, plus I have been waiting since the initial publication of this book, and its subsequent publication, up until the time in which I write these sentences, for advice or notices to reach me (regarding the book). And I waited anxiously to hear the points and criticisms from several of those whose tongues have been stretched concerning this call (Da’wah) and this book. And they have accused us and lied upon us (by claiming that we said) something, which did not come from us in even one day from the passed days, to the point where one of them even gave a sermon (Khutbah) on Friday, in one of the Mosques of Kuwait, in which he claimed that I said that I am the only one in this era who is upon the Millah of Ibrāhīm. And he claimed that we declare the disbelief (Takfīr) of all of the people this way (i.e. by saying this) and he described us as the contemporary Khawārij 12 and other than that from the lies that they are not deceived with except due to their blind following (Taqlīd) of the sightless.

10 Trans. Note: The word ‘Tāghūt’ is used here to describe the transgressing rulers who rule by other than the Sharī‘ah of Allāh. And a more comprehensive definition would be anything that is worshipped besides Allāh. A deeper, fuller definition is ahead in another footnote.

11 As-Sa’dān: A known thorn, which some of the Ḥadīths have mentioned. The hooks of Hell are upon its description.

12 Trans. Note: The Khawārij: The astray sect, who rebelled against the Muslims and declared the disbelief (Takfīr) of those who committed sins. Al-Ḥāfīz Ibn Hājar said, “As for the Khawārij, they are the plural of ‘Kharajah’; in other words, a group. And they are an innovating people who were named that, due to their leaving the religion and their rebellion against the best of the Muslims.” [Fath Al-Bāri, Vol.12/296] Ibn Hazm, may Allāh be merciful to him, said, “And a group from the companions of Al-Ḥārith Al-Ībādī (i.e. from the original ‘Ībādī sect of the Khawārij) said, ‘Verily, he who commits fornication (Zinā) or theft or slander; then the penalty (Ḥadd) is to be implemented upon him. Then the seeking of repentance (i.e. his returning to Islām) is to be implemented upon him, due to what he committed. Then if he repents (i.e. returns to Islām), he is left alone; but if he refuses to repent, he is killed upon apostasy (Riddah).” [Al-Fīsīl Fī Al-Milal Wal-Ahwāw Wan-Nīhil, Vol. 3/124, published by Maktabat Dār Al-Kutub Al-‘Ilmiyyah, Beirut, 1st Edition, 1416 H.]
As for the seekers of truth, whose eyes have been brightened by the light of the revelation, then they are aware of our (true) condition with them, just as the poet said:

And if Allāh wishes to spread a good thing Which is needed, He makes an envious tongue available for it.

But despite the lengthy period in which this book had been distributed and despite all of the argumentation and jealousy and the abundance of disgraceful accusers, throughout this entire time, I have not been reached by a single refutation or rebuttal or serious point or notice regarding this book. Rather, all of what has reached me was general chirps from some of those who oppose (us), which were transmitted verbally from their Shaykhs. This is its summary:

- They said, “Allāh described Ibrāhīm as being a glorifier (of Allāh) and forbearing, because he used to argue on behalf of the disbelievers (Kuffār) of the people of Lūt and this is contradictory to showing enmity and disavowal towards them, which you (i.e. Abū Muhammad) mentioned was from the basics of this Millah.”

- And they said – and how odd is it, what they say, “We have been commanded to follow the path of Muḥammad ﷺ and his Millah. But as for the Millah of Ibrāhīm, it is from the legislation (Shara’) of those who came before us and the legislation (Shara’) of those who came before us, is not legislation for us.”

- And they say, “The verse from Al-Mumtahinah, in which the Millah of Ibrāhīm is mentioned, was from the Madinah-period (Madaniyyah) so it was revealed during a stage when the Muslims had a state.” And they testified (what amounts to declaring) that this great Millah will only be apparent and followed in the existence of that state.
And they said, “The Hadith regarding the breaking of the idols in Makkah is a weak Hadith,” and they rushed to that, seeking to reject the most important thing that came in the book, by weakening that single Hadith.

And perhaps the intelligent reader would prefer us not to bring ourselves down (to that level of discussion or) to address (their theoretical objections) and the likes of these statements, whose reality is just as the poet said:

Ambiguities, which crumble like glass in succession; With truth they all are shattered.

But I can see nothing to prevent us from confronting these (statements) due to fear that they may affect some people or some of the beguiled ones may accept them, especially when nothing else (i.e. of any significance) has reached me. So I say in brief:

- Firstly: As far as His, the Most High’s, statement about Ibrähîm:

Then when the fear had gone away from (the mind of) Ibrähîm, and the glad tidings had reached him, he began to plead with Us (Our Messengers) for the people of Lût. Verily, Ibrähîm was, without doubt, forbearing, used to invoke Allâh with humility, and was repentant (to Allâh all the time, again and again). 13

So in this (verse), there is no such point of evidence that the arguers can use for this falsehood, as the people of Tafsîr have narrated that the arguing of Ibrahim, for the people of Lût, was only for Lût and not for them (i.e. the disbelievers), as they mentioned that when he heard the saying of the angels:

13 Hûd, 74-75.
They said: “Verily, we are going to destroy the people of this [Lūt’s] town...”

He said, “Do you see if there were fifty Muslims from them, would you destroy them?”

They said, “No.”

He said, “Then forty?”

They said, “No.”

He said, “Then twenty?”

They said, “No.”

Then he said, “Then ten; then five?”

They said, “No.”

He said, “Then one?”

They said, “No.”

He (Ibrāhīm) said: “But there is Lūt in it.” They said: “We know better who is there, we will verily save him [Lūt] and his family...” – the verse. And this is what the people of Tafsīr mentioned, which the verses of the Book indicate.

14 Al-‘Ankabūt, 31.
15 Al-‘Ankabūt, 32.
So the most deserving types of interpretation (Tafsir) is the interpretation (Tafsir) of the Qur'an by the Qur'an (itself). 17 So the verse in Sūrat Hūd; the former one, is explained by the verse in Al-'Ankabūt, which was mentioned. So it is a clarification and an explanation for it.

He, the Most High, said:

And when Our Messengers came to Ibrāhīm with the glad tidings they said: “Verily, we are going to destroy the people of this [Lūt's] town truly, its people have been Thalimūn (wrongdoers).” Ibrāhīm said: “But there is Lūt in it.” They said: “We know better who is there, we will verily save him [Lūt] and his family, except his wife, she will be of those who remain behind.” 18

Then suppose that the arguing (of Ibrāhīm) was (in fact) for the people of Lūt themselves, then doesn’t the knowledge concerning the reality of the Da’wah of the Prophets and the fact that they were the most merciful people to their people, necessitate understanding this arguing upon the zeal and enthusiasm of their being guided before they were destroyed?

Doesn’t the sound reasoning dictate holding this unrestricted arguing and its understanding, upon the light of the statement of the Prophet ﷺ, who, when Allāh sent the angel of the mountains to him so that he could order him with whatever he wished, with respect to his people, when they

17 Trans. Note: Al-Hajīth, Ibn Kathīr said in the introduction to his Tafsīr, “If someone asks about the best methods of Tafsīr, we reply that the best method is to interpret the Qur'an with the Qur'an (itself). [Tafsīr Ibn Kathīr, Vol. 1/19; publication of Dār Al-Fayhā', Damascus and, Dār As-Salām, Riyādh, 2nd Edition, 1418 AH.] And Shuykh Al-Islām, Ibn Taymiyyah said, in his treatise Usool At-Tafsīr, “Then if a questioner asks, ‘Then what is the best method of interpretation (Tafsīr),’ then the answer is that the best method for that is for the Qur'an to be interpreted by the Qur'an (itself).” [Majmū' Al-Fatāwa, Vol. 7/195; publication of Maktabat Al-'Ubaykān, Riyādh, 1st Edition, 1418 AH.]

rejected his Da’wah? To which, he replied, “Rather, I hope that Allah might bring out from them (lit. ‘from their backs’), people who worship Allah alone and not associating anything with Him.” And this Hadith has been narrated by the two Shaykhs. 19

Doesn’t the (proper) etiquette towards the Prophets, and positive assumptions regarding them, dictate this understanding? And (doesn’t it also) dictate negating such faulty understandings from them, which clash the verses of the Book against one another, and blur the (message of the) Da’wah of the Prophets and find fault with them? This is because (to do otherwise), would characterize them as those who (attempt to) sew patches over the falsehood; those who argue for the ones who deceive themselves.

And they (i.e. the Prophets) were the ones who were not sent in the first place, except to show their open enmity and disavowal towards the polytheism (Shirk) and its people.

But when they (i.e. the opposition) could not find, in the clear evidences, anything to support their falsehood, they inclined towards what their inner selves desired from the texts, which could seem to take that (supposed) meaning and their assumed indications. And they interpreted them with their faulty understandings in an effort to puncture the throats of the fully clear, unambiguous, certain texts, such as His, the Most High’s, statement in Sūrat Al-Mumtahinah, with complete clarity:

Indeed there has been an excellent example for you in Ibrāhīm and those with him, when they said to their people: “Verily, we are free from you and whatever you worship besides Allāh...” 20 – the verse.

19 Trans. Note: Al-Bukhārī and Muslim.
20 Al-Mumtahinah, 4.
And consider how Allāh, the Most High, began it (i.e. this verse), by saying that it is an excellent example for us and then He followed that with what affirmed it, as He said:

Certainly, there has been in them an excellent example for you to follow, for those who look forward to (the Meeting with) Allāh...” 21

So look how they turn away from the clear, unambiguous, certain texts and instead go to the verse in Sūrat Hūd, which has passed, in which Allāh says in its end (anyway):

“O Ibrāhīm! Forsake this.” 22

So understand the condition of such people and how the Shaytān played with them (i.e. their understanding) and praise your God (Ilāh) for His guidance to a clear truth.

And make for your heart two From the fear of Ar-Rahmān eyes, both of them. they both weep.

If your Lord willed, you would As the heart is between the have been like them. fingers of Ar-Rahmān.

• Secondly, as for their saying that the Millah of Ibrāhīm is from the legislation of those who came before us, and that the legislation of those who were before us is not legislation for us, then this is from the most peculiar of strange things. So where will they go with Allāh, the Most High’s clear, open statement:

21 Al-Mumtahinah, 6.

Indeed there has been an excellent example for you in Ibrāhīm and those with him, when they said to their people: “Verily, we are free from you and whatever you worship besides Allāh, we have rejected you, and it has become openly seen between us and you, hostility and hatred for ever, until you believe in Allāh Alone.” 23

…until His, the Most High’s, statement:

Certainly, there has been in them an excellent example for you to follow, for those who look forward to (the Meeting with) Allāh (for the reward from Him) and the Last Day. And whosoever turn away, then verily, Allāh is Rich (Free of all wants), Worthy of all Praise. 24

And where will they go with His, the Most High’s, statement:

And who turns away from the religion of Ibrāhīm except him who befools himself? 25

And with His, the Powerful, the Majestic’s, statement:

Then, We have inspired you: “Follow the religion of Ibrāhīm Hanifa (Islāmic Monotheism - to worship none but Allāh) and he was not of the Mushrikīn.” 26

And how many authentic Hadīths, in the Sunnah, advise the Prophet ﷺ to follow Al-Hanīfīyah, As-Samhah; the Millah of our father, Ibrāhīm. 27 So the texts are abundant and they clearly show that the path of the Prophet ﷺ and the basis of his Da’wah were open enmity and disavowal towards the disbelievers (Kuffār) and their deities and their false legislations. And this was the essence of the path of Ibrāhīm, ﷺ and his Millah.

And in the agreed upon Hadith, 28 “The Prophets are all the children of ’Alāt.” In other words, their founding principle is the same even if what extends from them may differ. 29 And the utmost point that we repeat throughout this book is that this was merely the basic principle of Tawḥīd and what it necessitates from the disavowal towards the polytheism (Shirk) and the condemnation of its supporters. And it is known that in this topic, there can neither be any abrogation nor can it be said that it is the legislation (Sharī’a) of those who came before us, as the law (Shari’ah) of the Prophets – all of them – in the basic principle of the Tawḥīd and the enmity towards the Shirk and its people, is one.

27 Trans. Note: Al-Hanīfīyah: The clear truth. As-Samhah: The tolerant leniency. In this context, the phrase may take the meaning of “The Truth Tempered with Tolerance” (Al-Hanīfīyah, As-Samhah). For example: “The most beloved of the religions to Allāh, the Most High, is Al-Hanīfīyah, As-Samhah.” Shaykh Al-Albānī, may Allāh be merciful to him, classified as Ḥasan in Sahīh Al-Jāmī’, #160 and “The best Islām is Al-Hanīfīyah, As-Samhah,” also classified as Ḥasan in ‘Ṣaḥīḥ Al-Jāmī’, #1,090

28 Trans. Note: “Agreed upon”, refers to narrations reported from al-Bukhārī and Muslim.

29 Trans. Note: In explaining this Hadīth of Sahīḥ Muslim, Imām an-Nawawī said, “The scholars (‘Ulamā) said, ‘The children of ’Alāt...’ – and adds some words concerning its proper annunciation, until he said – “…they are the siblings from one father, but from different mothers. As for the siblings of two fathers, then they are called the children of Al-A’yān. The majority of the scholars (‘Ulamā) said that the meaning of this Hadīth is that the foundation of their faith (Imān) is one, while their legislations differ, because they are in agreement in the foundations of Tawḥīd. But as for the branches of the legislation, then there were differences between them.”
And verily, We have sent among every Ummah (community, nation) a Messenger (proclaiming): “Worship Allāh (Alone), and avoid (or keep away from) Tāghūt.” 30

And He, Glory to Him, said:

And We did not send any Messenger before you but We inspired him (saying): Lā ilāha illa Ana [none has the right to be worshipped but I (Allāh)], so worship Me. 31

And He, the Powerful, the Majestic, said:

He (Allāh) has ordained for you the same religion (Islām) which He ordained for Nūh, and that which We have inspired in you, and that which We ordained for Ibrāhīm… 32

• Thirdly, as for their statement regarding the verse of Al-Mumtalāhīnah being from the Madīnah-period, which came down when the Muslims had a state:

So we respond by saying that Allāh has completed for us the religion and fulfilled His favor upon us. So today, whoever wishes to differentiate between that which Allāh revealed with the argument that this is from the Madīnah-period and that is from the Makkah-period, then he must bring a clear proof from the (Islāmic) legislation (Shāra’) for what he wants (to suggest), otherwise he is from the liars. He, the Most High, said:

30 An-Nāṣr, 36.
31 Al-Anbiyā’, 25.
32 Ash-Shūrah, 13.
Say, “Produce your proof if you are truthful.” 33

And opening this door without any restriction from the (Islamic) legislation (Shari‘ah) or an evidence to indicate this, is in reality, the opening of a door of great evil upon the religion of Allâh. And it holds the invalidation of several of the evidences of the Shari‘ah. And if their speaker had merely said, “Verily, the demonstrating of this great Millah and openly declaring it, is based upon one’s ability (to do so),” then we would not have had to confront him. However, their wish was to extinguish it with the argument that it (i.e. this verse) was from the Madinah-period when the Muslims had a state. But Ibrâhîm, and those who were with him, declared it and made it known, while they were weak people and they had no state. Yet despite that, Allâh clarified for us that they were a good example for whoever puts their hope in Allâh and the Last Day. And it is known that the Prophet ﷺ followed their path. So from the most important matters of his Da‘wah throughout his life – whether it was during the Makkah-period or the Madinah-period from it – was making the Tawhîd known and the open enmity and disavowal towards the Shirk and their making deities to be equal (with Allâh). And (this includes) that which relates to it and necessitates from it, from the most secure tie of faith (Imân) and his historical accounts, may the blessings of Allâh and His peace be upon him. And this bears witness to that (i.e. what has been established) and we have mentioned for you, some examples of that in this book.

Then suppose, for the sake of argument, that what they said about the verse in Al-Muntahinah, regarding it being (dependant) upon it’s being from the Madinah-period and that this were correct. So then is the Sûrah of the open enmity and disavowal towards the Shirk, this way as well?

Say: “O Al-Kâfirûn (disbelievers in Allâh)! I worship not that which you worship...”

33 Trans. Note: Al-Baqarah, 111.
...until His, the Most High’s, statement:

“To you be your religion, and to me my religion.” 34

And is His - the Most High’s - statement:

Perish the two hands of Abū Lahab, and perish he! 35

...until the end of the verses, also like that? And (consider) His, the Most High’s, statement:

...Have you then considered Al-Lāt, and Al-'Uzza and Manāt, the other third? Is it for you the males and for Him the females? That indeed is a division most unfair! They are but names, which you have named, you and your fathers, for which Allāh has sent down no authority. They follow but a guess and that which they themselves desire, whereas there has surely come to them the Guidance from their Lord! 36 – the verses.

And what is similar to that is His, the Most High’s, statement:

Certainly! You (disbelievers) and that which you are worshipping now besides Allāh, are (but) fuel for Hell! (Surely), you will enter it. Had these 34 Al-Kāfirūn, 1-6.

35 Al-Masad, 1.
36 An-Najm, 19-23.
(idols, etc.) been āliha (gods), they would not have entered there (Hell), and all of them will abide therein. 37

And the likes of these from the verses of the Book, which are from the Makkah-period, and they are many.

And we have mentioned in this book, the statement of Allāh, describing his Prophet:

And when those who disbelieve see you, they take you not except for mockery (saying): “Is this the one who talks (badly) about your gods?” 38

So His statement: “...talks (badly) about your gods...” – in other words, frees himself from them and from their worshippers and disbelieves in them and declares it (i.e. their worship) to be foolish. So was all this, only to be done in Madinah? How, while these verses from the Makkah-period? And the examples are numerous.

• Fourthly, some of them claim that the Hadīth, about the Prophet breaking the idols in Makkah, is weak and they assume by this, that they have destroyed the most important thing that came in the book from the points about this great Millah.

So we say firstly, the Hadīth is confirmed with a Hasan chain and it was narrated in Musnad Al-Imām Al-Madā‘īn. 39

‘Abdullāh said, “My father narrated to me, ‘Asbāt ibn Muhammad narrated to us, ‘Na‘im ibn Hakim Al-Madá‘īn narrated to us, from Abī Mariyam, from ‘Ali, may Allāh be pleased with him, who said: ‘The Prophet and I went out until we came to the Ka‘bah. So the Messenger of Allāh said to me, ‘Sit,’ and he climbed upon my shoulders. So I began to lift him up, but he perceived a weakness from me. So he got down and the Prophet of Allah sat for me and said, ‘Climb upon my shoulders.’ He (i.e. ‘Ali) said, ‘So I climbed upon his shoulders.’ He (i.e. ‘Ali) said, ‘So he stood up with me.’ He (i.e. ‘Ali) said, ‘So it seemed to me that if I wished, I could have reached the horizon of the sky, until I climbed upon the house (i.e. Ka‘bah) upon which, were copper or brass statues. So I would engage it on its right and its left and in front and behind it, until I was in control of it. The Messenger of Allah said to me, ‘Now throw it!’ So I threw it and it shattered like a broken bottle. Then I got down and the Messenger of Allah and I left, racing until we would hide amongst the houses, due to the fear that someone from the people would discover us.”

38 Al-Anbiyā’, 36.

I say: Asbāt ibn Muhammad is trustworthy and he has only been declared weak concerning (narrating from) Ath-Thawrī. And in this case, he did not narrate from him.

And Na‘īm ibn Hakīm Al-Madā‘īnī was declared trustworthy by Yahyah ibn Ma‘īn and Al-Ajālī. 40

And ‘Abdullāh ibn Aḥmad ibn Hanbal also said “Nasr ibn ‘Ali narrated to me, ‘Abdullāh ibn Dāwūd narrated to us, from Na‘īm ibn Hakīm, from ‘Ali, may Allah be pleased with him, who said: ‘There were idols on top of the Ka‘bah, so I began to lift the Prophet atop of it, but I was unable. So he lifted me, and I began to cut them. And if I wished, I could have reached the sky.’”41

And Al-Hayṭhamī 42 mentioned the Hadith in Mujmi‘ az-Zawā‘id, “Chapter: His !atī‘s Breaking of the Idols,” and he said after that, ‘…narrated by Aḥmad and his son, and Abū Ya‘lā and Al-Bazzār. He (i.e. Al-Bazzār) added further, after his (‘Ali’s) words: ‘...so we took shelter amongst the houses. And no more were ever added to it (i.e. the Ka’bah) thereafter.’ – meaning anything from those statues. He said, ‘...and the men of all of them (i.e. the various narrations) are trustworthy.”

And Al-Khattib Al-Baghdādī said “Abū Na‘īm Al-Hāfīth narrated to us from dictation, ‘Abū Bakr Ahmad ibn Yūsuf ibn Khallād narrated to us, ‘Muḥammad ibn Yūnus narrated to us, ‘Abdullāh ibn Dāwūd Al-Khuraybī narrated to us, from Na‘īm ibn Ḥakīm Al-Madā‘īnī, who said, ‘Narrated to me, Abū Mariyam from ‘Alī ibn Abī Tālib, who said: ‘The Messenger of Allāh went out with me to the idols. So he said, ‘Sit,’ so I sat beside the Ka’bah. Then the Messenger of Allāh climbed upon my shoulders and then he said, ‘Rise up with me to (reach) the idol.’ So I stood up but when he noticed my weakness beneath him, he said, ‘Sit,’ so I sat and let him down from atop me. Then the Messenger of Allāh sat for me and said to me, ‘O ‘Alī, climb atop my shoulders,’ so I climbed on top of his shoulders. So then the Messenger of Allāh stood up with me and when he stood up, it seemed to me that if I wished, I could have reached the sky. And I climbed on top of the Ka’bah and the Messenger of Allāh stepped aside. So I tipped over their largest idol; the idol of Quraysh, which was made of copper and was fastened to the surface (of the Ka’bah) with iron pegs. So the Messenger of Allāh, said to me ‘Wrestle it (free).’ So I wrestled it and did not stop wrestling it (free). And the Messenger of Allāh was saying, ‘Keep going, keep going, keep going.’ And I did not stop pushing it until I wrestled it free. So he said, ‘Strike it!’ So I struck it and I broke it and then I came down.”

I say: Abū Mariyam is Qays Ath-Thaqafī Al-Madā‘īnī, who narrates from ‘Ali and from him, Na‘īm ibn Ḥakīm. Ibn Hibban mentioned him in Ath-Thiqāt and An-Nasā‘ī deemed him trustworthy, but it is as Al-Hāfīth, Ibn Hajar said, “It is a mistake (that some claim) that Abā Mariyam Al-Hanafi is called Qays. And what is correct, is that the one who is called Qays is (in fact) Abū

Mariyam Ath-Thaqafi (not Al-Hanafi)…” until he said, “…except that the manuscript that I came across from the book At-Tamyiz, by An-Nasâ’î; the only one therein is Abû Mariyam Qays ath-Thaqafi. Yes, he mentioned him in At-Tamyiz, but as far as Abû Mariyam Al-Hanafi, An-Nasâ’î did not mention him because he only mentioned those whom he knew about.”

And those who spoke (negatively) about this Hadith, confused these two men
(i.e. Ath-Thaqafi vs. Al-Hanafi), so be aware of this. And also, Al-Haфиth, Ath-Thahabi deemed him trustworthy 45 and Ibn Abî Hâtim mentioned him in Al-Jârîh Wat-Ta’dî and Al-Bukhâri in At-Târîkh Al-âbîr, and no criticism was mentioned concerning him, nor praise. So he is other than Al-Hanafi and also, other than Al-Küfî. 46

And the Hadith was authenticated by the ’Allâmah, Ahmad Shâkir, as he said:
“Its chain is Sahîh. Na’îm ibn Hakîm was deemed trustworthy by Ibn Ma’în and others and Al-Bukhârî spoke about him in At-Târîkh Al-âbîr (4/2/99) yet he did not mention any criticism of him. Abû Mariyam; he is Ath-Thaqafi Al-Mâdâ’înî and he is trustworthy and Al-Bukhârî spoke about him as well (4/1/151) yet he did not mention any criticism about him.” He said, “And from what is clear is that this event was before the Hijrah (i.e. emigration to Al-Madinah).” 47

I say: And despite this, we have stated in this book, after we mentioned this Hadith, “…yet despite that, we say that if we were to concede, for the sake of argument, that the smashing of the idols in Makkah were not authentic from the Prophet ﷺ during the period of weakness, then he, may the blessings of Allâh and His peace be upon him, was a follower of the Millah of Ibrâhîm with the utmost of following, strictly abiding by it, as he did not, for a single moment, cozy-up to the disbelievers (Kuffâr), nor did he remain silent upon their falsehood or their gods. Rather, his entire focus and efforts in those (first) thirteen years – furthermore, even during other than these (years), was:

47 [Look to] the footnotes of Ahmad Shâkir’s verification of Al-Musnad, Vol. 2/58.
Worship Allāh, and avoid the Tāghūt.” 48

So the fact that he sat amongst them for thirteen years, does not mean that he praised or commended them or took some kind of oath upon respecting them…” until we said, “…Rather, he used to declare his open enmity and disavowal towards the polytheists (Mushrikīn) and their deeds and show his disbelief in their gods, despite his weakness and the weakness of his companions. And we have explained this for you in what has passed. And if you consider the Makkah-period of the Qur’ān, much of this will become clear to you…”

So the matter, therefore, is not – as those people have assumed – that it is only based upon this one Hadīth, which might be judged upon with weakness. Rather, it has great (supporting) witnesses (i.e. evidences) and clear proofs and confirmed principles and firmly established rules, from the evidences of the (Islāmic) legislation (Shari’ah). No one could possibly deny this except an arrogant denier.

So the truth is a pillar, which no Even if you were to bring one can rise to break. together both worlds.

And perhaps with this amount (of evidence), there is sufficient (proof) for those who wish to be guided.

And before I conclude this introduction, I would like to add one matter to it, as in prison I debated with some individuals from a well-known Irjā’-oriented 49 political party, concerning the topic of faith (Al-Īmān), and what relates to it.

48 An-Nahj, 36
49 Trans. Note: Irjā’-oriented (lit. Irjāʿi) from the concept of Irjāʿ, which is the astray ideology of the Murjiʿah sect. There are varying degrees of misguided groups within this sect, which are essentially sub-groups of the Murjiʿah. However, most of their erroneous concepts are founded upon a principle, which seeks to separate actions from faith (Imān). And from them
And among them was a leader from their leaders and from what he used as evidence patching over (i.e. protecting) the soldiers of the Shirk and the (fabricated man-made system of) law, was the event of Hātib ibn Abī Balṭā’ah and the incident of Abī Lubābah Al-Ansārī. And he claimed that Hātib spied on behalf of the disbelievers (Kuffār) and made allegiance (Wilāyah) with them and that Abā Lubābah betrayed Allāh and the Messenger, yet despite that, the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ did not issue the declaration of disbelief (Takfīr) to them. 50 And from there, he made the analogy (Qiyās) upon the battling of the soldiers of the Shirk and the (soldiers of the fabricated, man-made) law, against the Shāri’āh, and their enmity towards its people, based upon the actions of these two great companions. And he concluded with that, that the aides of the Tawāqīt (pl. of Tāghūt) and their soldiers; those who dwindle their lives in safeguarding the Shirk and the (man-made) law and the preservation of the thrones of the Tawāqīt, while waging war against the Shāri’āh and its people, that it was not allowed to declare their disbelief (Takfīr) because their crimes do not equal the action of Hātib or the action of Abū Lubābah! Rather, he went beyond that to the point where he became extremely enraged when we reported that he did not declare the disbelief (Takfīr) of the soldiers of the Shirk and the (man-made) law and that instead, he says that they are merely wrongdoers and wicked people. So he lost were those who held that faith (Īmān) neither increased nor decreased and that it was a constant entity, which was either present of absent. The point of the author here is that many of the contemporary groups have intentionally or unintentionally incorporated some of their views about the relationship of actions with faith (Īmān), which necessitates an effect on the rules of declaring disbelief (Takfīr), based upon actions. Therefore you will hear statements from them, such as, “A person is not labeled as a disbeliever (Kāfir), due to such-and-such action because this action does not indicate what is in his heart,” even if that action was from the most obvious forms of Major Disbelief (Kufr Akbar) such as swearing at Allāh or His Messenger, or legislating man-made laws and forcing these laws upon the people in replacement of the laws of Allāh, or making fun of the religion or other than that. And the reader is urged to read the book of the author, the Shaykh, Abu Muḥammad Al-Maqdisi, Murji’āt Al-‘Asr, which outlines the trend of some of the contemporary groups in adopting some principles of the Murji’āh.

50 And I have written a refutation upon this saying of theirs in a treatise from the treatises of the prison, which I entitled, Ash-Shihāb Al-Thāqib Fī Ar-Radd ‘Ala Man Iftara ‘Ala As-Salāḥī Hātib.
control, due to that, and accused us of changing his words, because it is, as he said, that he said that he did not describe them as wrongdoers or wicked people, in an unrestricted way. Rather, he said that he merely said this by way of defending against their declaration of disbelief (Takfīr), “Some of them may be wrongdoers or wicked people.” In other words, according to their individual conditions and not based upon the nature of their actions and their support of the Tawāghīt and their waging war against the Shari’ah and its people.

So I said to them, “It is strange that you take such offense to describing the army of the Tawāghīt and the soldiers of the Shīrkh and making equals (i.e. with Allāh), with wrongdoing and wickedness and openly declaring their defects, yet you do not take offense to the saying about Ḥātib: ‘He made allegiance (Wilāyah) with the disbelievers (Kuffār) and spied on their behalf.’ And about Abū Lubābah: ‘He betrayed Allāh and the Messenger!’ So this became the division between us and them.

And when some of the Islāmist in the prison attempted to joing between and reconcile us, some discussions took place between them (i.e. these Islāmist) and ourselves. So we discovered that they too were upon what the former ones were upon from this (earlier) statement (i.e. about Ḥātib and Abū Lubābah etc.). So I said to them, “Frankly, I am not very keen for your companionship because you do not (even) take offence to these words against some of the companions of the Prophet ﷺ and the description of them as treacherous, whereas you take offence to the description of the enemies of Allāh, and the army of the Tawāghīt, with wrongdoing and wickedness. And for this reason, we are not, by Allāh, very keen regarding your companionship. Rather, we merely humor you and we avoid preoccupying ourselves with you, because we are in prison, and we are amongst the enemies of Allāh, the Most High.” And at that point, their 51 Trans. Note: The point of the Shuykh here is that this man wouldn’t even generally describe the soldiers of the Shīrkh and the man-made legislations, who wage war against the people of the Shari’ah and the Tawhīd, as wrong-doers and wicked people.

52 Bearing in mind that when they were in the prison, they were always very pleasant towards the enemies of Allāh, who waged war against the Da’wah to the Tawhīd.
representative became angry and revealed what was hidden in his heart and said, “You are nothing more than a man who calls to the Millah of Ibrāhīm and the one calls to Millah of Ibrāhīm is a man who is politically bewildered; he calls to that which reconciles between the Jews and the Christians – those who are the descendants of Ibrāhīm!” And relating this event did not appear here except for this (reason), which is the place of its testimony. (i.e. to be an example of the pervasive ignorance about the Millah of Ibrāhīm.)

So I do not know what can be said about this.

And with what could I refute with the people who desire the establishment of the Khilāfah, while they cannot even differentiate between the expression, “The children of Ibrāhīm”, which the Tawāghīt use nowadays to appease the Jews and enter into peace conferences with them; an expression which is intended to annihilate the ties of faith (Īmān) and dissolve the very foundation of the religion and shake the basis of “Allegiance and Disavowal” (Al-Walā’ Wal-Barā’). And Allāh, the Most High, has refuted them, as He said:

Ibrāhīm was neither a Jew nor a Christian, but he was a true Muslim Hanifa (Islāmic Monotheism - to worship none but Allāh Alone) and he was not of Al-Mushrikīn. 53

So they do not even differentiate between this saying and between Millat Ibrāhīm, which divided between fathers and sons, as it is the criterion between the allies of Ar-Rahmān and the allies of Ash-Shaytān, and about which, Allāh, the Most High, said in the Qur’ān:

Furthermore, they would even pray behind these soldiers of Shīrkh and the law, while not being compelled. So while we would establish the Friday prayer and the congregational prayer on our own, and several of the prisoners would join us; but as for them, they would pray behind the people of Shīrkh and (those who) make deities equal (to Allāh) and they would rush to them and say, “Salām,” with kindness and some would even kiss them and congratulate them during the events and the ‘Eds. Furthermore, we saw from them, some who attribute themselves to the Islāmic Da’wah, who would even greet them on their Tāghūt, disbelieving promotional events.

53 Āl-‘Imrān, 67.
And who turns away from the religion of Ibrāhīm (i.e. Islamic Monotheism) except him who befools himself? 54

And we have explained this for you in this book, so contemplate it and do not turn to the turmoil of those who oppose it.

And likewise, brother in Tawḥīd, it is quite sad that the entire time in which this book has been published, I have not been reached by anything from those who oppose us, and those who argue with us, and those who hurl accusations at us and our Da‘wah, except the likes of these abuses, which should not have necessitated us lowering ourselves to their level in order to refute them. (And we would not have bothered), except for our awareness of the condition of the people in our time and the obliteration of the banners and milestones of this great Millah between them, and (our knowledge) that amongst them are those who listen to the people of sickness, whom Allāh, the Most High, described in the beginning of Sūrat Āl-‘Imrān. 55

So I ask Him, the Most High, to give victory to His religion and to subdue His enemies.

54 Al-Baqarah, 130.
55 Trans. Note: Referring to the statement of Allāh, the Most High:

It is He Who has sent down to you the Book (this Qur‘ān). In it are Verses that are entirely clear, they are the foundations of the Book and others not entirely clear. So as for those in whose hearts there is a deviation (from the truth) they follow that which is not entirely clear thereof, seeking Al-Fitnah and seeking for its hidden meanings, but none knows its hidden meanings save Allāh. And those who are firmly grounded in knowledge say: “We believe in it; the whole of it (clear and unclear Verses) are from our Lord.” And none receive admonition except men of understanding. [Āl-‘Imrān, 7]
Millat Ibrāhīm
(The Religion of Ibrāhīm)

And also to use us, for as long as we live, in support of this Millah and to make us from its army and its soldiers and to accept from us and to seal us (i.e. our deaths) with martyrdom in His path. Verily, He is Most Bountiful, Most Generous. And may Allah send blessings upon His Prophet, Muḥammad and His family and all his companions all together.

Abū Muḥammad
In the name of Allah, Who is sufficient for me and the best for one to rely upon.

[Chapter: Concerning the Clarification of the Millat Ibrāhīm]

He, the Most High, said about Millat Ibrāhīm:

And who turns away from the religion of Ibrāhīm (i.e. Islāmic Monotheism) except him who befools himself? 56

And He also said, addressing His Prophet, Muḥammad ﷺ:

Then, We have inspired you: “Follow the religion of Ibrāhīm Hanifa (Islāmic Monotheism - to worship none but Allah) and he was not of the Mushrikūn. 57

With this pureness and with this clarity, Allah, the Most High, demonstrated for us the methodology and the path. So the correct path and the proper methodology is Millat Ibrāhīm. There is no obscurity in that nor is there any misunderstanding. And whoever turns away from this path, by using the argument of “the benefits of the Da’wah”, or by (saying) that taking it (i.e. this path) causes tribulations and woes upon the Muslims, or other than these from the empty claims – which the Shaytān puts inside those with weak faith (Īmān) – then he is (both) foolish and deceived as he assumes himself to be more knowledgeable in the manners of Da’wah than Ibrāhīm, upon whom be blessings and peace, whom Allah lent his approval to, as He said:

56 Al-Baqarah, 130.
57 An-Nahl, 123.
And indeed We bestowed aforetime on Ibrāhīm his (portion of) guidance...

And He said:

 Truly, We chose him in this world and verily, in the Hereafter he will be among the righteous. 59

And He approved his Da’wah for us and ordered the seal of all the Prophets and Messengers [i.e. Muḥammad ‬‫‬‫‬�‬‫‬‫‬‬] to follow it and He made foolishness to be a description for everyone who turns away from his path and his methodology. And the Millah of Ibrāhīm is:

• Sincerity of worship to Allāh, alone, with everything that the phrase “The Worship” (Al-‘Ibādah) encompasses in meanings. 60

60 And the slave is unable to confront the Shirk and its people nor will he posses the power to maintain his disavowal (barā’ah) towards them while showing open enmity towards their falsehood, except by worshipping Allāh according to His just rights of worship. And Allāh, the Powerful, the Majestic, ordered his Prophet, Muḥammad ‬‫‬‫‬�‬‫‬‫‬‬ to recite the Qur’ān and to perform the night prayer while he was in Makkah. And He taught him that it would be a security, which would assist him to carry the heavy cloaks of the Da’wah. And this (i.e. order to pray the night prayer) came prior to His saying:

Verily, We shall send down to you a weighty Word (i.e. obligations, legal laws, etc.). [Al-Muzzammil, 5]

As He said:

 O you wrapped in garments! Stand (to pray) all night, except a little. Half of it, or a little less than that, or a little more; and recite the Qur’ān (aloud) in a slow, (pleasant tone and) style. [Al-Muzzammil, 1-4]
And the disavowal (Barā’ah) from the Shirk and its people

The Imām, the Shaykh, Muhammad ibn ‘Abdul-Wahhāb, may Allāh, the Most High, be merciful to him, said, “The basis (Asl) of the religion of Islām and its basis (Qā’idah) lie in two matters:

‘The First: The command to worship Allāh alone with no partners associated with Him and the encouragement upon this with the allegiance based upon it and the declaration of disbelief (Takfīr) of whoever leaves it.

‘The Second: The warning against Shirk in the worship of Allāh and being stern in that and having enmity based upon that and the declaration of disbelief (Takfīr) of whoever commits it.”

So he, may the blessings of Allāh and peace be upon him, stood up (for prayer) and his companions would stand up with him – to the point where their feet would split – until He, Glorified be He, revealed a reduction at the end of these verses [i.e. al-Muzzammil, 20].

And this standing and reciting the verses of Allāh, the Powerful, the Majestic, while contemplating His words, is the greatest security and assistance for the caller (Dā’ī), which secures him and assists him upon the hardships of the Da’wah and its difficulties. And those who assume that they are able to carry the great Da’wah, with its heavy cloaks, while not making the worship to be sincere for Allāh, the Powerful, the Majestic, and without making lengthy remembrance (Thikr) and His Glorification (Tasbīh), then they are mistaken and completely wrong. And even if they do make some progress, they will not be able to remain upon this correct, straight path, without any support. And verily, the best support is the piety (Taqwa).

And Allāh, the Powerful, the Majestic, described the companions of this Da’wah and those whom He ordered His Prophet, may the blessings of Allāh and His peace be upon him, to keep himself patiently with – those who call upon their Lord, morning and evening, seeking His Face, and that they sleep for a short part of the night while their sides desert their beds, while supplicating to their Lord, due to fear and hope, while fearing a grim day from their Lord. And other than that, from those descriptions about which, no one is qualified for this Da’wah, and carrying its cloak except the one who fits their descriptions. And may Allāh, the Most High, cause us and you to be from them. So be upon awareness!
And this was the Tawḥīd that the Messengers called to, may the blessings of Allāh and His peace be upon all of them. And it is the meaning of (the phrase) Lā ilāha il-Allāh; sincerity and Tawḥīd and singling out Allāh, the Powerful, the Majestic, in worship and allegiance (based upon) His religion and His allies. And (on the other hand), disbelief and disavowal (Barā’ah) from everything that is worshipped besides Him with the enmity towards His enemies.

So it is Tawḥīd in belief and in actions; both at the same time, as Sūrat Al-Ikhāl is evidence for the beliefs from it, and Sūrat Al-Kāfirūn is evidence for the actions. And the Prophet, may the blessings of Allāh and His peace be upon him, used to recite these two *Sūrah*s often and continuously in the Sunnah (prayer, before) Fajr and others, due to their great importance.

Trans. Note: The ‘Allāmah, Ibn Al-Qayyim, may Allāh be merciful to him said, “As for the sixth matter; it is that this Sūrah (i.e. Al-Kāfirūn) deals totally with negation. And this refers specifically to this Sūrah as it is a Sūrah of disavowal (Barā’ah) from the Shirk, just as it has come in its description, that it is ‘The Sūrah of Disavowal (Barā’ah) from the Shirk. So its greatest goal is this sought after disavowal (Barā’ah) from the monotheists (Muwahhīdīn) and the polytheists (Mushrīkīn). And due to this, it came with the negation from both sides (i.e. negating that either group worships what the other worships), by affirming this disavowal (Barā’ah). This, while it deals with the clear affirmation, as His statement:

I worship not that which you worship… [Al-Kāfirūn, 2] is a complete disavowal just as:

Nor will you worship that which I worship… [Al-Kāfirūn, 3] is an affirmation that he worships a deity, which they are free from, in worshiping Him. So this necessitates both a negation and an affirmation. And it complies with the saying of the Imām of those who are Hānīf [i.e. free from all Shirk (Ibrāhīm y̱rêga g지도스):

Verily, I am free from what you worship except Him who did create me… [Az-Zukhrafi, 26-27] And this complies with the statement of the group of monotheists (i.e. the people of the cave):

And when you withdraw from them, and that which they worship, except Allāh… [Al-Kahf, 16] So this actualized the reality of ‘Lā ilāha il-Allāh’ the Most High. And due to this, the Prophet used to combine this (Sūrah) along with the Sūrah, Quḥu Allāhu ‘Alayh (i.e. Al-Ikhāl) in the Sunnah before Fajr and the Sunnah after Maghrib, as these two *Sūrah*s are the two *Sūrah*s of devoted sincerity.” – until he said – “So he used to begin the day with them (i.e. these *Sūrah*s) in the Sunnah before Fajr, and complete with them, in the Sunnah after Maghrib.” [Badā‘i Al-Fawā‘id, Vol. 1/145-146]
A Point of Notice Which Must be Mentioned:

And some of those who assume, may assume that this Millah of Ibrāhīm could be implemented in our time (merely) by studying the Tawhīd and knowing its three categories and knowing its types by way of theoretical knowledge alone, while remaining silent concerning the people of falsehood and not declaring and openly demonstrating the disavowal from their falsehood.

So to the likes of these (people), we say: If the Millah of Ibrāhīm were like this, then his people would not have thrown him into the fire, because of it. Rather, if he would have cozied-up to them and remained silent about some of their falsehood while not making their gods (appear) foolish, and not openly declaring enmity towards them, while remaining content with the theoretical Tawhīd; studying it along with his followers – a studying, which would not have materialized into actions, by showing the allegiance (Walā’) and disavowal (Barā’) and love and hatred and enmity and abandonment (based upon that), for Allāh’s sake; if he had done all that, then perhaps they might have opened all the doors (i.e. opportunities) for him. Furthermore, they might have even built schools and colleges for him just as it is in our time, wherein this theoretical Tawhīd can be studied. And perhaps they would have put huge signboards upon them and named them “School or College of the Tawhīd”, or “The Faculty of Da’wah and Principles of the Religion”, and the likes of that, as all of this does not threaten them, nor does it even affect them as long as it does not encroach into their current state of affairs or their fortification. And even if these schools and faculties graduated thousands of theses and masters’ degrees and doctorates about sincerity and Tawhīd and Da’wah, they would not object to that. Rather, they would bless it and award those people with impressive diplomas and degrees and titles as long as it did not affect their falsehood and their circumstances and their current reality, just as long as it remains upon that distorted condition.

62 Trans. Note: Referring to what Allāh stated in Sūrat Al-Anbiyā’ when the polytheists (Mushrikīn) found their idols shattered and planned to throw Ibrāhīm into the fire, saying:

They said: “Burn him and help your āliha (gods), if you will be doing.” [Al-Anbiyā’, 68].

(The Religion of IBRĀHĪM)

• The Shaykh, ‘Abdul-Latif ibn ‘Abdur-Rahmān said, “It could not be comprehended that anyone would know the Tawḥīd and act upon it and (yet he) would not have enmity against the polytheists (Mushrikīn). And whoever does not have enmity towards them, then it is not (to be) said that he knows the Tawḥīd or acts upon it.”

And likewise, if the Messenger of Allāh Ṣallallāhu ʿAlayhi wa Sallam had remained silent at the outset of the issue, with respect to ridiculing the intelligence of Quraysh (appear) foolish and confronting their gods and shaming them, and if he – and far removed from that is he – had concealed the verses in which, what they worshipped was made (to appear) foolish, such as (the false gods) Al-Lāt and Al-ʿUzzah and the third one, Manāt, as well as the verses that confronted (the arch-enemies of the Prophet Ṣallallāhu ʿAlayhi wa Sallam), Abū Lahab and Al-Walīd and other then these two, as well as the verses of disavowal (Barāʾīh) from them and from their religion and that which they worshipped – and how many are there, such as Sūrat Al-Kāfīrūn, and others; if he had done that – and far removed from that is he – then they may have sat with him and honored him and drew near to him. And they would not have placed the placenta of a camel upon him, while he was prostrating, and he might not have been 63 Ad-Durar As-Saniyyah, Volume of jihād, page 167.

64 Trans. Note: As it was narrated by Al-Bukhārī and Muslim from Ibn Mas‘ūd, may Allāh be pleased with him, who said: “While the Messenger of Allāh Ṣallallāhu ʿAlayhi wa Sallam was praying in the House (i.e. the Kaʿbah), Abu Jahl and his companions were sitting there and a camel had been slaughtered the day before. So Abu Jahl said, ‘Which of you will go and retrieve the placenta of the camel belonging to the of the sons of so-and-so, and take it and then place them on the shoulders of Muhammad when he prostrates.’ So the worst of the people went out and took it so that when the Prophet Ṣallallāhu ʿAlayhi wa Sallam prostrated, he placed it upon his shoulders.” He said, “Then they began to laugh and each of them would lean on the other one. And I was standing there watching. And if I had any means of protection, then I would have removed it from the back of the Messenger of Allāh Ṣallallāhu ʿAlayhi wa Sallam. And the Prophet Ṣallallāhu ʿAlayhi wa Sallam was prostrating and he did not raise his head until a person went and informed Fāṭimah. So she came – while she was a young girl – then she threw it off of him. Then she turned to them and cursed them. Then when the Prophet Ṣallallāhu ʿAlayhi wa Sallam completed his prayer, he raised his reached by the harm that reached him, from those things that are well covered and discussed in what has been affirmed in the biographical accounts (Sirah). And he would not have been in need of the journey (Hijrah) and the exhaustion (related to that) and fatigue and toil. And (in this way) he and his companions would have remained in their homes in their homelands, feeling secure. But the matter of allegiance based upon the religion of Allāh and its people, along with enmity towards falsehood and its people, became obligatory upon the Muslims at the dawn of their Da’wah, even before the obligation of the prayer (Salāt) and the alms-giving (Zakāt) and the fasting (Sawm) and the pilgrimage (Hajj). And due to this and this alone, the torture and the harm and the hardships took place.

• The Shaykh, Hamad ibn ‘Atiq, said in his treatise, “So anyone with a sound mind, must contemplate, and anyone who is honest with himself must seek the reason for which Quraysh expelled the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ and his companions from Makkah, while it was from the most noble of precincts. Because verily, it is well known that they did not expel them (i.e. the Muslims) except after they clearly declared that which humiliated their religion and the misguidance of their forefathers. Therefore, they wished that he (i.e. the Prophet ﷺ) would cease doing so and they threatened him and his followers with expulsion. And when his companions would complain to him about the severity of harm from the polytheists (Mushrikīn) towards them, he would order patience upon them and to take those who came before them and were (also) harmed, to be examples. And he did not say to them, ‘Abandon the humiliation of the polytheists (Mushrikīn) and stop ridiculing their voice and supplicated against them. And when he supplicated, he would supplicate three times. And when he asked, he would ask three times. Then he said, ‘O Allāh, destroy Quraysh,’” three times. Then when they heard his voice, they ceased their laughter and they feared his supplication. Then he said, ‘O Allāh, destroy Abī Jahl ibn Hishām, and ‘Utbah ibn Rabī’ah, and Shāyba ibn Rabī’ah, and Al-Walid ibn ‘Uqbah and Umayyāh ibn Khalaf and ‘Uqba ibn Abī Mu’īt.” (The narrator said), “And he mentioned seven whom I did not remember.” (Ibn Mas’ūd said), “So by He Who sent Muhammad ﷺ with the truth, I saw those who were named killed on the Day of Badr. Then they were dragged to the well of Badr.” – And this was the phrasing of Muslim.
intelligence and making them (appear) foolish.’ Rather, he chose to leave with his companions and to separate themselves from their land, even though it was the most noble precinct on the face of the Earth: Indeed in the Messenger of Allah you have a good example to follow for him who hopes in (the Meeting with) Allah and the Last Day and remembers Allah much. [Al-Alzâb, 21] 65

And likewise, the Tawâghit in every time and place will never show pleasure with Islâm, nor will they cease their hostilities (towards it) nor establish conferences for it and spread it in books and magazines or build colleges and universities for it, unless it is a blinded, crippled form of religion, with both wings clipped and cut off, far removed from their current situation. And (they neither have) the allegiance of the believers and the disavowal (Barâ’ah) from the enemies of the religion and the showing of enmity towards them and that which they worship and their false methodologies.

And verily, we witness this clearly in the state called “As-Sa’udiyyah” (i.e. Saudi Arabia), because it deceives the people by its encouragement of Tawhîd and the books of Tawhîd and with its permitting — rather, its encouraging the scholars in waging war against the (worship of) graves and Sufism and the Shîrk of amulets and the (spells of) infatuation (i.e. from sorcery) and the trees and stones and other than that, from what it does not fear and is not threatened by. Nor does it have any affect upon its foreign or domestic policies.

And as long as this marginalized, incomplete Tawhîd, stays far removed from the Sultâns and their disbelieving thrones, then they will continue to fund and assist and encourage this (i.e. schools and books etc.). If this weren’t the case, then where are the writings of Juhaymân 66 and the likes of him, may

66 Trans. Note: The matter of Juhaymân Al-‘Utaybi, may Allah be merciful to him, and the eventual siege of his followers in the Sacred Mosque in Makkah in 1979, have more-or-less overshadowed his writings. There is no sufficient space available here to go through these events, but perhaps the reader can refer to the book “Zilzâl Juhaymân Fî Makkah”, by Fahd Al-Qahtâni [publication of Munathâmat Ath-Thaqorah Al-Islâmiyyah Fil-Jazîrat Al-‘Arabiyah, London, 1982 CE.] As for his writings, then as the author, the Shaykh, Abu Muhammad Al-
Allāh, the Most High, be merciful to him, which were full of and enriched with Tawḥīd? Why doesn’t the government fund these and encourage them (to be read), despite the fact that he did not even declare the disbelief (Takfīr) of them, in those writings? Or could it be that it is a Tawḥīd, which opposes the compromise with the Tughāt 67 and their desires and that he spoke about politics and discussed Allegiance and Disavowal (Al-Walā’ Wal-Barā‘) and the Oath of Allegiance (Bay’ah) and Leadership (Imārah)? 68

The Shaykh, the ‘Allāmah, Hamad ibn ‘Atiq, may Allāh be merciful to him, said in his book, Sabīl An-Ñajātī Wal-Fikīk Min Muwalāt Al-Murtadīn Wa Ahl Al-Islārāk, “Many people may assume that as long one is able to utter the two testimonies of faith (Shahādatayn) and pray the five prayers while not being turned away from the Mosque, that he has openly declared his religion, even if with that he is amongst the polytheists (Mushrīkīn) or in the lands of the apostates (Murtadān), but they are mistaken in that, with the vilest of errors. And know that the disbelief (Kufr) has types and categories according to the Maqdisī, may Allāh preserve him, points out, they have almost been eradicated from the face of the Earth, despite their being quite eloquent in terms of their call to Tawḥīd and the Allegiance and the Disavowal (Al-Walā’Wal-Barā’) etc. For example, look to his treatise entitled Raf’ Al-Ilībah ‘An Millātī Man Ja’alahu Allāhu Imāman Lin-Nās (“Raising the Misconceptions Away from the Millah of Ibrāhīm and some of the misconceptions concerning it, as well as the encouragement to remain steadfast upon the harms when calling for the Tawḥīd.

67 Trans. Note: “Tughāt” (plural of Tāghūt) is based on the word “Tūghūn”, which means transgression. Shaykh Al-Islām, Ibn Taymiyyah said, “The meaning of Tāghūt comes from the one who performs Tūghūn and this means going outside the established borders (i.e. exciding his limits) and it is Thulm (wrongdoing) and rebellion. So the one who is worshiped instead of Allāh and he doesn’t hate it, then he is a Tāghūt. And for this reason the Prophet called the idols Tawāghūt in the authentic Ḥadīth in which he said, ‘Tawāghūt will follow the people who worship the Tawāghūt.’ The person who is obeyed in disobedience of Allāh or the person who is obeyed in following other than the guidance of the religion of truth; in either case, if what he orders mankind is in opposition to Allāh’s orders, then he is a Tāghūt. For this reason, we call the people who rule by other than what Allāh revealed a Tāghūt. And Pharaoh and the people of ‘Ād, were Tughāt. [Majmū’ Al-Fatāwā, Vol. 28/200.]

68 And review his words in Mukhāsar Risālat Al-Amr Bil-Ma’rif Wan-Nahī ‘An Al-Munkar, from page 108-110 from within the seven letters, as I have found him enlightening in this regard, may Allāh, the Most High, be merciful to him.
various causes of disbelief (Mukaffārāt). And every assembly (Tā’ifah) from the assemblies of disbelief (Kufr) is famous for (at least) one type of it. And the Muslim has not openly declared his religion until he opposes every assembly (Tā’ifah) in whatever (disbelief) it is famous for, while clearly declaring his enmity towards it and his disavowal (Barā’ah) from it.”

And he also said, “And openly declaring the religion is the declaration of their disbelief (Takfīr) and the degradation of their religion while insulting it along with the disavowal (Barā’ah) from them and the preservation of oneself from loving them or from seeking refuge with them, and instead, to abandon them. And performing the prayers; on their own, is not an open declaration of one’s religion.” 69

And the Shaykh, Sulaymān ibn Sahmān, said (in poetry)70:

Openly declaring this religion is clearly (labeling) them
With disbelief (Kufr) as they are a body of the disbelievers

With enmity to be shown along with apparent hatred.
O you of the intellects, have you no sense of rationality?

This, and the heart is not sufficient to have hatred

And the love from it, is not the criterion.
But the criterion is that you bring it Out loud while clarifying it to them and while in the open.

And the Shaykh, Ishāq ibn ’Abdur-Rahmān said, “And the claim of he who’s perception has been blinded by Allāh, such that he claims that the open showing of one’s religion comes by their not preventing him from worshipping or studying, is a false claim. So his claim is rejected by the intellect and by the (Islamic) legislation (Sharā’) and whoever is in the countries of the Christians and the Zoroastrians (Majūs) or in India, should feel contempt for that false ruling because the prayer (As-Salāt) and the call for it (Athān) and the studying (of Islām) is also present in their countries.” 71

And may Allāh be merciful to the one who said:

And they assume that the religion is “Labbayk” (i.e. “Here I am”) in the desert
And the performing of the prayer while remaining silent upon the congregation
And making peace and mixing with those who seclude themselves from religion.
But the religion is not except for the love and hatred and the allegiance.

And likewise disavowal from every tempter and sinful.

- And Abūl-Wafā’ ibn ‘Uqayl, may Allāh, the Most High, be merciful to him, said, “If you wish to know the status of Islām amongst the people of a particular time, then do not look to the crowding at the doors of the Mosques, nor to their echo with, “Labbayk”. 72 Rather, look to their enmity towards the enemies of the Shari‘ah. So seek refuge, (again) seek refuge in the shield of the religion and the remaining steadfast to the great rope of Allāh and the allegiance to His believing supporters and beware, (again) beware His opposing enemies, as the best thing by which to draw nearer to Allāh, the Most High, is the severe fury towards those who oppose Allāh and His Messenger and waging Jihād against them by the hand and the tongue and the heart, according to one’s ability.” 73

Second Point of Notice:

And from what is opposite to the disavowal from the Shirk and its people, there is also the allegiance to the religion of Allāh and to His supporters and their assistance and their strengthening and sincere conduct towards them and showing it and making it apparent so that the hearts will unite and the ranks will join. And no matter how stern we are towards our monotheist (Muwahhid) brothers, who have strayed from the correct path, and no matter how sternly we may be in advising them, and the refutation of their paths, which oppose the path of the Prophets, the Muslim with another Muslim, is just as Shaykh Al-Islām (Ibn Taymiyyah) said: Like the two hands, one washes the other, and it is possible that the removal of dirt would, at times, requires scrubbing. But its objective is to be praised, because the intent is the preservation of the wellbeing of both hands and their cleanliness. And we do not seek, at any instance during these occasions, to allow the complete disavowal (Barā’ah) of them, because the Muslim’s right of his brother is the right of allegiance, which is not cut off (completely) except due to apostasy and the leaving of the realm of Islām. And Allāh, glorified is He, made this a great right as He said:

If you do not do so (i.e. become allies), there will be Fitnah and oppression on earth, and a great mischief and corruption. 74

And the astray Muslim is only disavowed (Barā’ah) from his falsehood or his innovation or his astrayness, while the basis of the allegiance remains. Have you not seen that the rulings of fighting the rebels (Bughāt) and the likes of them differs, for example, from the rulings of fighting the apostates? 75 And we do not cool the eyes of the Tughāt (i.e. please them) and make them happy 74 Al-Anfīl, 73.

75 Trans. Note: As it is known that the ruling on the apostates is that they have lost all their Islāmic rights and they are to be killed and they receive none of the treatment of the people of Islām. Unlike the rebellious Muslims; the Bughāt who are still afforded a level of leniency and ease, even while they are fought, because they are still considered Muslims and as such, they are given their rights. Below the chapter, “Chapter of Fighting the Bughāt”, Ibn Qudāmah Al-Maqdisi, may Allāh be merciful to him said, “And the one from them who retreats is not to be pursued and the one from them who is wounded is not finished off and their wealth is not taken as war booty (Ghanīmah) and their offspring are not taken captive as slaves. And whoever from them is killed, then he is to be washed and shrouded and prayed upon.” [Al-'Uddah Sharh Al-'Umdah, page 642; publication of Dār Al-Kitāb Al-'Arabi, 6th edition, 1421 H.] with the opposite of that ever (i.e. we will never be completely disavowed from a Muslim), as many of those who are attributed to İslâm have done, from those who have lost the criterion of Allegiance and Disavowal (Al-Walâ’ Wal-Barâ’) in these times. So they went to extremes in their disavowal (Barâ’) and their warning against those who opposed them from the monotheists (Muwahhidin). Furthermore, (they have even warned people away) from much of the truth that is with those people. And perhaps even within the pages of the stench-filled newspapers, which take İslâm and the Muslims as enemies – let alone deceiving the foolish people and the rulers – about them and their Da’wah, to the point where many of those callers (Du’ât) have participated, along with the rulers, in eliminating them and their Da’wah, by attributing false accusations to them or patching (i.e. protecting) the verdicts (Fatâwa) of the Tawâghît, in order to put an end to them. For instance, “Let’s say about them ‘Bughât’ or ‘Khâwûrij’, or “They are more dangerous to İslâm than the Jews or Christians,” and other than that. And I know many who become pleased when those from the Muslims who oppose them, fall into the hands of the Tughât, and they say (sarcastically) “Isn’t that terrible?” or even “It is good what they are doing to them,” or other than that, from the words that may send one of them to the Hellfire for seventy years, without him even knowing why and he wouldn’t have even given if a (single) thought.

And know that from the most specific characteristics, and from the most important of significant issues of the Millah of Ibràhîm, from what we see the most of the callers (Du’ât), in our time, falling short in, with great shortcomings – rather, most of them have abandoned and let them die out, are:

➢ Showing the disavowal (Barâ’âh) from the polytheists (Mushrikîn) and their false deities.

76 Trans. Note: Referring to the Hadîth narrated by At-Tirmithî and Ibn Mâjah and others with alternate phrasing, from Abî Hurayrah, that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said, “Verily, a man may utter a word, which he does not find objectionable, yet due to that, he will fall for seventy years in the Fire.” At-Tirmithî said, “This Hadîth is ‘Hasan Gharîb’ via this route.” Shaykh Al-Albâni, may Allâh be merciful to him, classified it Sahîh in Sahîh Ibn Mâjah, #3,206 and Sahîh Al-Jâmi’, #1,618 and “Hasan Sahîh” in Sahîh At-Tirmithî, #1,884 and Sahîh At-Tarqîb, #2,875 & #2,876.
Openly declaring disbelief in them and their gods and their methodologies and their laws and their legislations of Shirk.

Openly demonstrating the enmity and hatred towards them and their ranks and conditions of disbelief (Kufr), until they return to Allāh and leave all of that while having disavowal (Barā'ah) from it, and disbelieving in it.

He, the Most High, said:

Indeed there has been an excellent example for you in Ibrāhīm and those with him, when they said to their people: “Verily, we are free from you and whatever you worship besides Allāh, we have rejected you, and there has become apparent between us and you, enmity and hatred forever, until you believe in Allāh Alone.”

The ‘Allāmah, Ibn Al-Qayyim said, “When Allāh, he Most High, forbade the believers from having allegiance with the disbelievers (Kuffār), this necessitated their taking them as enemies with disavowal (Barā’ah) from them, while openly declaring enmity towards them in every situation.”

And the Shaykh, Hamad ibn ‘Atiq, may Allāh, the Most High, be merciful to him, said, “So His saying: ‘...and there has become apparent...’ In other words, it has become clear and apparent. And consider the preceding of ‘...enmity...’ with ‘...hatred...’ because the first is more important than the second. This is because; the person may hate the polytheists (Mushrikīn), while not taking them as enemies. So (if this were the case, then) he would not have come with the obligation that was upon him, until he attains both the enmity and the hatred. And it is a must, as well, that the enmity and hatred are both open and apparent and clear. And know that even if the hatred is tied to the heart, then it does not benefit him until its effects are shown and its signs become clear. And that would never be until it is accompanied with the enmity and the abandonment (of them). Then at that point, the enmity and hatred will become apparent.” 79

- And the Shaykh, Ishāq ibn ʿAbdur-Raḥmān said, “And hating them with the heart is not sufficient but it is a must to form both the enmity and the hatred…” – and then he mentioned the aforementioned verse from Al-Mumtāzinah and said – “So look at this clarification, as there is no (better) clarification beyond it, as He said: ‘...and there has become apparent between us and you...’ In other words, it has become clear that this is making the religion to be outwardly apparent, so it is a must to show the enmity clearly and to declare their disbelief (Ṭakfir) openly along with the physical separation (from them). And the meaning of the enmity is that you are in a shore and the he who opposes (Islām) is in another shore, just like the origin of the disavowal (Barā’ah) is the cutting off (from them) with the heart and then the tongue and then the body. And the heart of the believer can never be totally depleted from enmity towards the disbeliever (Kāfir); however, the struggle may come in openly showing this enmity.” 80

- And the Shaykh, the ‘Allāmah, ʿAbdur-Raḥmān ibn Hasan, ibn Ash-Shaykh, Muḥammad ibn ʿAbdul-Wahhāb, the author of the book Fath Al-Majīd, said, concerning the aforementioned verse from Al-Mumtāzinah, “So whoever contemplates these verses, then he will know the Tawḥīd, which Allāh sent His Messengers with and revealed His books with. And He will know the reality of those who oppose what the Messengers (came with) and their followers, from those who are ignorant and deceived and lost. Our Shaykh, the Inām, may Allāh be merciful to him…” – referring to his grandfather, Muḥammad ibn ʿAbdul-Wahhāb – “…said, in the course of the Daʿwah of the Prophet ﷺ to Quraysh upon Tawḥīd, and what took place from them, when he mentioned that their gods neither brought benefit, nor do they bring any harm, that they took that as swearing (at them), 'Then if you know this, then you will know that a person will never have correct Islām, even if he makes Allāh one and leaves the Shirk, except with the enmity towards the polytheists (Mushrikīn) \(^{81}\) and the clear demonstration of enmity towards them, with hatred. As He, the Most High, said: You will not find any people who believe in Allāh and the Last Day, making friendship with those who oppose Allāh and His Messenger. [Al-Mujādilah, 22] – The verse. Then, if you grasp this with a firm understanding, you will know that many of those who claim the religion do not (truly) know it. Otherwise, what held the Muslims to be patient upon that torture and imprisonment and journeying (Hijrah) to Abyssinia (Al-Habashah), despite the fact that he [i.e. the Prophet ﷺ] was the most merciful of the people, and if he had found for them any (possible) concession [Rukhā (i.e. a reduction in the strictness of this obligation)] then he would have surely granted it to them. And Allāh has revealed upon him: Of mankind are some who say: “We believe in Allāh,” but if they are made to suffer for the sake of Allāh, they consider the trial of mankind as Allāh's punishment. [Al-’Ankabūt, 10] So if this verse concerns those who complied with their tongues, then what about those who do so with even more than that?” He meant, those who comply with the saying along with the action, without any harm, such that he allies himself with them and assists them and defends them and those who complied with them and objects to those who oppose them, as is our current reality.” \(^{82}\)

So I say to them (i.e. Muḥammad ibn ʿAbdul-Wahhāb and his grandson, ʿAbdur-Rahmān ibn Hasan, may Allāh be merciful with them): “It is as if you are speaking about our time.”

- And the Shaykh, Muḥammad ibn ʿAbdul-Latīf said, “Know, may Allāh allow ourselves and you to attain that which He loves and is pleased with, that Islām is not correct with the slave, nor is the religion, except when it includes the enmity towards the enemies of Allāh and His Messenger and the allegiance of the supporters of Allāh and His Messenger. He, the Most High, said: O you who believe! Take not for Awliyā' (supporters and helpers) your fathers and your brothers if they prefer disbelief to Belief. [At-Tawbah, 23].”

And this is the religion of all the Messengers and this was their Da’wah and their path as it has been indicated by the overall verses of the Qur’ān and the narrations from the Prophet . And likewise is His, the Most High’s, statement of this verse from Al-Mumtaḥinah:

...and those with him...

In other words, the Messengers who were upon his religion and his Millah. More than one of the interpreters (Mufassirīn) has stated this.

- And the Shaykh, Muhammad in ‘Abdul-Latif ibn ‘Abdur-Rahmân said, “And this is openly showing the religion, unlike the ignorant ones assume (it to be) when the disbelievers (Kuffār) distance (themselves) and leave him to perform prayer and recite the Qur’ān and to occupy himself with 83 If what is meant is the basis (Asl) of enmity then these words are to be taken absolutely. But if what is meant is the general enmity; its showing and its precise details and the making it known, then these words are (to be taken to) refer to the (level of) correctness of the Islām and not the removal of its entire foundation. And the Shaykh, ‘Abdul-Latif, has in his book Miskāb Ath-Thalām, an explanation about this issue, so whoever wishes to, should review it. And therein is his statement, “So the one who understands, from the words of the Shaykh, a declaration of disbelief (Takfīr) of whoever does not openly show his enmity, then his understanding is false and his opinion is astray…” And the explanation of these words will be presented within these pages, and we have only narrated their statements within this chapter in order to clarify the importance of this basis (Asl); the fundamental concepts of which have been snatched away from most of the callers (Du‘āt) in this time. Then we added these clarifications - despite the words themselves being clear (in-and-of-themselves) – to close the path upon those who attempt to hunt in murky water, by means of searching for general (statements) and things, which might assist them in accusing us of holding the beliefs (‘Aqidah) of the Khawārij.

what he wishes from the extra deeds (Nawāfi) and that this (somehow) would be him openly showing his religion. This is a grave error, because whoever openly declared his enmity towards the polytheists (Mushrikīn) and the disavowal from them, they would never leave him amongst them (lit. between their backs). Rather, they would either kill him or they would expel him if they found a way to do so. As Allāh, the Most High, mentioned, concerning the disbelievers (Kuffār): And those who disbelieved, said to their Messengers: “Surely, we shall drive you out of our land, or you shall return to our religion.” [Ibrāhīm, 13] – the verse.

And He informed us about the people of Shu‘ayb by saying: “We shall certainly drive you out, O Shu‘ayb, and those who have believed with you from our town, or else you (all) shall return to our religion.” [Al-A‘rāf, 88] – the verse. And He mentioned about the people of the cave, that they said: “For if they come to know of you, they will stone you or turn you back to their religion, and in that case you will never be successful.” [Al-Kahf, 20] And did the enmity between the Messengers and their people ever become severe except after openly declaring and cursing their religion and the speaking in such a way as to ridicule their intelligence while insulting their gods?” 85

• And the Shaykh, Sulaymān ibn Sahmān also said, concerning the verse in Al-Mumtaṣārinah, “So this is the Millah of Ibrāhīm about which, Allāh said: And who turns away from the religion of Ibrāhīm except him who befools himself? [Al-Baqara, 130] Therefore, it is upon the Muslim to take the enemies of Allāh as enemies and to openly show enmity towards them and to distance himself from them by vast distances. And he must never form allegiances with them or interact with them or intermingle with them.” 86

And Allāh, the Most High, informed us concerning Ibrāhīm, elsewhere by saying:

85 Ad-Durar As-Saniyyah, Volume of jihād, page 207.
86 Ad-Durar As-Saniyyah, Volume of jihād, page 221.
He said: “Do you observe that which you have been worshipping, you and your ancient fathers? Verily, they are enemies to me, save the Lord of the ‘Alāmīn.”

And in a third instance, He, glory be to Him, said:

And (remember) when Ibrāhīm said to his father and his people: “Verily, I am free from of what you worship, except Him, Who did create me, and verily, He will guide me.”

- And the Shaykh, the ‘Allāmah, ‘Abdur-Rahman ibn Ḥasan ibn Ash-Shaykh, Muhammad ibn ‘Abdul-Wahhāb, said, “And Allāh, the Most High, has obligated the disavowal (Barā’ah) from the Shirk and the polytheists (Mushrikīn) and the disbelief in them and in taking them as enemies while hating them and waging Jihād against them: But those who did wrong changed the word from that which had been told to them for another. [Al-Baqarah, 59] So they allied themselves with them and assisted and aided them and asked for their support against the believers and hated them and cursed at them, based upon that. And all of these matters nullify the Islām such as what the Book and the Sunnah have indicated in (various) places.”

- And here is a doubt, which many of the hasty have put forth: And it is their claim that the Millah of Ibrāhīm is only one of the last stages from the (progressive) stages of the Da’wah, which must be preceded by the conveyance, with wisdom and arguments of the best (form). And (they say) that the caller (Dā’i) must not seek refuge in this Millah of Ibrāhīm, from the disavowal (Barā’ah) from the enemies of Allāh and their deities and the disbelief in them and openly showing this enmity and hatred towards them, except after (firstly) extending all of the forms of leniency

(to them) with wisdom. So we say, and with Allâh is the success: This misunderstanding only arose due to not fully understanding the Millah of Ibrâhîm, by those people (i.e. those who say this) and due to their mixing between the (original) Da’wah to the disbelievers (Kuffâr) to begin with, and its course with the stubborn (people) from them. And also, (their confusion regarding) the difference between all of that and between the stance of the Muslim towards their false deities and methodologies and legislations of the disbelievers (Kuffâr), themselves. So the Millah of Ibrâhîm; from the point of it being sincerity in the worship of Allâh, alone, and disbelief in every deity besides Him; it can never be correct for it to be delayed or postponed. Rather, nothing must ever come, except that it (i.e. the Da’wah) begins with this. That is because this (negation of their deities etc.), in and of itself, is exactly what the phrase, “Lâ ilâha ilAllâh”, encompasses from the negation and affirmation. And that is the very basis of the religion and the “pole of the hand mill” (i.e. objective) in the Da’wah of the Prophets and Messengers. And just so that every misunderstanding will be removed from you, here are two matters:

- The First: And it is the disavowal (Barâ’ah) from the Tawâghît and the gods, which are worshipped other than Allâh, the Powerful, the Majestic, along with the disbelief in them. So these are never to be delayed or postponed. Rather, these should be openly shown and declared from the outset of the path.

- The Second: The disavowal (Barâ’ah) from the people of the polytheists (Mushrîkîn) themselves if they continue upon their falsehood. And here, for you, is an explanation and a clarification:

The First Matter: And that is the disbelief in the Tawâghît, which are worshipped besides Allâh, the Powerful, the Mighty, whether these Tawâghît are idols made from stone, or the sun, or the moon or a grave or a tree or legislations and laws from the invention of man. So the Millah of Ibrâhîm and the Da’wah of the Prophets and Messengers necessitates openly showing the disbelief in all of these deities and openly showing enmity and hatred towards them and making their status (appear) foolish, along with the lowering their value and making their shameful things along with their status to be apparent along with their defects and their shortcomings, from the outset of the path. The condition of the Prophets was this way when they began the Da’wah to their people by their declaring:

“Worship Allāh (Alone), and avoid (or keep away from) Tāghūt.” 89

And based upon this, is Allāh, the Most High’s, statement about the Hanīf, Ibrāhīm, yirahūa:

He said: “Do you observe that which you have been worshipping, you and your ancient fathers? Verily, they are enemies to me, save the Lord of the ’Alamīn.” 90

And His statement in Al-An’ām:

When he saw the sun rising up, he said: “This is my lord. This is greater.” But when it set, he said: “O my people! I am indeed free from all that you join as partners.” 91

And His statement:

And (remember) when Ibrāhīm said to his father and his people: “Verily, I am free from what you worship, except Him Who did create me, and verily, He will guide me.” 92

And like this, is His statement, glory be to Him, about the people of Ibrāhīm:

89 An-Nahl, 36.
90 Ash-Shu’ārah, 75-77.
91 Al-An’ām, 78.
92 Az-Zukhrūf, 26-27.
They said: “We heard a young man talking (against) them (i.e. our idols) who is called Ibrāhīm.” ⁹³

The interpreters (Al-Mufassirūn) have said, “…talking (against) them…” – in other words, he was insulting them and making fun of them and lowering their status. ⁹⁴ And the Book and the Sunnah are full of evidence for that. And the guidance of the Prophet ﷺ in Makkah, is sufficient for us in the way he would make the gods of Quraysh (appear) foolish while openly showing the disavowal (Barā‘ah) from them and the disbelief in them, to the point that they nicknamed him: “The Denouncer”.

And if you want to confirm that and to be certain of it, then refer to and contemplate the Makkah-period Qur'ān, which would not be revealed to the Prophet ﷺ except a few verses, until with it came the striking of the hearts of the East and the West and the North and the South. And the tongues of the people would pass them (i.e. these verses) along in the markets and the gatherings and the public forums. And these verses would address the Arabs, in the comprehensible Arabic language, with total clarity, which would make their gods (appear) foolish; their chiefs being Al-Lāt and Al-'Uzzah and the third one, Manāt, which were the greatest of the people’s gods at that time. And they would openly declare the disavowal from them and the implausibility of their compromise or their even being satisfied with them. And the Prophet ﷺ would never conceal any of that. Verily, he was but a warner.

So those who put themselves forth for the Da‘wah, in this time, are in need of contemplating this matter well and measuring themselves with it often, because the Da‘wah that strives to give victory to the religion of Allāh, but then throws its most fundamental basis behind his back; then it is not possible that it is upon the methodology of the Prophets and the Messengers. And here we are, living at this time, when the Shirk of taking the judgments to the constitutions and the fabricated laws, has become widespread amongst us (lit. between our backs). So these calls are a necessity and therefore it is a must to follow its Prophet in the adherence to Millat Ibrāhīm by making the value of these constitutions and those laws (appear) foolish, while mentioning their negative (attributes) to the people, while openly declaring disbelief in them and openly showing and declaring enmity towards them, and calling the people to that, with the clarification of the government’s mockery of the general people, while they deceive them. Otherwise, when will the truth become apparent and how will the people know their religion, with true knowledge, and differentiate the truth from the falsehood as well as the enemy from the ally? And perhaps the vast majority would use as an excuse, the benefit (Maslahah) of the Da’wah and the (resulting) trials (Fitnah). But which trial (Fitnah) is greater than the concealment of the Tawhīd and the deception of the people regarding their religion? And which benefit (Maslahah) is greater than establishing the Millah of Ibrāhīm, while openly showing the allegiance to the religion of Allāh as well as the enmity to the Tawāghīt, who are worshipped, and devoted to besides Allāh? And if the Muslims are not tested because of this, and if the (sacrificial) slaughtering is not put forth in His path, then for what would the tests be? So disbelieving in all of the Tawāghīt is obligatory upon every Muslim by (the virtue of) half of the testimony (Shahādah) of Islām. And openly declaring that, while showing it and making it apparent, is also a great obligation, and it is a must, which all Muslim groups, or sub-groups from each group, must do so that it would become known and the (awareness) would spread. And also, so that it would become the distinguishing characteristic and description of these (various) Da’wahs. Such was the condition of the Prophet ﷺ; not only in the time wherein he became established, but also in the times of weakness as well, because it is well known that he used to be pointed to, by all the fingers, and (people) would warn others about him and describe him as having enmity towards their gods, and other things as well. And we find it odd; what is this Da’wah, about which the callers weep for its benefit (Maslahah)? And which religion is it that they wish to establish and make apparent, while most of them consistently speak with the praising of the fabricated law (system) – and O what an evil – and some of them (even) praise it and bear witness to its fairness? And many of them (even) undertake an oath of honoring it and complying with its stipulations and its restrictions; reversing the (entire) issue (i.e. Da’wah to Tawhīd) and its very course. So instead of openly showing and declaring the enmity towards it (i.e. the law system), and disbelief in it, they openly show the allegiance to it and their pleasure with it. So is it the likes of those who would spread the Tawhīd and establish the religion?! And to Allāh is the grievance.

And openly demonstrating this issue and openly showing it, does not have any tie with the declaration of disbelief (Takfīr) of the ruler or his persistence upon the ruling with other than the Shari’ah of the Most Merciful, because it is tied-in with the constitution or the legislation or the law, which is established, honored, implemented, exalted and ruled amongst the people. 95

The Second Matter: And it is the disavowal (Barā’ah) from the polytheists (Mushrīkīn) and the disbelief in them and openly showing enmity and hatred towards them, personally.

- The ‘Allāmah, Ibn Al-Qayyim, may Allāh be merciful to him, said, “And no one who associated this major Shirk (Ash-Shirk Al-Akbar) is saved, except he who makes his Tawhīd exclusively for Allāh’s (sake) and takes the polytheists (Mushrīkīn) as enemies for Allāh’s (sake) and draws nearer (to Allāh) by his hatred towards them for Allāh’s (sake).” 96 And it is attributed to Shaykh Al-Islām (Ibn Taymiyyah). And this issue – in other words, the disavowal (Barā’ah) from the polytheists (Mushrīkīn) – is even more critical than the former – I am referring to the disavowal (Barā’ah) from the deities.

95 Trans. Note: The point of the Shaykh here is that this first level of disavowal (Barā’ah) only relates to showing the enmity towards the false deities and not to the people who worship them. Therefore, the declaration of disbelief (Takfīr) does not enter within this level of disavowal because that concerns the disavowal (Barā’ah) of the individual, which is an extension from the disavowal of what is worshipped.

96 Ighāthat Al-Lahfān.
The Shaykh, Hamad ibn ‘Atiq, may Allāh, the Most High, be merciful to him, said, at His, the Most High’s saying: “Verily, we are free from you and whatever you worship besides Allāh.” [Al-Mumtażīnah, 4] “And here is an excellent point, which is that Allāh, the Most High, preceded the disavowal (Barā’ah) from the polytheists (Mushrikīn), who worship other than Allāh, ahead of the disavowal (Barā’ah) from the idols, which are worshipped besides Allāh, because the first is more important than the second. This is because if he has disavowal (Barā’ah) from the idols but does not have disavowal (Barā’ah) from those who worship them, then he would not have come with what was obligatory upon him. However, if he has disavowal (Barā’ah) from the polytheists (Mushrikīn) then this necessitates that he has disavowal from their deities (as well). And likewise, is His statement: “And I shall turn away from you and from those whom you invoke besides Allāh.” [Mariyam, 48] – The verse. So He preceded turning away from them ahead of turning away from what they worship besides Allāh. And likewise, is His statement: So when he had turned away from them and from those whom they worshipped besides Allāh… [Mariyam, 49] And His statement: “And when you withdraw from them and that which they worship, besides Allāh…” [Al-Kahf, 16] So this point is upon you, as it opens a door for you to have enmity towards the enemies of Allāh. So how many people have not fallen into Shirk, yet they do not have enmity towards its people? So he could not be a Muslim with that, as he has left religion of all the Messengers.”

And the Shaykh, ’Abdul-Latif ibn ‘Abdur-Raḥmān said within one of his treatises, “And the person may be saved from the Shirk and loves the Tawḥīd, but he would still have a defect from the point of not having disavowal (Barā’ah) from the people of Shirk and leaving the allegiance of the people of Tawḥīd and supporting them. So he would be a follower of 97 [From] Sabīl An-Najāt Wal-Fikāk. The intent of the Shaykh (i.e. Hamad ibn ‘Atiq) here – and Allāh is the most knowledgeable – is that this person neither has enmity towards them, nor does he (even) hate them generally or specifically in his heart, rather he offers to trade that for inclination and love. So this one; there is no doubt that his faith (Imān) has been nullified and that he has left the religion of all the Messengers. He, the Most High, said: You will not find any people who believe in Allāh and the Last Day, making friendship with those who oppose Allāh and His Messenger… [Al-Mujādilah, 22].

his desires and (he would) have entered into a branch of \textit{Shirk}, which destroys his religion and that which he has built. And (he would be) an abanderer of the principals and branches of \textit{Tawhīd}, without which, the faith (\textit{Īmān}) that He is pleased with, is incorrect. So he would neither love, nor would he hate, for (the sake of) Allāh. And he would neither have enmity, nor would he have allegiance (based) upon the greatness of the One who originated him and developed him. And all of this is taken from the testimony (\textit{Shahādah}) of ‘Lā ilāha i’llAllāh,’\textsuperscript{98}.

- And he also said in another of his treatises, from the same book, \textsuperscript{99} “And the best thing to draw one nearer to Allāh is the aggression towards His enemies, the polytheists (\textit{Mushrikīn}), while hating them and having enmity towards them and waging \textit{Jihād} against them. And with this, the slave is saved from having allegiance with them as opposed to the believers. And if he does not do so, then he has formed his allegiance with them, based upon what he failed to fulfill from that and abandoned from that. So beware, (again) beware, that which destroys Islām and uproots it.”

- And Sulaymān ibn Saḥmān said (in poetry form):

\begin{quote}
So whoever does not take the Allies (himself with them) and Mushrikīn as enemies and neither hates them nor avoids (them) Then he is not upon the And he is not upon the straight methodology (\textit{Minhāj}) of the course. Sunnah of Ahmad \end{quote}

- And the saying of the \textit{Shaykh}, Muḥammad ibn ‘Abdul-Wahhāb, may Allāh be merciful with him, “It is a must for the Muslim to openly declare that he is from this believing assembly (\textit{Tā’īfah}) so that he will strengthen it and so that it will be fortified by him and in order to frighten the \textit{Tawāghīt}; those who do not attain the apex of enmity (towards the believer) until it is clearly declared to them that he is from this assembly (Tā‘ifah), which wages war against them.” ¹⁰⁰

- And both the Shaykh, Husayn and the Shaykh, 'Abdullāh, the two sons of the Shaykh, Muḥammad ibn 'Abdul-Wahhāb, were asked about a man who enters this religion and loves it and loves its people but does not take the polytheists (Mushrīkin) as enemies or he takes them as enemies but does not declare their disbelief (Tākfirm). So from that which they answered with, was, “Whoever says, ‘I do not take the polytheists (Mushrīkin) as my enemies,’ or he takes them as enemies but does not declare their disbelief (Tākfirm), then he is not a Muslim and he is from those, about whom Allāh said: ...saying, “We believe in some but reject others,” and wish to adopt a way in between. They are in truth disbelievers. And We have prepared for the disbelievers a humiliating torment. [An-Nisā’, 150-151] ¹⁰¹

- Sulaymān ibn Sahmān said (in poetry form):

So take those who take the religion of Muḥammad as their enemy, as your enemies. And ally yourself with those who ally themselves with it, from every guided person.

And love whoever is a believer, because of Allāh’s love. And hate the people of disobedience because of Allāh’s hate.

And the religion (does not exist) except for the love and the hate and allegiance

And likewise, the disavowal from every tempter and transgressor.

And he also said (again, in poetry form):

¹⁰⁰ From Majmū’at At-Tawhīd.
¹⁰¹ From Ad-Durar As-Saniyyah, (regarding the explanation of why this person is not a Muslim) look to the earlier footnote (wherein this matter was clarified).
Indeed, if you were truthful to Allah in what you claimed
Then you would have taken those who – beware – disbelieve in Allah, as enemies.

And you would have had allegiance to the people of truth, both secretly and openly
And you would neither have criticized them, nor given victory to Kufr.

So not everyone who says what you have said is a Muslim Except with the conditions that were mentioned, then

The abandonment of the disbelievers (Kuffār) in any region
With that, the authentic approving texts have been presented to us.

And their open declaration of disbelief (Takfīr) and making their opinions (appear) foolish
While making them astray in what which they perform and demonstrate While openly showing the Tawhīd amongst them (lit. between their backs).

While you are calling them to that both openly and secretly;

So this is the pure monotheistic (Hanīf) religion and the guidance
And the Millah of Ibrāhīm, if you can perceive it.

And naturally, we do not say that openly showing this disavowal (Bara‘ah) and enmity is all-inclusive, even to those with inclined hearts (to Islām), or to those who show that they are accepting of certain matters while they do not show any enmity towards the religion of Allah, even though the obligation is (for this hatred) to be present in the heart against every polytheist (Mushrik), until he purifies himself from his Shirk. But the present discussion is concerning the open demonstration and the open declaration and the announcing and the presentation. So these ones, and even the arrogant ones, and the oppressors (Thālimin), are all called to the obedience of Allāh with wisdom and kind admonition in the beginning. Then if they respond (positively) then they are our brothers. We love them according to their level of obedience (to Allāh) and for them is what is for us (i.e. rights and responsibilities) and upon them is what is upon us (i.e. the obligations and rewards). But if they refuse, despite the clarity of the persuasive argument (Al-Hujjah), and become arrogant and continue in that which they are upon from the falsehood and the Shirk, and they stand among the ranks, which regard the religion of Allāh in enmity, then there is no making things pleasant with them nor is there any cozing-up to them. Rather, it is obligatory to openly show and demonstrate the disavowal (Barā‘ah) from them at that time.

And we must differentiate here, between being zealous for the guidance of the polytheists (Mushrikīn) and the disbelievers (Kuffār) and securing supporters of the religion (Dīn) while being lenient in the conveying with wisdom and the good admonitions and (on the other hand) between the matter of the love and hatred and the allegiance and abhorrence (Mu‘āḍāt) for the religion of Allāh, because many of the people mix between them. So they become confused by many of the texts, such as: “O Allāh, guide my people because verily, they do not know,” and the likes of that.

And Ibrāhīm had disavowal (Barā‘ah) from the closest of the people to him (i.e. his father) when it became clear to him that he would persist upon his Shirk and his disbelief (Kufr). He, the Most High, said:

But when it became clear to him [Ibrāhīm] that he (his father) is an enemy to Allāh, he dissociated himself from him. ¹⁰²

That was after he called him with wisdom and good admonition as you find him addressing him with the words:

¹⁰² Al-Tawbah, 114.
“O my father! Verily! There has come to me of knowledge…” 103

“O my father! Verily! I fear lest a torment from the Most Beneficent (Allāh) overtake you…” 104

And likewise, was Mūsa towards Pharaoh after Allāh sent him to him. And he said:

“And speak to him mildly, perhaps he may accept admonition or fear Allāh.” 105

So he started with him with lenient words, responding to the command of Allāh, so he said:

“Would you purify yourself (from the sin of disbelief by becoming a believer) and that I guide you to your Lord, so you should fear Him?” 106

And he presented to him the proofs (Āyāt) and the clarifications and then when Pharaoh openly showed his inner disbelief (Takthīb), and stubbornness and his persistence upon falsehood, Mūsa said to him, as He, the Most High, informed us:

“Verily, you know that these signs have been sent down by none but the Lord of the heavens and the earth as clear (evidences i.e. proofs of Allāh's Oneness and His Omnipotence, etc.). And I think you are, indeed, O Fir'awn (Pharaoh) doomed to destruction (away from all good)!” 107

Rather, he would supplicate against them, saying:

“Our Lord! You have indeed bestowed on Fir'awn (Pharaoh) and his chiefs splendor and wealth in the life of this world, our Lord! That they may lead men astray from Your Path. Our Lord! Destroy their wealth, and harden their hearts, so that they will not believe until they see the painful torment.” 108

So those who continue to utter the texts of gentleness and leniency and ease, in absolute terms, while they (even) hold them (i.e. the texts) upon that which they were not meant to be held upon, and put them in other than their places; they must pause at this issue for a lengthy period and contemplate this and understand this with a good understanding, if they are sincere.

And it should be well-known to them, after that, that whoever has been addressed in different ways and most of them were by means of gentleness and leniency whether it came from the path of letters and books, or directly and in (face-to-face) meetings, by many of the callers (Du‘āt). And it has been made clear to them that ruling with other than what Allāh revealed is disbelief (Kufr) and he has been made aware that it is not permissible to rule according to other than the Shari‘ah of Allāh. Yet despite that, he persists and becomes arrogant, even if in several events, he is (seen) laughing in the faces of the poor with his empty, lying promises and his frail, false arguments. And the tongue of his (true) condition judges his words to be lies. And that is by his approval and remaining silent upon the increase of the disbelief (Kufr) and the mischief in the countries, and in the slaves, day after day. And (also by) his restricting the callers (Du‘āt) and the believers, and by his constricting those who perform the good, and his surveillance of them by means of the departments of his intelligence staff and his police. Yet at the same time he opens up (his country) to every combatant (Muhārib) towards the religion of Allāh, and makes available for the enemies of Allāh, the means of mischief and corruption, even to the extent of offering them the paths of (the country’s) mainstream media for their mischief (Fasād) and their atheism, while putting forth laws and charters, which punish whoever criticizes his modern, fabricated, Ḣāsq 109 of Shīrkh or openly declaring the disbelief (Takfīr) and the disavowal (Barā’āh) from him, or insulting him or clarifying his falsehood to the people. And (also) his continuing in the preservation of himself as ruler, who judges between the slaves in (matters of) blood and wealth and private parts (i.e. marriage etc.), despite the fact that he is full of open disbelief (Kufr) along with his failure to submit to the legislation of Allāh while ruling according to it, while he knows the obligation to do so and after being requested with that by those who do good. So the likes of this one; it is not allowed to cozy-up to him or to refrain from being hostile towards him or making him (appear) good or honoring him with titles or to greet him during celebrations and events, or to openly show allegiance to him or to his government. Rather, nothing should be said to him except like what Ibrāhīm, and those who were with him, said to their people: “Verily, we are free from you and from your constitutions and your laws of Shīrkh and your government of Kufr. We have rejected you, and it has become openly seen between us and

109 Trans. Note: Referring to Al-Yāsiq of the Tartars, which was a book used by them as a constitution for judgments and legislations. Al-Hāfith, Ibn Kathīr, may Allāh be merciful to him, said, “And likewise, what the Tartars rule in, according to the kingdom-oriented politics that have been taken from their king, Genghis Khan, who fabricated for them ‘Al-Yāsiq’, which is a phrase that refers to a book assembled from rulings he took from several legislations from those of the Jews and the Christians and the Islamic religion (Millāḥ) and other han them. And in it are also several rulings, which he took from his own views and desires. So it became a followed legislation amongst his descendants (lit. sons), which they put ahead of the ruling (Hukm) of Allāh and the Sunnah of His Messenger ﷺ و ﻋﻠيا ﻷﷲ ﺻﻠي ﻣ dap. So whoever does that, then he is a disbeliever (Kāfir) whose fighting is obligatory (Wājib) until he returns to the ruling (Hukm) of Allāh and His Messenger such that he does not rule by other than it neither a little nor a lot.” – [Tafsīr Ibn Kathīr, Vol. 2/93-94; publication of Dār Al-Fayhā’, Damascus and Dār As-Salām, Riyāḍh, 2nd Edition, 1418 H.] you, hostility and hatred forever, until you return to Allāh and submit and follow His law alone.”

And included in this also, is the warning of entering into their allegiance and from entering into their obedience and feeling relieved or protected by them and going into their transports and increasing their ranks by being employed in that which assists them upon their falsehood and affirms their governments and preserves or implements their false laws, such as the army and the police and the intelligence services and other than that.

And the stance of the predecessors (Salaf) with the leaders of their time – those about whom it would not be correct in any circumstances to compare them with this Ṭāghūt and the likes of him – were firm, clear, pure stances. And where is the stance of many of the people of the Da’wah in our time compared to them? Despite their fame and the applause of their followers for them, despite the fact that those predecessors (Salaf) did not graduate from the “Faculties of Political Sciences and Rights” and they did not used to read the stench-filled newspapers or magazines, with the argument of knowing the plots of the enemies, but despite that, they used to flee from the Sultāns and their gates. And the Sultāns would seek them out and attempt to persuade them with wealth and other things. However, those who attribute themselves to them (i.e. the Salaf), from those whom Shaytān has played with their religion, seek for their worldly life (Dunyā) to be good by the destruction of their religion. So they come and seek the entrances of the Sultān and the Sultān humiliates them and turns away from them while the predecessors (Salaf), may the pleasure of Allāh be upon them, used to prevent the entering upon the leaders of tyranny; even those who wanted to order them with the good and forbid them with the evil, due to fear that they might fall into tribulation (Fitnah) because of them. (Therefore, they feared) that they might cozy-up to them or make them appear good, due to their generosity or that they might remain silent upon some of their falsehood or approve of it. And they used to see that being far removed from them and being secluded from them was the best disavowal (Barā‘ah) and objection upon their circumstances.
And listen to Sufyān Ath-Thawrī, as he wrote to ʿUbād ibn ʿUbād. So he said, in his letter: “Safeguard yourself from the leaders as to avoid coming close to them or mixing with them in anything. And safeguard yourself from it being suggested to you that you should intercede (with them) in order to assist someone who has been wronged or to prevent a wrongdoing, because that is from the deception of Iblīs. And verily, only the wicked reciters [Qurā’ (i.e. scholars)] took this as a ladder.” 110

So look at Sufyān, may Allāh, the Most High, be merciful to him, while he is calling what the callers (Duʿāt) of today describe as the benefits of the Daʿwah, as “…the deception of Iblīs.” And he did not say to his companion, as many of the callers (Duʿāt) of this time do, who waste their lives in seeking the benefits of the Daʿwah and supporting the religion through its enemies and those who wage war against it, “No, O my brother! Affirm your presence and draw near to them in hopes that you might receive a position or a chair in the council of ministers or the council of the nation. And hopefully, you can lessen the oppression (Thulm) or benefit your brothers. And do not leave that position because of the disobedient ones or the wicked people, in order to take full advantage of it. And…and…” Rather, he described that as being a ladder of this worldly life (Dunyā) with the wicked reciters. And if that was in his time, so then, what about in our time? We ask Allāh to be kept from that and we seek refuge in Allāh from the evil of the people of our time and the evil of their deceptions. And may Allāh be merciful to the one who said:

People whom you see appointed to a council;
In it, there is misery and every disbelief (Kufr) nearby.

What’s worse, in it is the law of the Christian’s ruling
Without any text that came in the Qur’ān.

Woe unto you from a group who consumed
The love of disputation and the bribery of the Sultān.

And here is Shaykh Al-Islām, Muḥammad ibn ‘Abdul-Wahhāb, often repeating what which came from Sufyān Ath-Thawrī from his statement: “Whoever sits with a person of innovation (Bid’ah), then he is not free from one of three things:

- Either he will be a tribulation (Fitnah) for other than him, by his sitting with him – and it has been narrated in the Hadīth, ‘Whoever begins a good tradition in Islām, then he has its reward and the reward of those who act upon it after him without that decreasing anything from their reward. And whoever begins an evil tradition in Islām, then he has its burden and the burden of those who act upon it after him without that decreasing anything from their burden.’ 111
- In his heart would fall something from the making good (Istīhsān) so it will cause him to stumble. So Allāh will enter him into the Fire, due to that.
- He will say, ‘By Allāh, I do not care what you say and verily, I am sure of myself.’ So whoever feels safe from Allāh regarding his religion, even the blink of an eye, then Allāh will remove it from him.” 112

So if these are their sayings concerning sitting with the people of innovation (Bid’ah) – even if their innovation is not what causes disbelief (Mukaffirah) – as it is known from their various statements in various places, so how about sitting with the apostates from the worshippers of the laws and others besides them, from the polytheists (Mushrikīn)? And contemplate his statement in the third (point): “…verily, I am sure of myself.” And how many of the callers (Duʿāt) of our time have fallen, due to this (over confidence) and the likes of it? So be aware, (again) be aware.

And in any case, Allāh, the Most High, has declared all of these crooked paths, about which their people dream that there is victory for the religion behind them, as false. So He, the Mighty, the Most High, clarified that there is neither victory to be anticipated, nor any benefit for the religion whatsoever.

in becoming close to the wrongdoers. As He, glory be to Him, said in Surat Hūd, which caused the Prophet ﷺ to age 113:

And incline not toward those who do wrong, lest the Fire should touch you, and you have no protectors other than Allāh, nor would you then be helped. 114

So after this, there can be no cozying-up to crooked paths, nor victory for the religion of Allāh, nor any benefit, even if those who are tricked become fooled. O Allāh, unless being touched by the fire is a benefit for the Da‘wah, to them. So awaken from your sleep and do not be tricked by every caller and crier.

- And the interpreters (Mufassirūn) have stated about His, the Most High’s, saying: “And incline not toward...” “The going towards is the slightest of leaning towards.”

- And Abū ʿĀliyah said, “Do not incline towards them by love or even lenient words.”

- And Sufyān Ath-Thawrī said, “Whoever acquires for them even an ink stand or sharpens for them a pencil or hands them a (piece) of paper; then he is entered into that (threat from the above verse).”

113 Trans. Note: The event of Surat Hūd causing the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ to age, is related in the Hadīth narrated by At-Tirmithī from Ibn ʿAbbās, may Allāh be pleased with him, that Abu Bakr said to the Messenger of Allāh, “O Messenger of Allāh, verily your hair has turned grey!” To which the Prophet ﷺ replied, “The Sūrah Hūd, Al-Wāqi‘ah, Al-Mursalāt, ‘Anma Yutāsāloon [An-Nabā], ‘Abd-Shamsu Kuwārat [At-Takwir] have turned my hair grey.” Shaykh Al-Albānī, may Allāh be merciful to him said, “It is Sahīh upon he conditions of Al-Bukhārī,” in Silsilat al-Ahādīth As-Sahīh, #995 and Sahīh in Sahīh Sunan At-Tirmithī, #2627. And in another narration, “Soorah Hūd and its sisters...” which Shaykh Al-Albānī classified as Sahīh in Sahīh Al-Jāmi’, #3,720.

114 Hūd, 113.
• The Shaykh, Hamad ibn ‘Atiq, said, “So He, glory be to Him, warned with a threat to those who incline to His enemies, of being touched by the fire, even if it is with lenient words.”

• And the Shaykh, ‘Abdul-Latif ibn ‘Abdur-Rahmān – and he was from the Īmāms of the Salafi Da’wah of Najd – also said, after mentioning some of the aforementioned statements of the interpreters (Mufassirīn) in the meaning of “inclination” (he said): “And that is because the sin of Shirk is the greatest sin that Allāh has ever been disobeyed in, (according to) its various levels. So how about if something that is worse than it, such as mocking the verses of Allāh and removing His laws and His commands and labeling that which contradicts it as ‘justice’, is added to that? And Allāh knows, as well as the Messenger and the believers, that this is the disbelief (Kufr) and the ignorance and the misguidance. And whoever has the smallest amount of self-respect or even a small trace of life in his heart, then he would develop a sense of protectiveness (Ghīrah) for Allāh and His Messenger and His Book and His religion and make his objections firm and his disavowal (Barā’ah) towards each and every one of their gatherings. And this is from the Jihād, without which, the Jihād against the enemy cannot take place. So take the opportunities to openly demonstrate the religion of Allāh and reminding (people) about it while degrading those who oppose it and having disavowal (Barā’ah) from it (i.e. Shirk) and its people. And contemplate the means, which lead to this greatest of harms, and contemplate the texts of the Legislator (i.e. Allāh) in cutting off the means and causes (to it). And most of the people – even if someone has disavowal (Barā’ah) from it (i.e. Shirk) and its people – he might be from the soldiers of those who have formed allegiance to them and are friendly with them and rising to their defense. And Allāh is the One, Whom we seek help from.” 115 How great was he? It is as if he was speaking about our time.
• And the Shaykh, Muhammad ibn ‘Abdul-Wahhab said, “So Allāh, Allāh, O my brothers, 116 hold onto the basis of your religion and its origin and its infrastructure and its head, the testimony (Shahādah) that there is nothing worthy of worship except Allāh. And know its meaning and love it and love its people and make them your brothers, even if they are far from you in lineage. And disbelieve in the Tawāghīt and take them as your enemies and hate them and hate those who love them, or those who argue for them, or those who do not declare their disbelief (Takfīr) or says, ‘I have nothing to do with them,’ or those who say, ‘Allāh has not held me responsible regarding them,’ because this one (i.e. whoever says this) has lied upon Allāh and lied a clear sin. (This is) because Allāh has made every Muslim responsible to hate the disbelievers (Kuffār) and made it compulsory (Fardh) upon him to take of them as enemies, as well as taking them as enemies and declaring their disbelief (Takfīr), and having disavowal (Barā’ah) from them, even if they are their fathers or their sons or their brothers. So Allāh, Allāh, hold onto that in hopes that you will meet your Lord while not associating anything with Him.” 117

• Take Notice:

And know, after that, that there is no contradiction between acting upon the Millah of Ibrāhīm and taking the precautions in secrecy and concealing the hostilities used to give victory to the religion. And the sum of our words does not reject this great precaution, which the Prophet ﷺ used to take. And the evidence upon that from his biographical accounts (Sīrah) is more than can be counted. However, what is to be said is: “This secrecy is to be put in its proper place and this is the secrecy of (operational military) planning and preparation. As for the Millah of Ibrāhīm and the disbelief in the Tawāghīt and their methodologies and their false deities, then all of this does not enter into the secrecy.” Rather, this is from the openness of the Da’wah so it must be openly declared from the outset of the path, as we have clarified earlier. And 116 Trans. Note: “So Allāh, Allāh, O my brothers...” An expression to emphasize the importance of the admonition to follow, by invoking Allāh’s name in order to call one’s attention to its magnitude.

upon that, the saying of the Prophet Muhammad ﷺ is held: “There will not cease to be a group from my nation (Ummah) openly upon the truth.” – The Hadîth. 118 As for concealing it and hiding it, due to cozying-up to the Tawâqût and entering into their ranks and being promoted in their positions; then it is not of our Prophet, Muhammad ﷺ, rather is is from the guidance and secrecy of the people of the Earthly institutions, about whom it is obligatory (Wâjib) to say to them also:

"To you be your religion, and to me my religion.” 119

And the summary of this matter is: Secrecy in the (Operational Military) Preparation and Planning; Openness in the Da’wah and the Conveyance.

• And we only mention this because many of the people – whether they are from the unstable people or from those who did not understand the Da’wah of the Prophets with a correct understanding – they say, due to their ignorance, “This path that you call to exposes us and openly shows our planning and makes the end of our Da’wah and its fruits come quickly.”

So it is said to them firstly, “These claimed fruits will not ripen and their goodness will not become apparent until the seedling is upon the methodology of the Prophethood. And the (current) state of those contemporary Da’wahs is the greatest evidence and supporting witness for that, beyond the aforementioned Shari’ah-based evidences from the Millah of Ibrâhîm and the Da’wah of the Prophets and Messengers, may the blessings of Allah and His peace be upon them all. Because what we suffer from today is the ignorance of the sons of the Muslims and the concealment of the truth from them, along with the added falsehood and the uncertainty of the stance concerning allegiance and disavowal (Al-Walâ’ wal-Barâ’). Furthermore, this resulted from the silence and the concealing of this truth by the scholars

And had they openly declared and demonstrated it, and were tested because of it – as was the condition of the Prophets – then it would have become apparent and clear to all of the people. And the people of the truth would have distinguished themselves from the people of falsehood. And Allāh’s Message would have been conveyed and the deception, which is upon the people, would have been removed, especially concerning the vital and hazardous matters of our time. And just as it is said, “If the scholar (‘Ālim) speaks out of Tuqyah 120 yet the ignorant one (is permitted to) speak with his ignorance, then when will the truth become apparent?” And if the religion of Allāh and His Tawhīd, in actions and in beliefs, is not shown to the people, then what fruits do those callers (Du’āt) wait for and hope for?

Is it the “Islāmic State”? Verily, the showing of the true Tawhīd of Allāh to the people, and their removal from the darkness of the Shirk into the light of the Tawhīd, is the greatest goal and most important intention, even if the Da’wahs are severely tormented and the callers (Du’āt) are tested.

And will the religion of Allāh ever be open except while (needing) defense and with the trials?

And if Allāh did not check one set of people by means of another, the earth would indeed be full of mischief. 121

So with that, the rising up of the religion of Allāh and the removal of the people and safeguarding them from the Shirk, in its varying forms, will take place. And this is the goal for which the trials are endured upon, and doorstep (upon which) the sacrifices are slaughtered. And the Islāmic State is 120 Trans. Note: Tuqyah refers to the practice of acting or speaking in a way as to trick or fool the observer into understanding something different regarding his external condition than what really exists internally. Al-Haθīth, Ibn Hajar, may Allāh be merciful to him, said, “The Tuqyah is to be careful from demonstrating what lies inside oneself from beliefs and other things to anyone else.” [Fath Al-Bāri, Vol. 12/314].

121 Al-Baqarah, 251.
nothing more than a means from the (various) means of attaining this greatest of goals. And in the ‘Event of the People of the Trenches’, there is a lesson for those with intellect, as that truthful boy caller (Dā‘ī) neither established a state nor any authority, however what he did was openly show the Tawḥīd of Allāh in the greatest of open displays. 122 And he gave victory to the religion with a supportive victory, while attaining the Martyrdom (ṣawābīdah). And what value is there in life beyond that (i.e. showing the Tawḥīd and attaining Martyrdom) and of what consequence are the killing 122 Trans. Note: The ‘Event of the People of the Trenches’ is often also called the ‘Story of the Boy and the King’, which is referred to in Sūrat Al-Burūj, about which, Muslim narrated from Hammād ibn Salamah: “...then the boy was brought...’ meaning to the King, ”...and it was said to him, ‘Turn back from your religion.’ But he refused so he (i.e. the King) presented him to some of his companions and said to them, ‘Go to mountain so-and-so with him and climb the mountain and when you reach its peak and he turns back from his religion, (let him live) otherwise, throw him off. So they accompanied him and climbed the mountain with him and he said, ‘O Allāh, protect me by whatever you will.’ So the mountain trembled and they fell off and he came walking to the King. So the King said to him, ‘What did your companions do?’ He said, ‘Allāh protected me from them.’ So he (i.e. the King) gave him to a group of his companions and said to them, ‘Accompany him and carry in boat and travel to the middle of the sea. Then if he turns back from his religion, (let him live) otherwise, throw him in. So he said, ‘O Allāh, protect me by whatever you will.’ So the ship capsized and they drowned and he came walking to the King. So the King said to him, ‘Allāh protected me from them.’ Then he (i.e. the boy) said to him, ‘You will not be able to kill me until you do what I order you to do.’ He said, ‘And what is that?’ He said, ‘You must join all the people on an upland plain and crucify me to a tree trunk. Then take an arrow from my quiver and place the arrow in center of the bow and then say, ‘In the Name of Allāh, the Lord of the boy,’ and then shoot me. And verily, if you do that, you will kill me. So he joined all the people on an upland plain and crucified him to a tree trunk and then he took an arrow from his quiver. The he placed it in the bow and said, ‘In the Name of Allāh, the Lord of the boy,’ and then he shot him and the arrow pierced his temporal region of his skull. So the boy put his hand over the spot where the arrow pierced and then he died. So the people said, ‘We have believed in the Lord of the boy! We have believed in the Lord of the boy! We have believed in the Lord of the boy!’ So the king was approached and it was said to him, ‘You know what you were afraid of? I swear by Allāh that that which you were afraid of has befallen you. The people have believed.’ So he ordered for trenches to be dug out of the mouths of hills. Then fires were lit (in them) and he said, ‘Whoever does not return from their religion (i.e. Islām), I will throw him in it or he will be commanded, ‘Jump in it!’ So they did that (i.e. jumped in) until a woman came and she had with her a boy and she was afraid to enter it. So the boy said to her, ‘O mother, be patient because verily, you are upon the truth!’

and the burning and the torture, if the caller wins with this greatest of victories, regardless of whether or not there is a state? And even if the believers are burned and trenches are dug for them, then verily, they are victors because (in doing so) the word of Allāh has become supreme and the highest. And in addition to that, the Martyrdom (Shahādah) becomes their path and the Paradise becomes their abode, so hold that as a virtue... (Again) hold that as a virtue.

• And with this, you come to realize that the saying of those ignorant ones, “This path ends the Da’wah and makes the end of its fruits come faster,” is ignorance and spreading lies, because this Da’wah is the religion of Allāh, which Allāh, the Mighty, the Majestic, has promised to make dominant above all other religions, even if the polytheists (Mushrikūn) hate that. And that will surely take place without doubt. And the victory of the religion of Allāh and its rising is not tied in to the personalities of those unstable ones, such that it would depart if they depart, or be destroyed if they are destroyed or if they turn away. He, the Most High, said:

And if you turn away (from Islām and the obedience of Allāh), He will exchange you for some other people, and they will not be your likes. 123

And He said:

O you who believe! Whoever from among you turns back from his religion (Islām), Allāh will bring a people whom He will love and they will love Him; humble towards the believers, stern towards the disbelievers, fighting in the Way of Allāh, and never afraid of the blame of the blamers. That is the Grace of Allāh, which He bestows on whom He wills. And Allāh is All-Sufficient for His creatures' needs, All-Knower. 124

123 Mīlād, 38.
124 Al-Mā’idah, 54.
And He, Glory be to Him, said:

And whosoever turns away, then Allah is Rich (Free of all wants), Worthy of all praise. 125

And these were the Da’wahs of the Messengers and the Prophets and their followers, which are the best supportive witness throughout the passages of time, and they were the people who underwent the most severe trials and tests. Yet those trials did not affect the light of their Da’wahs, rather it did not increase them except in exposure (to the people) and fame and penetrating the hearts of the people amongst their ranks. And it remains here, until this time, and it has not ceased to be a light, which guides those who are upon the path of Da’wah to Allah. And this is the truth about which there is no dispute.

• Then despite all of that, another issue must be understood at this point. And it is that this making known by openly showing the enmity and disavowal (Barā’ah) from the stubborn disbelievers (Kuffār) and openly showing disbelief in their deities and their various types of falsehood, in each era, even if it is the (very) basis of the circumstances of the Muslim caller, which is the description of the Prophets and the straight, clear path of their Da’wah and that these Da’wahs will never succeed, and its intentions and its status will never be correct, nor will the religion of Allah be apparent, nor will the people know the truth except by adhering to it and following it. Despite that, it is to be said that if an assembly from the people of truth were to openly make it known, then it (i.e. the obligation) would fall off of the rest, and the weak ones from them even more so. And that this would be making it known. As far as it, in-and-of-itself; it is obligatory (Wājib) upon each and every Muslim, in any era and in every place, because – as it has passed – it is from Lā ilāha ilAllāh, without which, the Islam of an individual cannot be correct. But as far as discarding and throwing away the making it known absolutely, with the responsibilities of the Da’wahs, despite the fact that it is a basic fundamental from the Da’wahs of the Prophets, then this is a strange, innovated matter, which is not from the religion of Islām whatsoever. Rather, this entered those callers (Du’āt), who invite with other than the guidance of the Prophet ﷺ because of their blind following (Taqlīd) and their mimicking of their Earthly parties and their paths, which take the path of the Tuqyah, in every condition and without being concerned with cozying-up to (the rulers) nor are they uncomfortable with Hypocrisy (Nifāq).

• And this exception of ours did not emerge due to desire or intellectual strategies. Rather, (we raise this point) due to the many Shari‘ah-based texts. And the one who contemplates the biographical accounts (Sirah) of the Prophet ﷺ, in his time of weakness, will have that clarified to him. And look – by way of example and not for the purpose of limitation – to the story of the Islām of ‘Amr ibn ‘Abasah As-Sulami within Sahih Muslim. And the point of testimony (i.e. evidence) from it is his saying: “I said, ‘Verily, I am your follower.’” He said, “Verily, you will not be able to do so, on this day of yours. Have you not seen my condition and the condition of the people? Instead, return to your home and then if you hear that I have become dominant, then come to (i.e. join) me.” – The Hadith, An-Nawawī said, “Its meaning is: ‘I said to him: ‘I am your follower upon openly showing Islām here and my taking up residence with you.’ So he said, ‘You are unable to do so, due to the weakness of the force (Shawwāh) of the Muslims. And we fear the harm of the disbelievers of Quraysh against you. But you have attained your reward so remain upon your Islām and return to your people and continue upon your Islām, in your area, until you know that I have emerged, and then come to me...’” So this is one whom the Prophet ﷺ gave permission to not openly and apparently show his religion, because the religion of Allāh and the Da’wah of the Prophet ﷺ had become famous, known and apparent in that time. And that is indicated by his saying within the same Hadith, “Have you not seen my condition and the condition of the people?”
And also the story of the Islām of Abī Thār in Al-Bukhārı; and the place of testimony (i.e. evidence) from that is his ﷲornado!  ﷲaldo saying to him, “O Abā Thār, conceal this issue and return to your city. Then, if you hear about us emerging, come forward.” – The Ḥadīth. Yet despite that, Abū Thār made known, between the backs of the disbelievers (i.e. among them), his following of the guidance of the Prophet ﷲorno!  ﷲaldo and his path in that. And despite their beating him until he almost died, as it is related in the Ḥadīth, and despite his repeatedly making it (i.e. his Islām) known, the Prophet ﷲorno!  ﷲaldo did not object to his action and he did not let him down, nor did he say, as the callers (Du‘āt) in our time say, “With your action you will expose the Da‘wah and spread a tribulation (Fitnah) and you will harm the benefit of the Da‘wah,” or “You have set the Da‘wah back one hundred years…” And how could it be for him to utter such a thing, while he was the leader of all the people and the best example for them, upon this path, until the Day of Resurrection? So the concealment of some of the weak people in following the Da‘wah is one thing, and the apparentness and openly declaring the religion is yet another thing. And the Da‘wah of the Prophet ﷲorno!  ﷲaldo was apparent, known and famous and everyone knows that its basis (Asl) and its axis is the disbelief in the Tawāghīt of that time with the Tawḥīd in all forms of worship to Allāh, the Mighty, the Majestic, to the point where it was warned about (by its enemies) and war was waged against it by many different means. And did his weak followers need to hide or to emigrate and suffer what they received from harm and exhaustion except due to the clarity of the Da‘wah and the fame of its basis? And if they had even a small amount of the cozying-up (to the opposition) as the people in our time have, then none of that would have happened to them whatsoever.

- And with your understanding of this point, another important benefit becomes clear to you, which is the permissibility of deceiving the disbelievers and some of the Muslims hiding amongst their ranks, during the confrontations and the fighting, as long as the religion (Dīn) is apparent and the basis (Asl) of the Da‘wah is famous. So in these conditions it is correct to use as testimony (i.e. evidence), the event of the killing of Ka’b ibn Al-Ashraf and the likes of it. However, as for many of the callers (Du’āt) wasting their lives in the armies of the Tawāghīt, being allied (to them) and cozying-up to (them), they live and die while at their service and at the service of their vile institutions with the argument of (preserving) the Da’wah and giving victory to the religion (Dīn). So they deceive the people in their religion and they bury the Tawhīd. So these paths are in the West while the Da’wah of the Prophet ﷺ and his guidance are in the furthest of the East.

It has become Easterly and you And what a difference between have become Westerly an Easterly and a Westerly.

So the Millah of Ibrāhīm, therefore, is the correct path of the Da’wah by which there is the leaving of the loved ones and the cutting of the necks. As for other than it, from the paths and the twisted methodologies and the astray, crooked routes, by which those who traverse them wish to establish the religion of Allāh without losing their centers and their positions and while avoiding angering the people of the authority (Sultān) or losing the castles and the women and the pleasure of one’s family and houses and homelands, then they are not from the Millah of Ibrāhīm whatsoever, even if the people of these Da’wahs claim that they are upon the methodologies of the predecessors (Salaf) and upon the Da’wah of the Prophets and Messengers. So by Allāh, we 126 Trans. Note: The killing of Ka’b ibn Al-Ashraf was narrated by Al-Bukhārī and Muslim, with different phrasings of each narration, from Jābir ibn ‘Abdullāh, who said, “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said, “Who would kill Ka’b ibn Al-Ashraf as he has harmed Allāh and His Messenger?” Muḥammad ibn Maslamah (got up and) said, ‘I will kill him.’ So, Muḥammad ibn Maslamah went to Ka’b and said, ‘I want a loan of one or two Wasqs (i.e. measurement of quantity) of food grains.’ Ka’b said, ‘Mortgage your women to me.’ Muḥammad ibn Maslamah said, ‘How can we mortgage our women, and you are the most handsome among the Arabs?’ He said, ‘Then mortgage your sons to me.’ Muḥammad said, ‘How can we mortgage our sons, as the people will abuse them for being mortgaged for one or two Wasqs of food grains? It is shameful for us. Rather, we will mortgage our arms to you.’ So, Muḥammad ibn Maslamah promised him that he would come to him next time. They (Muḥammad ibn Maslamah and his companions) came to him as promised and killed him. Then they went to the Prophet and told him about it.” [– From one of the phrasings of Al-Bukhārī].

have seen them, we have seen them, (i.e. again and again) and how they smile in the faces of the hypocrites (Munāfiqīn) and the oppressors (Thālīmīn); even the disbelievers (Kuffār) who oppose Allāh and His Messenger, not making Da’wah to them while hoping for their guidance. Rather, they sit with them in order to cozy-up to them and approve their falsehood and offer them their applause while standing up to honor them with reverence. And they address them by their titles such as “His Majesty” (Sāhib Al-Jalālah) and “His Greatness, the King” (Al-Malik Al-Mu’amīn) and “The Guardian of the Presidency” (Ar-Ra’īs Al-Mu’amīn) and “His Highness” (Sāhib As-Sumū’), and even ”Imām of the Muslims” (Imām Al-Muslimīn) and “Chief of the Believers” (Amīr Al-Mu’mīnīn), despite the fact that they are (the very manifestation) of war against Islām (itself) and the Muslims. 127

127 An Important Benefit, Which Exposes the Government Scholars:

Know, may Allāh excuse you and ourselves from the deception of the deceivers, that what many of the ignorant do; even if they are labeled as “The Mashayikh (Shaykhs)” while covering themselves with the Salafiyyah from the labeling many of the Tughāt of our time with the title of “Amīr Al-Mu’mīnīn” or “Imām Al-Muslimīn”, verily they take the path of the Khawārij and the Mu’tazilah in not considering the condition of Qurashiyyah (belonging to the tribe of Quraysh) in the Imām. Review for that Saḥīḥ Al-Bukhārī: The Book of Judgments – Chapter: The Leaders are from Quraysh & other than that from the books of the Sunnah and Jurisprudence (Fiqh) and the rulings of Sultanīyyah (Sultanship), as it is a known issue, which you should not encounter any difficulties in reviewing. And Al-Hāfīzh, Ibn Hājār narrated in Al-Fat’h from Al-Qādhi ‘Iyād, his statement: “The condition of the Imām being a Qurashi is the school of though (Matnīh) of all of the scholars (‘Ulamā) and they have included it in the matters of consensus (ijmā’u) and nothing is narrated from any of the predecessors (Salaf) in contradiction to that. And likewise, all of those who came after them in all of the townships.’ He said, ‘And there is no consideration for the saying of the Khawārij and those who complied with them from the Mu’tazilah.’” (Vol. 31/91)

• Then I noticed that the Shaykh, ‘Abdullāh Abā Bitin, who was from the scholars of the Da’wah of Najd, making a refutation upon some of those who oppose and object to the labeling of the Shaykh, Muḥammad ibn ‘Abdul-Wahhāb and ‘Abdul-‘Azīz ibn Sa’ūd with the title of “Al-Imām” while neither of them were Qurashiṣ. He said, “And Muḥammad ibn ‘Abdul-Wahhāb, may Allāh be merciful to him, did not claim the leadership (Imāmah) of the Ummah. Rather, he was only a scholar who called for the guidance and fought upon it. And he was not labeled in his lifetime with ‘Al-Imām’ nor was ‘Abdul-‘Azīz ibn Muḥammad ibn Sa’ūd. Neither of them were labeled with ‘Al-Imām’. Rather, it only occurred from those who took authority after their death.” [Look to
(THE RELIGION OF IBRĀHĪM)

Yes, by Allāh, we have seen them. He would leave and return selling his religion for less than the wing of a mosquito. He is called a believer and he studies the Tawḥīd and maybe he even teaches it. Then he takes an oath to honor the constitution with its laws of disbelief and he bears witness to the virtue of the fabricated laws and he increases the ranks of the oppressors (Thālimin) and must greet them with a cheerful face and a pleasant tongue, despite the fact that they pass over the verses of Allāh in the evening and the daytime, which forbid them from inclining towards the oppressors (Thālimin) or obeying them and being pleased with some of their falsehood, as they read these verses, such as His, the Most High’s, statement:

And incline not toward those who do wrong, lest the Fire should touch you... 128

And His, the Mighty, the Majestic’s statement:

Ad-Durar As-Saniyyah, Volume of Jihād, page 240] So look to this devout Imām and how he freed himself from that and objected to that, despite the fact that those mentioned were from the callers (Du’āt) of the guidance. And (consider) the stubbornness of the government Shaykhs in this time, who persist upon calling their Tawāghiṭ “Al-Imām”, or “Amīr Al-Mu’mīnīn”. So their tidings are that they are upon the path of the Khawārij; the very same description, which they constantly accuse the students of knowledge with and the callers (Du’āt) of truth with, who oppose their Tawāghiṭ.

And they accused them out of transgression with what the accusers are more deserving of, to repel from himself the criminal deed.

He accuses the innocent with the crime that he committed as a lie. And for that, they confuse the ignorant ones.

And all of this concerns the condition of the Qurashiyah so how about adding to that, the absence of justice and knowledge and wisdom and other than that from the conditions of leadership (Imāmah)? And how about if the Islām and the faith (Imān) are absent? How (then), how?

128 Hūd, 113.
And it has already been revealed to you in the Book (this Qur’ān) that when you hear the Verses of Allāh being denied and mocked at, then sit not with them, until they engage in a talk other than that; (but if you stayed with them) certainly in that case you would be like them. 129 – the verse.

- And the Shāykh, Sulaymān ibn ʿAbdullāh, ibn ʿAsh-Shaykh, Muḥammad ibn ʿAbdul-Wahhāb, said concerning the meaning of His, the Blessed, the Most High’s statement: ...
certainly in that case you would be like them. “The verse is upon its outward meaning, which is that if a man who hears the verses of Allāh being disbelieved in and being mocked, and yet he sits with the mocking disbelievers without any compulsion or any objection and without standing up from them, until they begin a different discussion, then he is a disbeliever (Kāfir) like them, even if he did not commit their action.” 130

And His, the Powerful, the Majestic’s statement:

And when you see those who engage in a false conversation about Our Verses (of the Qur’ān) by mocking at them, stay away from them till they turn to another topic. 131

- Al-Ḥasan Al-Basri said, “It is not allowed for him to sit with them whether they idly chat or do not idly chat, due to His, the Most High’s, statement: And if Shaytān causes you to forget, then after the remembrance sit not you in the company of those people who are the Thālimūn. 132 And likewise, is His, the Most High’s, statement: And had We not made you stand firm, you would nearly have inclined to them a little. In that case, We would have made you taste a double portion (of punishment) in this life and a double portion (of punishment) after death. And then you would have found none to help you against Us. 133

- And the Shaykh, Sulaymān ibn ʿAbdullāh said, “So if this address was to the most noble of the creation (i.e. the Messenger of Allāh), may the blessings of Allāh and His peace be upon him, then how about for other than him? 134

And they read His, the Most High’s, statement describing the believers:

And those who turn away from Al-Laghw (dirty, false, evil vain talk, falsehood, and all that Allāh has forbidden). 135

And His statement:

And those who do not witness falsehood, and if they pass by some evil play or evil talk, they pass by it with dignity. 136

Yet they claim that they are upon the methodology of the predecessors (Salaf), while the predecessors (Salaf) used to flee from the doors of the Sultāns and their positions, during the time of the lords of the Sharī‘ah (i.e. those who ruled according to it) and the guidance, as opposed to the times of tyranny and darkness (i.e. nowadays). And by Allāh, the swords were neither put to their throats nor were they hung by their feet or were they forced upon that. Rather, they chose to do so while they were granted for that, huge amounts of money and the diplomatic immunities. So we seek refuge in Allāh from the personal desires and the removal of foresight. And we wish that they would at least openly say, “We have done this due to enthusiasm for this worldly-life (Dunyā).” But instead, they say, “The benefit of the Da’wah and the support of the religion (Dīn).” So at whom do you laugh, O you poor people? Is it at us, the weak? If so, then neither we nor the likes of us hold any harm or benefit for you. Or is it upon “The Mighty” (Al-Jabbār) of the Heavens and the Earths (i.e. Allāh), the One, which no hidden thing can be hidden from, while He knows your secrets and your private conversations.

And we have heard them accuse those who oppose them or object to them regarding that, that they are shallow in ideology and have little experience and that they have neither wisdom in the Da’wah, nor patience in the harvesting of the fruit nor the vision regarding the current realities and the universal practices. And (they claim) that they lack political knowledge and while being shortsighted. And they did not realize – those poor people – that they were not (merely) accusing, with that, a small group of individuals. Rather, they are accusing, with that, all of the Messengers and the Millāh of Ibrāhīm, which from its most important issues is openly showing the disavowal (Barā’ah) to the enemies of Allāh and the disbelief in them and their crooked paths, while making the enmity and hatred apparent towards their methodologies of disbelief. And they did not realize that their words imply that Ibrāhīm and those who were with him had neither wisdom in the Da’wah nor understanding of their current realities and that they were hasty and extremists, despite the fact that Allāh, the Powerful, the Majestic, approved of them and commanded us to take them as examples, as He said:

Indeed there has been an excellent example for you in Ibrāhīm and those with him... 137

And He, Glory be to Him, said:

And who can be better in religion than one who submits his face (himself) to Allāh and he is a Muhṣin (a good-doer). And follows the religion of

137 Al-Mumtahinah, 4.
Ibrāhīm Hanifa (to worship none but Allāh Alone). And Allāh did take Ibrāhīm as a Khalil (an intimate friend). 138

And He, Glory be to Him, removed Ibrāhīm far from foolishness as He described him with guidance, when He said:

And indeed We bestowed aforetime on Ibrāhīm his (portion of) guidance, and We were Well-Acquainted with him. 139

Then He mentioned his Da’wah, furthermore, He, Glory be to Him, clarified – as we mentioned earlier – that the Millah of Ibrāhīm; no one turns away from it except the foolish one. 140 And how could the foolish one have wisdom in Da’wah and clear sightedness and a correct methodology and a claim of (being upon) a straight path?

Chapter: [The Difficulty in Adhering to the Millah of Ibrāhīm and a Warning Against Following the Crooked Paths]

And know, may Allāh keep you and us firm upon His straight path, that this disavowal (Barā’ah) and enmity (‘Adāwah), which the Millah of Ibrāhīm necessitates its openly declaring and its showing to the people of disbelief (Kufr) and their deities, makes one responsible for much, (again) much.

So the assumer should not assume that this path is laid out with fragrant flowers or that it is surrounded with tranquility and gentleness. Rather, it is, by Allāh, surrounded with hateful things and trials. But its seal (i.e. destination) is a musk-scented soul and (the fragrance of) sweet basil with a Lord who is not displeased. And we do not wish for the trials for ourselves, nor for the Muslims, but the trials are from the Sunnah of Allāh, the Powerful, the Majestic, along this path, by which He differentiates between the vile and the good, as it is the path, which the people of desires and the authority

(Sultān) can not be pleased with due to its direct clash against their current positions. And it is a clear disavowal (Barā‘ah) towards their deities and their manifestations of Shirk. But other than this path, you will mostly find its people living luxuriously and inclining towards this worldly-life (Dunyā). And you will not see traces of these trials upon them because a person is only tested according to the level of his religion. So the most severely tested people are the Prophets, then nearest (in level) and then the nearest (in level). And the followers of the Millah of Ibrāhīm are the most severely tested people because they follow the methodology of the Prophets in the Da‘wah unto Allāh. As Waraqah ibn Nawfal 142 said to the Prophet ﷺ, “No man has ever come with the likes of what you came with except that he was taken as an enemy.” 143 So if you see, in our time, those who claim to call to the likes of what the Prophet ﷺ used to call to and upon the likes of his path, and he claims to be upon his methodology, yet he is not taken as an enemy by the people of falsehood and the authority (Sultān), and instead he is calm and relaxed between their backs (i.e. amongst them), then examine his condition. He is either astray from the path; he has not come with the likes of what the Prophet ﷺ came with and he took crooked paths, or he is a liar in his claim and he clothes himself in what he is not fit to clothe himself with. This could either be due to followed desires and from seeking the pleasure of every opinionated person’s whims, or due to the worldly-life (Dunyā), which he hopes to attain (a position in), such as being a spy or an eye (i.e. watcher) for the people of the authority (Sultān) against the people of 141 Trans. Note: Referring to the Hadith narrated by At-Tirmithī, in which the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ was asked which of the people are the most severely tested. He said, “The Prophets, then nearest (in level) and then the nearest (in level). The man will be tested according to his religion. So if there is firmness in his religion, his tests will be harsher. And if there is weakness in his religion, his tests will be in accordance to the amount (i.e. strength) of his religion. So the tests will not leave the slave until it leaves him walking on the Earth without any mistakes (i.e. sins) upon him.” Shaykh Al-Albānī, may Allāh be merciful to him, classified it Ḥasan Sahīh in Sahīh Sunan At-Tirmithī, #1,956 and Sahīh with a different phrasing in Sahīh At-Targhīb, #3,402 as well as Sahīh Al-Jam‘ī, #992 and #993. And in Silsīlat Al-A‘lādīth As-Sahīlah, he said, “Its chain is good.” #143.

the religion. And that which Waraqah said to the Prophet ﷺ, was approved of in the personalities of the companions (Sahābah), when they gave their pledge of allegiance (Bay’ah) to the Prophet ﷺ as As‘ad ibn Zararārah said when he rose up and reminded them saying, “Be cautious, O people of Yathrib (i.e. Madinah). Verily, his expulsion this day is a separation from all the Arabs or (it will mean) the killing of the best of you and that the swords shall strike you. So either you are a people who will be patient upon that; (and if so) take it and your reward will be with Allah. Or else you are a people who fear for yourselves, in which case you should leave him. So be clear about that as it will be more excusable for you with Allah!”

So contemplate this well because we are in great need of that, nowadays wherein everyone who leaps ahead and crawls, has covered himself in the garments of the Da‘wah and as callers (Du‘āt). So look upon yourselves and measure it (i.e. your ability to bear this burden) and present this path to it (i.e. the self) and hold it accountable for its defects therein. So you will either be from a people who are patient upon that; and therefore you must take it with its right and ask Allah to keep you firm upon what results from trials. Or alternatively, you cannot see this ability within yourself to stand up and openly show this Millah. So remove from yourself the clothing of the callers (Du‘āt) and lock your house upon yourself with your personal affairs. So leave yourself from matters of the general masses or isolate yourself in a valley from the valleys with a provision (Ghanimah) of yours. Because it is, by Allah, just like As‘ad ibn Zararārah said, which is that it is more excusable for you, with Allah. Yes, that is more excusable for you with Allah than you laughing at yourselves and at the people, while you do not have the strength to stand up upon the Millah of Ibrāhīm. Otherwise, you will go out in the Da‘wah upon crooked paths and you take other than the guidance of the Prophet ﷺ as guidance, such as beatifying and cozying-up to the Tawāghi, while hiding and concealing your enmity towards them and to their falsehood. So by Allah, then (again) by Allah, verily the one who isolates himself in a valley from the valleys with a provision (Ghanimah) of his, is superior and he is upon a more guided path than yourself in that case. And the truth was told by he who said:

Silence is better than the words of a flatterer cozying up to those Whose insides are filthy, but have pleasant words.

He knew the reality but he inclined towards that which Pleases and impresses every arrogant transgressor.

O people, do not be surprised by those who enrich (beautify) With the words, in these days of ours

While they ascended the pulpits and wrote in the blackened newspapers And they proceeded to all the other social gatherings.

By Allāh, they did not declare the reality and the guidance. Certainly not, nor did they expose the destructions.

How could the reality be pointed out with a wish To be connected to the people of oppression and desires.

Or a seeker of power in an era of Prestige for he who is famous to be someone of desires.

So my advice, O people, is that you not desire In our time, with the abundance of desires.

Live for the religion of Allāh, not for a civilization That is surrounded by confusion and doubts.

And we have seen many of them mocking the ones who have noticed their crooked paths and their astrayness and who subsequently turned away from them and their calls, which are upon other than the Prophetic methodology. We have seen them mocking them due to their isolation while they accuse them of sitting back and inclining towards this worldly-life (Dunyā) and with their defects related in the Da’wah to Allāh. Then if this is the case, then what defects in Da’wah do those (other) people have? Is it (i.e. the defects) in Da’wah with which you seek refuge in the army and the police and the national councils and the parliaments of Shirk and other than that, from the employment, which increases the numbers of the oppressors (Thālimin)? Or is it that one whereby you enter the gatherings of indecency (Fahishah) in the coded universities and the colleges and the corrupted schools and other than them, by using the argument of the benefits of the Da’wah, wherein you do not even show your true religion when you call therein, by means of other than the guidance of the Prophet ﷺ? Or could it be that they (i.e. those who you blame for forsaking your Da’wah once they discovered your crookedness) are guilty of the same defects, in the true Da’wah, which both groups were deficient in; that being the Millah of Ibrāhīm? Or do you use as evidence, the statement of the Prophet ﷺ, “The believer who mixes with the people while being patient upon their harm is superior to the believer who does not mix with the people and is not patient upon their harm?” ١٤٥ Then our response to this is that this Hadith is in the East and you are from it in the West, because this mixing must be upon the guidance of the Prophet ﷺ and not following your opinions and your desires and your innovated methods of Da’wah. So if it were like that, in other words, upon his ﷺ guidance, the harm and the reward would both be attained. Otherwise, then what rewards do those who call with, other than the guidance of the Prophet ﷺ, wait for? ١٤٦ And whoever says this, has thrown away a great condition, from the conditions, for the acceptance of deeds, which is “The Following.” And what harm is to be faced by those who do not openly show their enmity towards the people of transgression (Fisq) and the wickedness and the disobedience, while he does not even openly declare his disavowal (Barā‘ah) from their manifestations of Shirk and their crooked paths? Furthermore, he even sits amongst them approving of their falsehood, while smiling in their faces while their faces (i.e. those who sit with them) do not so much as change color (i.e. frown) or even becoming angry for Allāh’s sake for even the blink of any eye, while they violate the sanctities of Allāh, with the argument of the leniency and the wisdom (in the Da‘wah) and the good admonition and to avoid causing the people to flee from the religion. And they use ‘the benefit of the Da‘wah’, while destroying the religion knot-by-knot (i.e. piece-by-piece) with the axes of their innovated leniency and wisdom.

١٤٥ Narrated by Imām Ahmad and At-Tirmithi and others [Trans. And in Silsilat Al-Ahadith As-Sahihah, he said, “Its chain is upon the condition of the two Shaykhs (i.e. Al-Bukhārī and Muslim) #939.] ١٤٦ Trans. Note: Another logical point that shows the incompatibility of the description of this Hadith with those who incline towards the oppressors (Thālimin), is the description of harm. It might be easy to mix with the people, but if no harm results form this, due to the ease of compromise from the caller (Dā‘ī) with the desires of those whom he claims to call, then how could he attribute himself to the description of the aforementioned Hadith?

And the Shaykh, ‘Abdul-Latif ibn ‘Abdur-Rahmān, said in one of his essays, while speaking about openly making the religion known while commanding the good and forbidding the evil, “And leaving that due to cozying-up and good treatment and the likes of this, which some of the ignorant do, is a greater harm and more sinful than to leave it (i.e. commanding the good and forbidding the evil) out of ignorance. This is because this group (i.e. those who cozy-up) saw that achieving the livelihood could not occur without that. So they opposed the Messengers and those who came after them and they left out from their path and their methodology (Manhaj), because they perceived that the wise thing to do would be to please the people according to their various statuses. And so they treated them peacefully and they sought to attain their love and benevolence. And this, despite the fact that there is no \[147\] Trans. Note: The agreed upon conditions for any deed to be accepted is that it firstly must be dedicated solely for the pleasure of Allāh, alone. And the second condition is that the deed must be in accordance to the Sunnah of His Messenger ﷺ; hence “The Following”.

In his interpretation (Tafsīr) of the verse: So whoever hopes for the miting with his Lord, let him work righteousness and associate none as a partner with his Lord... [Al-Kahf, 110] Al-Hāfith, Ibn Kathīr said, “This is what is meant by seeking the pleasure of Allāh alone with no associate or partner. These are the two basic features of acceptable deed: their intent is for the sake of Allāh alone, and they are done in accordance with the Sunnah of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ! ﷺ.” [Tafsīr Ibn Kathīr, Vol. 3/147; publication of Dār Al-Fayhā’, Damascus and Dār As-Salām, Riyādī, 2nd Edition, 1418 H.] (valid) path to it, is a prioritization of the portion of the self and the (personal) pleasantry. And it is making peace with the people and abandoning the enmity for Allāh’s sake, and enduring the harm for its (i.e. the Daw’ahs) sake. And this, in reality, is the destruction in the Hereafter. So he has not tasted the taste of faith (Īmān); he who has not formed allegiance to Allāh and to enmity for His sake. And the intelligence – all of the intelligence – is what leads to the pleasure of Allāh and His Messenger. And this can only occur with the spiting of the enemies of Allāh and prioritizing His pleasure, while becoming furious when His sanctities are violated. And the anger comes from the liveliness of the heart and its protective instincts (Ghīrah) and its glorification (of Allāh). But if there is no life or protective instincts (Ghīrah) or glorification (of Allāh) or anger and disgust (for Allāh’s sake), and if it does not differentiate between the vile and the good, in terms of his interactions and his allegiances and his enmities, then what goodness would remain in the heart of such a person?”

And you see some of them laughing at their followers of young men while they wage war against their isolating themselves in absolute terms, and rejecting the affirmed texts concerning that, while reciting the poetry of Ibn Al-Mubārak, may Allāh, the Most High, be merciful to him, when he sent to Al-Fudhayl, 149 Trans. Note: Such as what was narrated by Al-Bukhārī from Abu Sa’īd Al-Khudri, may Allāh be pleased with him that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said, “Soon there will come a time when the best wealth a Muslim will have will be sheep which he will take to the mountaintops and places where rain falls, fling for the sake of his religious commitment from tribulation.” And Muslim also narrated from him (i.e. Abu Sa’īd) that a man came to the Prophet ﷺ and said, “Which of the people is best?” He said, “A man who strives in Jihād for the sake of Allāh with his wealth and his self.” He asked, “Then who?” He said, “A believer in a mountain pass who worships Allāh and leaves the people alone.” In their explanation of these Hadiths, An-Nawawi said, “This does not mean the mountain pass itself, rather what is referred to is being alone and isolating oneself. A mountain pass is mentioned as a metaphor because it is usually devoid of people.” [Sharh Sahih Muslim, Vol.13/34] and Al-Haifthī, Ibn Hajar said, “This report indicates that isolation is preferable in the case of one who fears for his religious commitment.” [Fath Al-Bārī, Vol. 13/42].

Millat Ibrāhīm
(The Religion of Ibrāhīm)

O worshipper of the Two Sacred Mosques, if you saw us
Then you would know that you are but playing in worship.

Whosoever stains his neck with tears
Then our collars are smeared with our blood. – to the end.

And if the worshipper of the Two Sacred Mosques (Al-Haramayn) had seen them (i.e. those who use this poetry today) and saw their crooked Da’wahs, then perhaps he would reply, “Al-Hamdulilāh, to the One who excused me from that which He has tried you with and He made me virtuous in merit, over many of those Whom He created.” And I say: What a great difference between these Da’wahs of yours and your paths, and between the Jihād of Ibn Al-Mubarāk and those righteous ones who participated in the warfare. Furthermore, perhaps if Ibn Al-Mubarāk saw these Da’wahs of theirs, then he would have sent to Al-Fudhayl saying:

O worshipper of the Two Sacred Mosques, if you saw them
You would be grateful due to your being away in worship.

Whosoever does not call with the guidance of his Prophet
Then he is the ignorant one who plays with his religion.

Chapter: [The Responsibilities in Adhering to the Millah of Ibrāhīm]

Yes, verily the Millah of Ibrāhīm holds one accountable for much. But in that, is tied the victory of Allāh and the huge success. And with it, the people are differentiated into groups; the group of faith (Īmān) and the group of disbelief (Kufr) and transgressions (Fusūq) and disobedience (’Usyān). And with it, the allies of The Most Merciful (Ar-Rahmān) become distinguished from the allies of the Satan (Aṣḥ-Shaytān). Such was the Da’wah of the Prophets and the Messengers. They did not have these sick conditions, which we live with today from everything being all mixed up between the righteous with the unrighteous or the cozying-up to or the sitting of the bearded people along with the people of transgression (Fisq) and wickedness (Fujūr) and their honoring them and holding them above or ahead of the people of righteousness (Birr) and piety (Taqwa), despite the fact that those people openly show hatred and enmity towards the religion by several different means. Rather, their Da’wahs were clear disavowal (Barā‘ah) from their people who turned away from the legislation of Allāh with open enmity towards their false deities, not compromising nor cozying-up nor making things nice in the conveyance of the legislation of Allāh.

- So listen to Nūh, from the depths of time, wherein he addressed his people, (while he was) alone, not fearing their authority, nor their transgression as he said:

> “O my people, if my stay (with you), and my reminding (you) of the Ayāt (proofs, evidences, verses, lessons, signs, revelations, etc.) of Allāh is hard on you, then I put my trust in Allāh. So devise your plot, you and your partners, and let not your plot be in doubt for you. Then pass your sentence on me and give me no respite.” 150

And would a man who cozied-up to his people say the likes of this? It is just like Sayyid Qutb, may Allāh be merciful to him said, “This was a clear motivating challenge, which the speaker would not utter, except while he had his hands full of strength and while having complete faith in his preparedness, to the point where he could battle his enemy on his own, such that he might dare them with these challenging words to attack him. So what was behind Nūh from strength and preparedness…? He had Allāh with him and Allāh is sufficient as a guide and a supporter. And Allāh, the Most High, had ordered his Prophet, Muḥammad ﷺ to recite this to his people, as He said: And recite to them the news of Nūh. When he said to his people: 151

- And look to Hūd in the beginning of these verses as he confronted his people who were from the most severe people in terms of their strength and the fiercest of them in attacking. He confronted them while alone, yet with the firmness of the mountains, or even more sternly. Listen to him, while he openly declares his disavowal (Bara’ah) clearly and plainly from their manifestations of Shirk and making them hear his eternal words:

> He said: “I call Allāh to witness and bear you witness that I am free from that which you ascribe as partners in worship with Him (Allāh). So plot against me, all of you, and give me no respite.” 152

He said this to them, while he was but one man, “Plot against me with your numbers (of men) and your army and your deities of falsehood.”

> “Verily, my Lord is on the Straight Path (the truth).” 153

And to those who parrot many of the words of Sayyid, may Allāh, the Most High, be merciful to him, while at the same time, they are enthusiastic – or worse yet, they even race one another to beg the Tawāghīt who turn away from the legislation of Allāh – so that they would rule with the legislation in a few of the matters, or so that they might issue them the permission to make Da’wah unto Allāh or so that they might attain a seat in the councils of Shirk and transgressions (Fusūq) and disobedience (’Usyān). To them, we mention the words of Sayyid, concerning these verses as he said, “Verily, it is an uprising of disavowal (Bara’ah) towards the people, while he was from them

151 Yūnus, 71.
152 Hūd, 55.
153 Hūd, 56.
and was their brother. And it was an uprising for fear of remaining amongst them while they had taken other than the path of Allāh as a path. And it was an uprising of separation between the two groups, which shall never join, while making Allāh, his Lord, to be a witness of his disavowal (Barā‘ah) towards his astray people and his withdrawal from them along with his separation from them. And he made them to be witnesses upon his disavowal (Barā‘ah) towards them, right to their faces so that they would not have any doubt within themselves, concerning his fleeing (from them) and his fear of remaining with them!"

“And verily, someone might be astonished by a man who confronts those people who trust in their false gods with this trust. So he makes their beliefs (appear) vulgar and he chastises them upon that and then he stirs their hostility by opposing them. He did not seek any delay as to prepare, as they had prepared. And he did not leave them to linger as to soothe their fury. Verily, the people of the Da‘wah unto Allāh, in every region and era, are in need of standing for a lengthy period in front of this brilliant ‘stance’. One man; no one believed with him, except a small amount, facing the most violent of the Earth’s people and the richest of the people of the Earth and the most advanced people of the Earth, materially at that time, as they were the aggressive tyrants (Jabbārūn), who use to attack without mercy, along with those whom (Allāh’s) favors had made them arrogant, along with those who had established the production mills, while hoping for eternally extended lives. Verily, it was the faith (Īmān) and the trust and the assurance; the faith (Īmān) in Allāh and the trust in His promise and the assurance in His victory: “I put my trust in Allāh, my Lord and your Lord! There is not a moving (living) creature but He has grasp of its forelock. Verily, my Lord is on the Straight Path (the truth).” 154 And those mistaken, stubborn people of his; verily they were from the creatures whose Lord held grasp of their forelocks and it is He who controls them by His Might and his Power. So why should he (i.e. Hūd) fear these creatures and how should he receive them, while they were powerless, having no control, except by the permission of his Lord?

And why should he remain amongst them while their (i.e. the believer’s) path was different than their (the disbeliever’s) path?” 155

Likewise, were the conditions of the Messengers, may the Blessings of Allâh and His Peace be upon them, with their stubborn people. And likewise was their Da’wah; a constant struggle against falsehood and clarity in the Da’wah and openly declaring the enmity and the disavowal while their Da’wahs did not know any cozying-up to, nor being pleased with, any of the falsehood or meeting it in the middle of the path (i.e. compromising).

So the enmity of the people of truth towards the falsehood and its people and their separating themselves from them is a very old matter, which Allâh has made obligatory (Wâjib) since the time He sent Adam ﷺ down to Earth. And Allâh willed it within the devine decree (Qadr) and legislation (Shara’) so that His allies would be differentiated from His enemies and His party from (the object of) His war and the vile from the good and so that He would take martyrs (Shahadâ) from the believers, just as He, the Majestic, Most High, said:

“Get down, one of you an enemy to the other…” 156

And upon this, the entire caravan of Messengers passed and this was their religion as you have come to know. He, the Most High, said:

And so We have appointed for every Prophet enemies - Shayâtin (devils) among mankind and Jinns... 157

And He, Glory be to Him, said:

155 Summarized from Ath-Thilâl.
156 Al-A‘râf, 24.
157 Al-An’âm, 112.
Thus have We made for every Prophet an enemy among the Mujrimūn (disbelievers, polytheists, criminals, etc.). 158

So from them are those whom Allāh informed us concerning their stories about them with their enemies and from them were those whom He did not inform us concerning their stories. And this is supported by the Ḥadīth of Abī Hurayrah, which is agreed upon, that the Prophet  lành س !  ﷺ said, “The Prophets are all the children of 'Alāt.” And that refers to the second wife in a plural marriage, which is taken from the عل (‘Alal), which is the second sip taken after the first. Or it is like if the husband has taken a second sip ('Al) from her after he was satisfied by the other. And the children of 'Alāt are the children of co-wives from one man, which supports the fact that the Prophets; the foundation of their religion and their Da'wah and their path is one, while that which extends from it may differ. 159

• And likewise was the Seal of the Prophets and the Messengers, may the Blessings of Allāh and His Peace be upon him. And he is the one who has been described as “…a divider between the people.” 160 And in a narration, “…he has divided between the people.” So he responded to the command of Allāh, the Most High, in following the Millah of Ibrāhīm, ﷺ as he neither remained silent upon the Shirk and its people nor did he cozy-up to them nor did he make things nice for them or other than that. Rather, in Makkah, despite the small quantity of his followers and their weakness, he would openly declare his disavowal (Barā’ah) towards the disbelievers and their false deities. And he would declare them to be vulgar and he would say, as Allāh, the Most High, commanded him to, while having disavowal towards the Shirk and while clearly declaring the disbelief of its people along with their disavowal from his religion and the disavowal of his religion towards them:

Say: “O Al-Kāfirūn, I worship not that which you worship. Nor will you worship that which I worship. And I shall not worship that which you are worshipping. Nor will you worship that which I worship. To you be your religion, and to me my religion.” 161

And he would openly declare to them that he is firm upon his path, while being disavowed from those who oppose it, and that he is from the believers who are enemies to both themselves and their religion:

Say: “O you mankind! If you are in doubt as to my religion (Islām), then (know that) I will never worship those whom you worship, besides Allāh. But I worship Allāh Who causes you to die, I am commanded to be one of the believers.” 162

And He, the Most High, addressed him saying:

And if they belie you, say: “For me are my deeds and for you are your deeds! You are innocent of what I do, and I am innocent of what you do!” 163

And He, Glory be to Him, taught the believers to say:

...Allāh is our Lord and your Lord. For us our deeds and for you your deeds. 164

It has come in the authentic Hadīth that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said to one of his companions “Read: ‘O Al-Kāfīrūn... (Al-Kāfīrūn, 1-6) then go to sleep upon its seal (i.e. at its end) because it is a disavowal (Barā‘ah) from the Shīrkh.” 165

And it has come in Risālat Asbāb Najāt As-Su‘āl Min As-Sayf Al-Maslūl that which summarizes as follows: “Verily, the word of sincerity (Ikhās), ‘Lā ilāha ilAllāh’, was restricted with mighty restrictions. So the Imām of those who were Ḥanīf ﷺ [i.e. free from Shīrkh (this refers to Ibrāhīm)] was not sufficed by its uttering alone nor was the love and the allegiance fulfilled for him – while he was the Imām of those who loved – until it was (accompanied) with enmity. Just as He, the Most High, informed us about him: He said: ‘Do you observe that which you have been worshipping; you and your ancient fathers? Verily! They are enemies to me, save the Lord of the ‘Alamīn (mankind, Jinns and all that exists).’ 166 And this is the meaning of the saying ‘Lā ilāha ilAllāh’, just as He, the Most High said: And (remember) when Ibrāhīm said to his father and his people: ‘Verily, I am innocent of what you worship, except Him Who did create me, and verily, He will guide me.’ And he made it a Word lasting among his offspring, that they may turn back (i.e. to repent to Allāh). 167 Therefore, the Imām of those who are Ḥanīf (i.e. Ibrāhīm) ﷺ passed it on to his followers and the Prophets inherited it amongst each other. Then when our Prophet, Muḥammad ﷺ was sent, Allāh ordered him to declare it just as our father, Ibrāhīm, declared it. So Allāh, the Powerful, the Mighty, revealed it in an entire chapter (Sūrah), which is Sūrat Al-Kāfīrūn.” 168

And he classified an alternate narration of the same Hadīth as Hasan also in Sahih Al-Jāmi’, #292 and as “Strong” in Mishkāt Al-Masābīh, #2,102].

168 From Majmū’at Al-Tawhīd.
And the Prophet ﷺ made it known and openly declared it and he did not hide it. And he, along with his companions (Sahabah), endured what was put upon them from harm due to that and he did not cozy-up to them, due to that. And how could it be for him to cozy-up to them (i.e. he would never do such a thing)? Rather, he only used to affirm those believers and remind them of the promise of Allâh, the Most High, and His Paradise, and with the stances of the people of firmness, from those who came before them, such as His saying, “Patience, family of Yâsîr, because your promise is the Paradise (Al-Jannah).”

And his statement to Khâbbâb, “A man, from those who came before you, used to have a hole dug for him in the ground and he would be placed in it and a saw would be brought and placed upon his head and he would be cut in two, and he would be combed with iron combs, such that his flesh would be removed from the bones, yet that would not deter him from his religion (Dîn). By Allâh, the Most High, this matter will be completed to the point where a rider will travel from San`â’ to Hadramawt without fearing anything except Allâh and the wolf upon his sheep. However, you are too hasty.”

He would say this to his companions, while at the same time; he would say to Quraysh, that which Allâh, the Most High, commanded him:

169 Narrated by Al-Hâkim and others [Trans. Note: Referring to the story of ‘Ammâr ibn Yâsîr, whose family was tortured and harmed repeatedly. Some of the details of these incidents are listed ahead.]

170 Narrated by Al-Bukhârî and others. And likewise, he, may the blessings of Allâh and His peace be upon him, used to reassure his companions and always remind them with the stories of the people of firmness, to the point where if one of them were tested with a severe trial for Allâh’s sake, which he could not bear and he fell into what ‘Ammâr, may Allâh be pleased with him, fell into (to be explained later), then he would inform him regarding Allâh’s pardon of that along His making a concession due to necessity (Rukhsah) in that. This is unlike the condition of many of the callers (Du`â`ît) in our time, who constantly repeat the Hadiths of the concessions (Rukhsahs) and the compulsion or the necessities throughout their entire lives, and in all of their days and their various locales, for every falsehood, while increasing the numbers of the governments of Kufr and Shirk, without any real compulsion or necessity whatsoever. So when will they openly show their religion?
Say: “I am only a human being like you. It is inspired in me that your Ilāh is One Ilāh (Allāh), therefore take the Straight Path to Him with obedience to Him, and seek forgiveness of Him. And woe to Al-Mushrikin.” 171

And these verses were from the Makkah-period. And He said:

Say: “Call your (so-called) partners (of Allāh) and then plot against me, and give me no respite! Verily, my Wali (Protector, Supporter) is Allāh Who has revealed the Book (the Qur’ān), and He protects the righteous. And those whom you call upon besides Him (Allāh) cannot help you nor can they help themselves.” 172

And these verses were also from the Makkah-period.

And due to the fact that his Da’wah was this way, then the oppressors were not pleased with him, for even a single day. Nor did they become accustomed to him nor were their eyes cooled (i.e. relaxed) with his Da’wah. Rather, their uprising took place and their revolt occurred. And how often did they attempt to negotiate with him yet he stood up proud, seeing their falsehood and their gatherings, in which they plotted against him. So he rose up due to his enthusiasm for their (complete) guidance as opposed to meeting them halfway (i.e. compromising) with their falsehood, or fearing a small amount of that which they desired or loved of their falsehood. Rather, he used to say to them, after that and forever, whatever his Lord commanded him to say:

Say to those who disbelieve: “You will be defeated and gathered together to Hell, and worst indeed is that place to rest.” 173

173 Āl-’Imrān, 12.
And the Shaykh, 'Abdur-Rahmān ibn Hasan said, after mentioning some of the stances of the companions of the Prophet ﷺ in making known (their religion) and standing firm, “So this was the condition of the companions (Ṣaḥābah) of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ and that which they faced from the Mushrikīn from severe harm. So where is this from the condition of those who have fallen into tribulation (Fītnah), who rush to the falsehood, and submerge themselves in it, while going forwards and backwards, and loving, and cozying-up to, and inclining towards, and glorifying, and praising it? So they most closely resemble what Allāh, the Most High, said: And if the enemy had entered from all sides (of the city), and they had been exhorted to AlFītnah (tribulations, trials) they would surely have committed it and would have hesitated thereupon but little. 174

We ask Allāh, the Most High, to keep us firm upon the Islām and we seek refuge from the tribulations, which lead astray, from what is apparent and what is hidden. And it is well known that those who entered into Islām and believed in the Prophet ﷺ concerning that which he came with; if they did not have disavowal (Barā’ah) towards the Shīrkh and its people and hatred of the Mushrikīn due to their religion and their disgust with their gods, then they (i.e. Quraysh) would not have openly attacked them with these various types of harm.” 175

- The Shaykh, Hamad ibn ‘Atiqa, said in his discussion regarding the chapter (Ṣūrah) of “The Disavowal from the Shīrkh” (i.e. Al-Kāfirūn), “So Allāh commanded His Messenger ﷺ to say to the disbelievers (paraphrasing), ‘Your religion, which you are upon; I have disavowal (Barā’ah) from it. And my religion, which I am upon; you have disavowal (Barā’ah) from it.’ And the intent was to clearly declare to them that they were upon disbelief (Kufr) and that he had disavowal from them and from their religion. So it is upon those who follow the Prophet ﷺ to say that and he would not be openly showing his religion without that. And for this (reason), when the companions (Ṣaḥābah) became aware of that and the polytheists (Mushrikīn) harmed them, he ordered them to perform the emigration (Al-Hijrah) to Abyssinia (Al-Habashah). And if he were able to find for them any concession [(Rukhsah) i.e. reduction in the strictness of this order], such as remaining silent upon the polytheists (Mushrikin), then he would not have ordered them with the emigration to that foreign land.”

Here is a doubt (Shubhah), which is often repeated by those who do not understand the Millah of Ibrāhīm (The Religion of Ibrāhīm) nor do they grasp what it includes; such as the saying of many of the ignorant people, that the Millah of Ibrāhīm is abrogated for us (i.e. our nation). And they use the idols, which were around the Ka‘bah that he ٍّٓ ٍّٓ ٍّٓ did not break, during his lengthy stay in Makkah, during the time of weakness, as evidence for that (i.e. claimed abrogation). And this has reached the point where I heard one of them – and he is from the well-known Shaykhs (Mashāyikh), whose books have filled the bookstores – in a recorded lesson of his, arrogantly stating and claimed what summarizes as, “Verily, the Messenger ﷺ was the first one to turn away from the Millah of Ibrāhīm, which you hope for, because he sat in Makkah for thirteen years amongst those idols while not destroying them…” So we say to him and the likes of him, “Verily, that which prevented you from understanding the Millah of Ibrāhīm and knowing it, is the deflation of your understanding and the restrictive nature of the horizons of your intellect, by your restricting it (i.e. the Millah) to only breaking the idols and your assumption that the Millah of Ibrāhīm, which we refer to, is derived from, and would only be in the form of his (i.e. the Prophet’s) ٍّٓ ٍّٓ ٍّٓ action in attacking his people’s idols by striking them with his (actual) right (hand), causing them to crumble into pieces; all but the largest one, in hopes that they would return to him (and blame that large idol). And when it was not affirmed, with you, that the Messenger of Allāh ٍّٓ ٍّٓ ٍّٓ did that with the idols of his people, this entire Millah became abrogated for us, according to your restricted views and that it does not apply to us in any way. And from there, your claim necessitates (the same abrogation) from all of what came from the aforementioned verses, such as the encouragement upon following the Millah of Ibrāhīm and the warning against turning away from it and the explanation of the Da’wah of Ibrāhīm ﷺ and those who believed with him and their stance against their peoples and the stances of the Prophets and others with their peoples. (Therefore) all of this would be meaningless and redundant and of no use, nor would there be any benefit in it and (accordingly) there would be no benefit from it being in the Book of Allāh. Glory be to You, our Lord. This is a great lie! And may Allāh be merciful to Ibn Al-Qayyim, as he said:

Whoever has this amount as the limit of his knowledge Then he should shield himself with silence and concealment.

And may Allāh, be far removed and high above being (described) without purpose and from there being in His, the Majestic and Most High’s, Book, something which holds no benefit in its mentioning. And the likes of these errors are not from the doubts (Shubuhāt), which deserve a lengthy refutation or explanation and they are nothing but contradictions in the minds of the people, which stood between their understandings of this great Millah, with its explanations. Especially while you have learned from what has passed, the Millah of Ibrāhīm, and what it includes and what is intended by it. And that it is the (very) foundation of Islām and the meaning of ‘Lā ilāha ilAllāh’ and that therein, is what this phrase encompasses from the negation and the affirmation. And they are the disavowal (Barā’ah) from the Shirk and its people, while openly showing enmity towards them with the sincerity in the worship of Allāh alone, and the allegiance to His supporters (Awliyā’). And you have learned that this is the basis of the religion. Therefore it is decisive legislation and even if every scholar (‘Ālim) or ignorant one (Jāhil) from all the places (of the world) were to unite, then they could not refute it at all with any argument. And we have clarified for you that Allāh, the Most High, mentioned for us, the condition of Ibrāhīm ﷺ and those who were with him from the believers with their people and how they had disavowal from them while openly showing enmity and hatred towards them and that He, Glory be to Him, said immediately prior to mentioning this stance of theirs:
Indeed there has been an excellent example for you in Ibrāhīm and those with him... 177

And He, Glory be to Him, also said after that:

Certainly, there has been in them an excellent example for you to follow, for those who look forward to (the Meeting with) Allāh and the Last Day. 178

Then He, Glory be to Him, said – and focus upon what He said:

And whosoever turns away, then verily, Allāh is Rich (Free of all wants), Worthy of all Praise. 179

And you have also learned that this is the basis of the Millah of Ibrāhīm, which we refer to and which we call to and we see most of the Earth’s population having defects in it. And you have learned that this is the path wherein lies the victory for Allāh, the Powerful, the Majestic, and the making of His religion to be supreme while belittling the Shirk and its people. And if the issue were like that, (i.e. he actually meant what his statement implied) then the refutation upon this path would be that this Shaykh corrects his aforementioned statement by saying, “Verily, the Prophet remained for thirteen years in Makkah amongst those idols and he did not have disavowal from them, nor did he openly show his disbelief in them nor the enmity towards them.” It would be said to him after that, “Consider yourself a Christian or a Jew or a Zoroastrian or whatever you wish. As for the religion of Islām, then say to it, ‘Alayk As-Salām (i.e. good-bye).”

177 Al-Mumtahinah, 4.
178 Al-Mumtahinah, 6.
179 Al-Mumtahinah, 6.
And we say: As for the real belittling and its manifestation such as what Ibrāhīm did, it is authentic from the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم that he did something of that (i.e. breaking the idols) when he was able to and capable of, while the disbelievers (Kuffār) of Quraysh were unaware. And I am not referring to after the conquest (Fath), rather in Makkah, during the time of weakness, as narrated by Al-Imām, Ahmād and Abū Ya’lla and Al-Bazzār, with a Ḥasan chain from ‘Ali ibn Abī Tālib, may Allāh be pleased with him who said, “The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم and I went out until we came to the Ka‘bah. So the Messenger of Allāh صلى الله عليه وسلم sat for me and said, ‘Climb upon my shoulders.’ He (i.e. ‘Ali) said, ‘So I climbed upon his shoulders.’ He (i.e. ‘Ali) said, ‘So he stood up with me.’ He (i.e. ‘Ali) said, ‘So it seemed to me that if I wished, I could have reached the horizon of the sky, until I climbed upon the house (i.e. Ka‘bah) upon which, were copper or brass statues. So I would engage it on its right and its left and in front and behind it, until I was in control of it. The Messenger of Allāh صلى الله عليه وسلم said to me, ‘Now throw it!’ So I threw it and it shattered like a broken bottle. Then I got down and the Messenger of Allāh صلى الله عليه وسلم and I left, racing until we would hide amongst the houses, due to the fear that someone from the people would discover us.”

And Al-Haythami made a chapter for it in Mujmi’ Az-Zawā’id: “Chapter – His صلى الله عليه وسلم’s Breaking of the Idols.” And he mentioned in the narration, “Upon the Ka‘bah were idols so I went to lift the Messenger of Allāh صلى الله عليه وسلم but I was unable to. So he lifted me, them I began breaking them.” And in a narration he added, “Then afterwards they were no longer placed on top,” meaning any of those idols. He said, “All of the men of them are trustworthy.” And Abū Ja’far At-Tabari mentioned it in Tahthīb Al-Āthār and he discussed some of the juristic (Fiqhi) benefits from it. 180

And for this (reason), we are never uncomfortable from the saying that this also is asked from us in the condition of ability during times of weakness and other than it, whether that idol is a statue or a grave or a Tāghút or an institution or other than that, according to their various different forms (of idolatry), in every time and place. And I mean by that, the Ḥijād and the fighting, as that is the highest level of openly showing the enmity and hatred towards the enemies of Allāh.

Yet despite that, we say that even if we were to concede, for the sake of argument, that the smashing of the idols in Makkah, during the period of weakness was not authentic from the Prophet ﷺ, then he, may the blessings of Allāh and His peace be upon him, would still have been a follower of the Millah of Ibrāhīm with the utmost following, adhering to it with strength, as he did not, for a single moment, cozy-up to the disbelievers (Kuffār), nor did he remain silent upon their falsehood, nor upon their gods. Rather, his entire focus and efforts in those (first) thirteen years – furthermore, even during other than these (years), was:

"Worship Allāh, and avoid the Tāghūt." 181

So the fact that he sat amongst them for thirteen years, does not mean that he praised or commended them or took some kind of oath upon respecting them, as is done by many of the ignorant ones, who attribute themselves to the Da‘wah, towards the modern Yāsiq of this era (i.e. the constitution of the apostate governments). Rather, he used to declare his open enmity and disavowal towards the polytheists (Mushrikīn) and their deeds and show his disbelief in their gods, despite his weakness and the weakness of his companions. And we have explained this for you in what has passed. And when you consider the Makkah-period of the Qur‘ān, much of this will become clear to you. From it, for instance, His, the Most High’s statement in describing the condition of His Prophet ﷺ in Makkah towards the disbelievers:

181 An-Nahj, 36.
And when those who disbelieve see you, they take you not except for mockery (saying): “Is this the one who talks (badly) about your gods?”
While they disbelieve at the mention of the Most Beneficent (Allâh). 182

Ibn Kathîr said, “They meant, ‘Is this the one who swears at your gods and ridicules your intelligence?’ to other than that.”

And also herein, for you, is what came in the Musnad of Imâm Ahmad, as well as others, with an authentic chain, concerning his description and his condition in Makkah during the time of weakness. Contemplate it and understand it and look how the disbelievers (Kuffâr) described our Prophet as swearing at their gods and ridiculing their intelligence. And observe them well as they surrounded him, alone by himself, and they forced his acknowledgment of what he said, by saying to him, “Are you the one who says such-and-such and such-and-such?” So he would reply to them without any cozying-up to, or terror, or fear, or apprehension; rather with full stability and firmness and clarity, “Yes, I am the one who says that.”

‘Abdullâh ibn Ahmad ibn Hanbal said, “Narrated to me, my father, that Ya’qûb said, ‘My father told us from Ibn Is’hâq, who said Yahyâ ibn ‘Urwah ibn Az-Zubayr told me from his father from ‘Abdullâh ibn ‘Amr al-‘As, who said:
What is the worst act of enmity that the Quraysh had done against the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ?” He replied, “I went to Al-Hijr one day, and their dignitaries were there talking about the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ…”
So they said, “We never tolerated a man like the way we did Muḥammad… He has mocked our elders, cursed our forefathers, criticized our religion, divided our community, and attacked our gods! We indeed have been very patient with him regarding a grave matter.”

182 Al-Anbiyâ’, 36.
While they were at that state, the Messenger of Allāh (PBL) came walking to Ar-Rukn. Then he went around the Ka’bah (making Tawāf three times). When he passed by them, they started to mock him by repeating some of his (own) sayings. I looked at the Prophet and could see the anger in his face. And when he passed by them the second time, they mocked him again, and I saw the anger in his face (once more)- then he walked (away). Then when he passed by them for the third time and they had mocked him again – the Prophet (PBL) replied:

“O people of Quraysh! Hear this: By Him in Whose Hand is the soul of Muhammad- I have come to you, to slaughter you.”

His words struck them so severely, that there wasn’t any man from amongst them, except it was as if there was a bird falling upon his head (i.e. they were shocked, terrorized, and dumbfounded) – such that even the one who was the most wickedly harsh against the Prophet before this, was saying the most kind and tender words he could think of; such that even one of them said, “O Abul-Qāsim (Muhammad): Go! Go, O righteous one! Indeed, By Allāh, you are not ignorant!” So the Messenger of Allāh left.

The next day, they gathered together to meet at Al-Hijr and I was with them. They asked each other, “Do you remember what he said to you, and what you said to him? To such a degree, that he manifested to you that which you hate, yet you let him go!” So when they were in this state, the Messenger showed up again. So they all immediately surrounded him, and interrogated, “Are you the one who is mocking our gods and our religion?” The Prophet replied, “Yes. I am the one who says these things.”

I saw one of them (beginning to) pull the garment of the Prophet, but Abū Bakr jumped and stood between them and him. While crying, Abū Bakr said, “Would you kill a man because he says: My Lord is Allāh” [Ghāfir: 28]

Upon that, they left him. This was the worst thing I saw from the Quraysh against the Prophet (PBL).”

183 #7,036 from Al-Musnad with the verification (Tahqīq) of Ahmad Shākir, who said, “Its chain is Sahīh.” And it is as he said.

Trans. Note: Refer to Al-Musnad (11/203). Ahmad Shākir also mentioned that it is narrated by Ibn Hajar Al-Haythami in Mujma’ Az-Zawā‘id (6/15-16), and was pointed to by Ibn Hajar Al-’Asqalānī in Al-Fat’h (7/128), and Ibn Kathir mentioned that it was narrated by Al-Bayhaqi in At-Tārikh (3/46).
Millat Ibrāhīm
(The Religion of Ibrāhīm)

And in another narration, also within Al-Musnad, 184 that the Prophet ﷺ was praying at the Ka’bah at the second instance when ‘Uqbah ibn Abī Mu’īt came and grabbed the shoulder of the Prophet ﷺ and twisted his cloak (Thawb) around his throat and strangled him with a severe strangling. So Abū Bakr, may Allāh be pleased with him, came forward and repelled him from the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ saying, “Would you kill a man because he says, ‘My Lord is Allāh,’ while coming to you with clarifications from his Lord?”

So contemplate the condition of the Prophet ﷺ whom the angels described in Sahīh Al-Bukhārī (saying) that: “He ﷺ divided the people.” Contemplate this condition of his, with the disbelievers (Kuffār) of his time, and how it was open enmity to all those who were enemies of the religion and a splitting of the path with clear disavowal (Barā’ah). And it was nowhere near the improper conditions of the people of our time from the inclination towards the people of falsehood from the people of the religion. They cozy-up to them and they make things nice for them. Furthermore, they even support them and give victory to them. And the issue is not considered (by them to be) an issue of enmity and disavowal. Rather, (they considered it) to be mutual cooperation and joining forces for the good of the nation and the society, while they sit in their laps and they suckle from their milk. So Allāh is the One from Whom we seek help.

• The Shaykh, ‘Abdur-Rahmān ibn Hasan said, while discussing these types of people, “They wallow in the hardship of tribulation (Fitnah) while their hearts have become relaxed towards the people of oppression (Thulm) and wrongdoing. And they frequently visit them and approach them willingly and voluntarily until they become affected by that which is in their hands from the vanities of this worldly life (Dunyā), both secretly and openly. So where is the heart, which is calm with faith (Imān) if its claimant flows with the desires of every field? So how much does this resemble the condition of this one and the likes of him, with the type who were mentioned by the 'Allāmah, Ibn Al-Qayyim, may Allāh be merciful to him, while they are the ones who have the fullest share of His, the Most High’s, statement: Think not that those who rejoice in what they have done (or brought about), and love to be praised for what they have not done,- think not you that they are rescued from the torment, and for them is a painful torment. 185 They become pleased with that which they have from innovation (Bid’ah) and astrayness, while they love to be praised for the following the Sunnah and sincerity. And this is (found) often in those who have strayed from the straight path, from those who are attributed to knowledge and worship.” 186

• And here is an issue wherein there could be some misunderstandings from some people. And it is how the reconciliation would take place between his ⲳ𡴤𡴩𡴥𡴦𒈤 and others, and between His, the Most High’s statement:

And insult not those whom they (disbelievers) worship besides Allāh, lest they insult Allāh wrongfully without knowledge. 187

So we say, and with Allāh is the successful achievement (Tawfīq), that all of what we have mentioned in what has passed, from the explanation of the Millah of Ibrāhīm, such as making their false gods (appear) disgusting and making them (appear) vulgar while belittling their status; even if some call this a swear, it is not (really) a swear in-and-of-itself. Rather, the basis of its purpose it clarifying the Tawhīd to the people. And that comes:

• By demonstrating the falsehood of the devout servitude (Ulūhiyyah) to these various, claimed lords, and the disbelief in them, while clarifying their falseness to the creation. Like in His, the Most High’s, statement:

185 Al-'Imrān, 188.
186 Ad-Durar As-Saniyyah, Volume of Jiḥād, page 127.
187 Al-An‘ām, 108.
Verily, those whom you call upon besides Allâh are slaves like you. So call upon them and let them answer you if you are truthful. Have they fit wherewith they walk? Or have they hands wherewith they hold? Or have they eyes wherewith they see? Or have they ears wherewith they hear? Say: “Call your (so-called) partners (of Allâh) and then plot against me, and give me no respite! Verily, my Walî (Protector, Supporter, and Helper, etc.) is Allâh Who has revealed the Book (the Qur‘ān), and He protects (supports and helps) the righteous. And those whom you call upon besides Him (Allâh) cannot help you nor can they help themselves.” 188

And the saying of Ibrâhîm, يَهْضِبُ:

When he said to his father: “O my father! Why do you worship that which hears not, sees not and cannot avail you in anything?” 189

And His, the Most High’s, saying in Sûrat An-Najm:

Have you then considered Al-Lât, and Al-'Uzza And Manât, the other third? Is it for you the males and for Him the females? That indeed is a division most unfair! 190

And likewise is everything that came as a description of these gods, such as clarifying that they are not deserving of worship, or labeling them as “At-

188 Al-A’râf, 194-197.
189 Mariyam, 42.
190 An-Najm, 19-22.
Tāghūt”, or making their worship to be (referred to as) the obedience to the Satan (Ash-Šayṭān) and that they, and themselves, are from the fuel of the Hell-Fire and other than that.

- And likewise is the establishment of this Tawḥīd in actions, by openly showing the enmity and hatred towards them and the disavowal (Barā‘ah) from them and the disbelief in them, such as in His, the Most High’s, statement about Ibrāhīm:

\text{He said: “Do you observe that which you have been worshipping, you and your ancient fathers? Verily, they are enemies to me, save the Lord of the ’Alamīn (all that exists).”} \quad 191
\]

And His statement:

\text{He said: “O my people, I am indeed free from all that you join as partners in worship with Allah.”} \quad 192

…And that which is encompassed by the Sūrah of disavowal from the Shirk (i.e. Al-Kāfirūn), from meanings and other than that, which we have previously mentioned. So none of that enters beneath a swear in-and-of-itself, which was prohibited in the aforementioned verse, and about which, from its very nature would agitate the enemy and would put him down and dishonor him only, without any benefit or clarifications. So (this would lead) him to swear (back) at Allāh, the Powerful, the Majestic, out of transgression and ignorance, or maybe without any real intent (i.e. merely a reflex), especially those who believe in His Lordship (Rūbūbiyyah), such as the disbelievers of Quraysh did. \quad 193

And likewise is the situation regarding the slaves of the 191 Ash-Shu’ārah, 75-77.

192 Al-An‘ām, 78.
193 Trans. Note: It must not be understood from the words of the Shaykh, here that he excuses the swearing at Allāh or His Messenger ﷺ in cases where someone does so out of ignorance or transgression or without full intent. Rather, there is no doubt that a man who swears at Allah, the Most High, or His Messenger is guilty of the Major Disbelief (Kufr Al-Akbar), which takes one outside the religion of Islam, regardless of his motivation. And he has made this clear in his treatise on this very subject called As-Sārim Al-Maslūl 'Atha Shātim Ar-Rabb Awa Ad-Dīn Awa Ar-Rasūl, wherein he states, "Know that the one who swears at Allah or the religion or the Messenger is a disbeliever (Kāfir) apostate (Murtad), whether he does so jokingly or seriously, or whether he makes it lawful (Halāl) or if he says, 'I do not make this lawful (Halāl),' or whether he does so in a state of anger or calmness. And his blood and his wealth become lawful (Halāl), whether he is from those who attribute themselves to Islam, or if he is a Thāmī (non-Muslim paying tribute to the Muslims to live in their lands) or Mu‘āhid (someone with a treaty of non-hostility with the Muslims) of male or female…" [page 2]

And Shaykh Al-Islām, Ibn Taymiyyah, may Allah be merciful to him said, “Whoever swears at Allah and His Messenger out of mocking, while not being forced and whoever utters words of disbelief (Kufr) out of mocking, while not being forced and whoever makes fun of Allah and his signs (Āyāt) and His Messenger, then he is a disbeliever (Kāfir) on his inside and his outside. And those who say, ‘The one such as this may be a believer in Allah on the inside while merely a disbeliever (Kāfir) in his outside,’ – then surely he has uttered a saying of evil mischief in the religion (Dīn)” [Majmū’ Al-Fatāwa, Vol. 7/556].

And ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Aḥmad ibn ‘Abd al-Hānīf said, “My father (i.e. ‘Aḥmad) was asked about a man who said, ‘O son of so-and-so…’ (cursing at him, and adds) ‘…you, and whoever created you!’ My father said, ‘He is an apostate (Murtad) from Islām.’ I asked my father, ‘Do we cut his head off?’ He said, ‘Yes, we cut off his head.” [Majmu’ Al-Fatāwa, Vol. 7/209].

So unlike the Murji’ah of today, who scramble to find excuses for those who swear at Allah, out of ignorance, or anger, or from being raised improperly by one’s parents – which resulted from their (i.e. the Murji’ah’s) innovated principles of separating actions and statements from beliefs, as they affect faith (Īmān) – Ahl us-Sunnah wa’l-Jamā’ah hold this action itself to be a nullification of Islam.

As Shaykh Al-Islām, Ibn Taymiyyah said, “Verily, whoever swears at Allah or swears at His Messenger has disbelieved on the outside and the inside, whether the one who swears believes that is was unlawful (Harām) or he makes it permissible. And (this applies even if he) does not believe in the (validity) of that swear. This is the school of thought (i.e. opinion) of all the jurists and the rest of Ahl us-Sunnah; those who say, ‘Faith (Īmān) is statements and actions.” [Majmū’ Al-Fatāwa, Vol. 7/557].

But what Shaykh Abu Muḥammad is referring to here are those people who swear at Allah as a reflex action due to their taking offence to their false gods being insulted. And so although this case does not excuse the action from the point of view of declaring his disbelief (Takfīr), Yāsiq, as the Millah of Ibrāhīm necessitates warning about their Yāsiq and to have enmity towards it and hate it and call the people to disbelieve in it, and have disavowal (Barā‘ah) towards it and towards its supporters (Awliyā‘) and its slaves who stubbornly persist in ruling with it, by mentioning its defects and revealing its falseness and condemning its rulings and its clear clashing against the religion of Allāh, by its permitting of apostasy (Riddah) and interest (Rība) and making the committing of indecencies (Fāhišah) and wickedness (Fujūr) to be (committed) easily, by removing the penalties (Hudūd) of Allāh, such as the penalty (Hadd) for illicit sex (Zinā) or the slander or the theft or the consumption of alcohol and the substitution of these disbelieving, wicked laws in place of these great penalties (Hudūd) and the likes of that. And this (happens) frequently, so all of this (criticism) does not enter into what has been prohibited, even if the slaves of the Yāsiq and their custodians call it a swear or “Extending the Tongue.” ¹⁹⁴ Rather, the obligation – from what you have come to know in what has passed – is that the callers (Du‘āt) should openly show it and make it known. As far as swearing at them and at their rulers and their constitutions in-an-of-itself, the Shuykh’s point is that this man’s retaliatory swear was simply motivated due to his protective instincts (Ghīrah) towards his gods, as opposed to outright hatred of Allāh or His Messenger ﷺ.

He said: “O my Lord! Prison is more to my liking than that to which they invite me.” [Yūsuf, 33] which would lead to a development (i.e. their swearing at Allāh or His Shari’ah etc.), then this is what was prohibited because of what results from that such as these ignorant ones swearing at the one who swore, or at his religion and his path, even if they falsely and dishonestly attribute themselves to Islām, while bearing witness to the Lordship (Rūbūbiyyah) of Allāh and while they may even single Him out in some of the types of devoted servitude (Ullūhiyyah), other than in the ruling (Hukm) and legislation, as the interpreters (Mufassirūn) said:

\[\text{…lest they insult Allāh…}\]

In other words, they will swear at the One who ordered this swear. 195 So that would return back upon Allāh, out of ignorance and hostility without knowledge, just like a man could swear at the father of a man, so he would swear back at his father, and perhaps they were even two brothers from the same father. So the rage and the anger and the agitation alone, blinds the enemy from thinking and contemplating and causes it to swear (itself).”

Mūḥammad Rashīd Ridhā said in his Tafsīr, “The motivation upon the action here is the desire to swear, which is intended to belittle the one sworn at, because this one who swears doesn’t focus his intent except towards belittling the one whom he addressed with the swear.” This is contrary to penetrating the intellect. And the Da’wah and using it, while addressing and calling attention to the falseness of these gods and the fact that they can neither hear nor can they see nor do they harm nor do they benefit nor can they draw one nearer (to Allāh) nor can they intercede or even help themselves or their followers whatsoever. And contemplate the story of Ibrāhīm with his people and how he turned their attention towards the falseness of these claimed gods. And he consulted with them, not for the sake of mere revolt or belittling them, but instead so that they would think and to force their intellects to clash with that (i.e. the concept of their false gods). And contemplate how he exposed that issue of theirs while they turned away and opposed (his suggestion) and became confused. Therefore, at that point, he firmly said to them:

\[\text{Trans. Note: Look to Tafsīr Al-Tabarī.}\]
“Fie upon you, and upon that which you worship besides Allāh! Have you then no sense?”

And if you contemplate the statement of 'Abdullāh ibn 'Amr, the narrator of the aforementioned Hadīth, when he mentioned the saying of Quraysh to the Prophet ﷺ, “Are you the one who says such-and-such and such-and-such?” He said, explaining that: Due to what reached them from him such as making their gods (appear) disgusting. Then the shaming, according to the Arabs; this is a swear or it is similar to a swear. And Ibn Taymiyyah, may Allāh, the Most High, be merciful to him, included this in his book (beneath), “Benefit: Clarification of the Types of Swears” and elsewhere. However, in such a situation, this is not a swear in-and-of-itself, as you have come to know, because the Prophet ﷺ had been establishing the Da’wah of Tawḥīd, which Allāh sent him with and with the Millah of Ibrāhīm, which He, Glory be to Him, commanded him to follow. And all of this (i.e. this very Da’wah to Tawḥīd) is a swear according to those polytheists (Mushrīkin). This is because it falsifies their religion and belittles their claimed gods by removing the attributes of devoted servitude (‘Ulūhiyyah) from them, which they had attributed to them. And this is the shaming of their gods, which they mentioned. And likewise, the attributing of misguidance to their fathers was not the starting of a development in-and-of-itself. Rather, it was to make them avoid their blind following and to forbid them from their following of them in their misguidance.

Al-Qāsimī narrated in his Tafsīr from Ar-Rāzī, his statement: “And in the verse is a chastisement of those who call to the religion so that they do not become preoccupied in that which contains no benefit as opposed to that which is sought. This is because describing these idols as inanimate objects, which can neither harm nor benefit attaining a goal, is sufficient to insult their devoted servitude (Ulūhiyyah). So there is no need, after that, to swear at them.” Yet at the same time, that does not please the disbelievers (Kuffâr) nor does it satisfy them, even if it is not a swear in-and-of-itself, because it is a shattering of their gods and disbelief in them. And for this (reason) they called it ‘a swear’, just as they called the description of their fathers with astrayness, ‘a swear’. As they said, “He has ridiculed our intelligence and swore at our fathers and made our religion (appear) vulgar while dividing our group and swearing at our gods.”

197 As-Sūrim Al-Maslūl ‘Ala Shātim Ar-Rasūl, page 528.

The Shaykh, Muhammad ibn ‘Abdul-Wahhâb said, within the second section of the six sections, which he mentioned from the biographical accounts (Sîrah) of the Prophet ﷺ, that when he openly swore at the religion and declared their knowledgeable ones to be ignorant; at that instance, they ‘raised their cloak (Thawb) to him and his companions from the shin of enmity’198 and they said, ‘He has ridiculed our intelligence and pointed out the defects of our religion and swore at our gods.’ And it is known that he ﷺ did not swear at ‘Īsa or his mother, nor to the Angels nor the righteous ones. But when he mentioned that they were not to be supplicated to, and that they could neither benefit nor harm, they considered this to be a swear.”

And the summary of that is that all of this does not enter into the unrestricted swearing, which Allâh prohibited in the (aforementioned) verse, nor is this what was intended by it, even if the disbeliever (Kâfir) ends up swearing at Allâh or the religion out of aggression because of the likes of it. So because of this, it is not for the Muslim to leave what Allâh has obligated upon him such as openly declaring the Tawhîd and outwardly showing the religion, because the swear in this case would not have come except for aggression, after being fully informed, due to his mentioning the arguments and the clarification. Otherwise, if we were to make judgments based upon that (i.e. offending the disbelievers), then we would have to leave our entire religion and we would have lowered ourselves due to the disbeliever’s black eyes (i.e. their evil) because all of it (i.e. the Da’wah) is based upon the basis of the faith (Īmân) in 198 Trans. Note: ‘Raised their cloak to him,’ is an expression meaning: ‘They thumbed their noses...’ etc.

Allāh and the disbelief in every Tāghūt. So beware, and form the analogy between the modern-day Tawāghīt, such as the constitutions and methodologies and laws and rulers and other than that, and do not restrict the meaning to the stone idols so as to cement something, which has not been restricted.

- So this rule, therefore, would only be correct in the permitted matters and the recommended matters, but not in the obligatory matters. So a single obligation from the various religious obligations, such as clarifying the Tawḥīd and making the religion of the polytheists (Mushrikīn) to be false, would not be left to cut off this path, as some may understand. And if we opened it up to that, then we would lose the whole of our religion. And for this (reason), Abū Bakr ibn Al-ʿArabī said, “The Second Issue: This indicates that it would be (fitting) that one who is justified in something, may give up his right, if (taking that right) would cause some harm in the religion. And in this (matter), there is a long pause (i.e. lengthy investigation of the matter), which sums up to this: If the right is obligatory, then it is to be taken in all cases. But if it is (merely) permitted, then this would be said (i.e. that it may be left in case of harm) and Allāh knows best.”

And Muḥammad Rashīd Ridhā said, “And from them... That which was narrated from Abī Mansūr, who said, ‘How is it that Allāh, the Most High, prohibited swearing at the one who deserves to be swore at, so that the One who does not deserve it would not be sworn at, while He has ordered us to fight them, and that if we fight them, they will certainly fight us back, which would result in the believer being killed unjustly or (without) him having committed any evil? And likewise, the Prophet ﷺ ordered to convey and to recite upon them, even if they disbelieve in it. So he responded to that by saying that swearing at their gods is permitted but it not obligatory, while fighting them is obligatory. And likewise is the conveyance and that which is permitted can be prohibited due to that which results from it and takes place due to it. But that which is compulsory (Fardh) will not be prohibited due to what results from it.”

And with the likes of that, comes the refutation upon those who used as evidence, what Al-Bukhārī narrated in his Sahīh, to falsify that which we mentioned from the obligation of openly showing the religion, which is that His, the Most High’s, statement: And offer your Salāt (prayer) neither aloud nor in a low voice... 200 was revealed while the Messenger of Allāh  was concealing himself in Makkah. So if he raised his voice, the polytheists (Mushrikūn) would hear and therefore they would swear at the Qur’ān, the One who revealed it and the one who came with it. And Allāh, the Most High, said: And offer your Salāt (prayer) neither aloud nor in a low voice...201 Do not raise your voice in your prayer (Salāt) so that the Mushrikūn will hear it, but do not lower it so that your companions will not hear it. And seek a path in between that.

So the Da’wah to Allāh was established and the religion of the Muslims became apparent along with their Da’wah to cast away the idols. And this became known to everyone in Makkah, along with their disavowal (Barā’ah) from them. And since the clarity and openness of the issue was like that, then leaving the loud recitation of the Qur’ān, in order to repel this harm, would not extinguish the light of the Da’wah and would not have had any negative effects upon it whatsoever. This is because the Qur’ān had spread in every place, despite the efforts of the polytheists (Mushrikūn). And the Millah of Ibrāhīm was openly declared to the point where everyone who openly declared his Islām was labeled with ‘the Sabian’ 202 in other words, the disbeliever in their religion and in their idols. And the issue was at the pinnacle of clarity and there was neither ambiguity in it nor any 202 Trans. Note: Ibn Kathīr, may Allāh be merciful to him, mentioned the different opinions regarding the Sabians and which of the scholars took these opinions, then he said: “And the most apparently correct saying, and Allāh knows best, is the saying of Muhājid and those who followed him, and Wahb Ibn Munabbah; that they are not on the religion of the Jews nor the Christians nor the Mushrikūn. Rather they are upon their Fitrah, and they have no established religion which they follow and possess. And due to this, the Mushrikūn used to label those who entered into Islām as As-Sāḥī (the Sabian), meaning, that he has left all of the other religions of the People of the Earth at that.” Tafsīr Al-Qur’ān Al-‘İthīm: 1/149 misunderstandings. Furthermore, the fact that raising the voice during the reciting of the prayer (Salāt), so that other than those praying would hear it, is not an obligation from the obligations of the prayer (anyway). So it is allowed to leave it in order to close this path (i.e. the swearing of the Mushrikīn). And this is an implementation of the same aforementioned rule, which is limited to the permissible matters and the recommended matters but not in the obligatory matters. So this is not (considered) leaving an obligation. Rather, is was sufficient for the Imām to allow those praying behind him to hear, which is what Allāh, the Most High, commanded His Messenger with in His statement:

...nor in a low voice... 203

In other words, for (the benefit of) your companions.

- And there is another doubt (Shubhah), which some people may use as evidence. And that is the sheltering of Abī Tālib towards the Prophet ﷺ which Allāh, the Powerful, the Majestic, bestowed favors upon him. As He said:

Did He not find you an orphan and gave you a refuge? 204

And likewise, the stories of safeguarding and security from the disbeliever (Kāfir) to the Muslim; and its examples are many. From that is what Al-Bukhārī narrated in his Sahīh from the safeguarding of Ibn Ad-Dughnah towards Abī Bakr, while in Makkah 205 and also An-Najāshī and his 205 Trans. Note: Referring to the Hadīth narrated by Al-Bukhārī from ‘Ā’ishah, may Allāh be pleased with her, wherein Ibn Ad-Dughnah met Abu Bakr, may Allāh me pleased with him, while he was performing the emigration to Abyssinia. Upon hearing that Quraysh had driven Abu Bakr away from his town, Ibn Ad-Dughnah said: “Ibn Ad-Dughnah said, “O protection of the Muslims, while he was upon Christianity prior to his Islam, and what resembles this. And the summary of this doubt is: How could the Muslim be pleased in the likes of these conditions with the sheltering and protection and safeguarding of the disbeliever (Kāfir), who opposes him in his beliefs and methodology? Doesn’t this negate the Millah of Ibrāhīm in terms of disavowal (Barā‘ah) from the polytheists (Mushrikīn)? So we say—and with Allāh is the successful achievement (Tawfīq): There is no contradiction between the aforementioned examples and between the Millah of Ibrāhīm and the Da‘wah of the Prophets and the Messengers. And this is because the issue is, as we have mentioned to you previously, is two distinct parts:

The First: The disavowal (Barā‘ah) from the false gods with the disbelief in the Tawāghit, which are worshipped besides Allāh, the Powerful, the Majestic.

The Second: Enmity towards the stubborn polytheists (Mushrikīn) who persist upon their falsehood. And we have mentioned to you previously also, that the first is required from the Muslim from the very outset of the path, without any lingering or delay. Rather, it is obligatory upon an assembly of the Muslims to openly declare and to make apparent and show it, so that the people will know the basis of the Da‘wah and so that it will become well known and therefore become a fundamental truth by which, everyone who enters into this religion is described with.

Abu Bakr, a man like you should not leave his home-land, nor should he be driven out, because you help the destitute, earn their livings, and you kip good relations with your kith and kin, help the weak and poor, entertain guests generously, and help the calamity-stricken persons. Therefore I am your protector. Go back and worship your Lord in your town.”

Trans. Note: Referring to the event of the first emigration (Hijrah) of the companions of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ who left Makkah and traveled to Abyssinia (Habashah) seeking a land in which they could practice their religion openly. Upon their arrival there, Quraysh sent a delegation to retrieve them and an audience with the King of Abyssinia was held to determine if they would be allowed to forcibly take the Muslims back to Makkah. After hearing the arguments of Quraysh, An-Najāshī asked to hear of the revelation, which had been sent to the Prophet of these emigrants. Upon hearing Ja‘far recite from Sūrat Mariyam, he said to Quraysh: “Verily, this and that which ‘Īsa came with come from the same ray of light. Go away, because, no by Allāh, I will not surrender them to you and they shall not be approached.” And this was prior to An-Najāshī’s Islam, while he was still a Christian. [Look to Ar-Raḥīq Al-Makhtoom, page 95; (Arabic Edition) publication of Dār As-Salām; Riyād 1414 H. & Seerat Ibn Hishām, Vol. 1/334-338].

As for the second, then this is not to be shown and openly declared until after they persist upon their falsehood and their enmity towards the truth and its people. So, for example, Abū Tālib; despite his remaining upon his disbelief (Kufr), he did not form any apparent enmity or hatred towards the truth or its people. Rather, it was the other way around, as he was a defending garment for the One of the truth and His Messenger ﷺ, just as Al-‘Abbās, may Allāh be pleased with him, described him in the Hadith of Al-Bukhārī. As he said to the Prophet ﷺ, “What have you benefited your uncle, as he used to look after you and support you and become angry for your sake…” – the Hadith. And (this applies) even if that were due to tribal loyalties (‘Asabiyyah) or due to ties of kinship. And review, for that, what the ‘Allāmah, Ash-Shinqiti mentioned concerning the support of the religion by a wicked man and through the ties of kinship or trough tribal loyalties (‘Asabiyyah) and the ties of lineage, despite the falsehood of these ties and the falsehood of the love, based upon this alone. 207 And the supporting evidence for that is that the likes of this supporter and safeguarder; the hope remains regarding his guidance and his following the truth up until the last moment, as long as he does not stand in the ranks of the enemies and those waging war against it. Rather, he stands in defense of some of its followers. Then what about if he added to that, the fact that he were one of the close relatives of the caller and is tied closely to him? And for this (reason), the Prophet  did not give up hope concerning the Da’wah of his uncle, who used to say:

By Allāh, they will not reach you with their groups
Until I have been buried quickly in the Earth.

So make your matter known. Have glad tidings of that and may your eyes be cooled by it.

And even before all of that, there is another issue, which is the first point and the most important subject in this matter. And that is how the Prophet ﷺ, despite the stance of his uncle, who defended him, he did not cozy-up to him as a price for his Da’wah and his religion. Rather, his uncle knew his ﷺ’s Da’wah and would hear of his enmity and his pointing out the defects of their false gods, while ridiculing their intelligence. And when Abū Tālib persisted in continuing that (i.e. Shirk), he, may the blessings of Allāh and His peace be upon him, neither cozied-up to him, nor did he step down from any matters of his religion in order to make it pleasant for his uncle’s heart, who used to protect him and support and shelter him. Rather, he declared his well-known statement: “By Allāh, I am no more able to leave that which I have been sent with than any of you are able to light a fire by the sun.” 208 And also, in the beginning and the ending, he ﷺ was not to have any ties with his disbeliever (Kāfir) uncle in terms of devotion or love. And he ﷺ is our leader (Qudwah) and our most noble example of His, the Most High’s, statement:

You will not find any people who believe in Allāh and the Last Day, making friendship with those who oppose Allāh and His Messenger, even though they were their fathers... 209 – the verse.

…despite his enthusiasm for his guidance. So that is one thing and the love and devotion is yet another thing. And the Prophet ﷺ, despite the support of his uncle and his protection of him and his defense of him, did not pray upon him the day he died. Rather, Allāh, the Powerful, the Majestic, prohibited him from even seeking forgiveness for him on the day when He revealed to him:

208 As it is narrated in At-Tabarānī and elsewhere.
209 Trans. Note: Al-Mujādilah, 22.
It is not (proper) for the Prophet and those who believe to ask Allāh′s Forgiveness for the Mushrikūn... 210 – the verse.

And there was no effect upon him, may the blessings of Allāh and His peace be upon him, when ʿAlī, may Allāh be pleased with him, said to him, “Verily, your old misguided uncle has died, so who shall bury him?” except that he said to him, “Go and bury him.” 211

And likewise this is also said about the family of Shuʿayb, who used to stand between him and the disbelievers (Kuffār). He, the Most High, said informing about the enemies of His Prophet:

Were it not for your family, we should certainly have stoned you... 212

...while they were (themselves) disbelievers. And likewise, the Prophet of Allāh, Sāliḥ ʿṣrānā and his guardian whom the disbelievers (Kuffār) used to fear:

They said: “Swear one to another by Allāh that we shall make a secret night attack on him and his household, and afterwards we will surely say to his guardian: ‘We witnessed not the destruction of his household, and verily! We are telling the truth.’” 213

• Furthermore, there is a clear difference that must be understood and considered. (And this is the difference) between the disbeliever (Kāfir) assisting the Muslim or safeguarding him while supporting him and protecting him or helping him individually, when the Muslim is not seeking refuge with him nor does he disgrace himself by begging (for help) – rather the disbeliever (Kāfir) only does that from himself out of being motivated by tribalism or loyalties or relation or other than that – and (on the other hand) between the Muslim seeking that from him, with his request holding a type of humiliation and degradation and cozying-up (to them) or approval (of them) while remaining silent upon some of their falsehood or being satisfied with their polytheism (Shirk). There is no doubt that the difference between the two situations is clear and obvious, which would not be hidden from the one who has foresight. And if you contemplate these examples (i.e. Abū Tālib, An-Najāši etc.) you would find them from the first category. And Abū Ja’far At-Tahāwī has some eloquent words, which resemble these, 214 wherein he differentiated between seeking the support of the Mushrikīn during warfare and the fact that this was from what Allāh, the Most High has prohibited in his statement:

O you who believe! Take not as (your) Bitānah (advisors, consultants, protectors, helpers, friends, etc.) those outside your religion since they will not fail to do their best to corrupt you. They desire to harm you severely. 215 – the verse.

…and between their fighting on their own against the enemies of the Muslims without being requested (to do so), and the seeking of help by the Muslims themselves. So review that, as it is beneficial in this topic. And likewise was the safeguarding of Ibn Ad-Dughnah towards Abī Bakr as all if that was from this type.

And included in that also, is the maintaining of the ties of kinship with the polytheist (Mushrik) parents, while treating them well and uniting their hearts (i.e. maintaining the good filings), as long as the hope for their being influenced by their son, and their following of the truth, which he invites to, remains and is possible. (And this continues) as long as they are connected to their child, even if they strive for him to make Shirk with Allâh, as long as they do not stand in the ranks with the enemies who wage war against, and who prevent (people) from, the path of Allâh. So if they do that, then he shows his disavowal (Barâ'ah) to them openly, just as Ibrâhîm did to his father when it became clear to him that he was an enemy to Allâh. Furthermore, (in this case) he is to take them as enemies and fight them just like Abu 'Ubaydah and others from the Sâlîbah did at Badr. 216 So as we said earlier, Ibrâhîm used to unite the hearts (i.e. maintain good filings) with his father and invite him by good means with leniency, while openly showing his enthusiasm for his guidance and his fear of Allâh’s punishment towards the supporters (Awliyâ’) of the Shaytân. But when his (i.e. Ibrâhîm’s father’s) clear enmity towards Allâh became clear to him, he (i.e. Ibrâhîm) became disavowed from him and secluded himself from him. And He, Glory be to Him, made the exception for us, in the following of Ibrâhîm and those who were with him, in Sûrat Al-Muntanhinah, in that he sought forgiveness for his father. But He prohibited the believers, in Sûrat At-Tawbah, from seeking forgiveness for the Mushrikîn, even if they were from the people of closeness to them. Then He said about Ibrâhîm:

216 Trans. Note: Al-Hâfîth, Ibîn Kathîr said in his Tafsîr of Sûrat Al-Mujâdilah, “And Sa’îd ibn ‘Abdul-Azîz and others said, “This verse: You will not find any people who believe in Allâh and the Last Day... [Al-Mujâdilah, 22] – to its end, was revealed concerning Abî ‘Ubaydah ‘Amr ibn ‘Abdullâh Al-Jarrah, when he killed his father on the Day of Badr. And because of this, ‘Umar ibn Al-Khattâb, may Allâh be pleased with him, said, when he left the decision after him to the consulting council (Shûrah), between the six (men), ‘And if Abu ‘Ubaydah were alive, then I would have made him the Khalîfah.’ And it is said about His, the Most High’s statement: ‘...even though they were their fathers...’ that it was revealed for Abî ‘Ubaydah on the Day of Badr. ‘...or their sons...’ for As-Sîdîq (i.e. Abû Bakr) who attempted to kill his son, ‘Abdur-Rahmân, on that day ‘...or their brothers...’ for Mus’ab ibn ‘Umayr who killed his brother, ‘Ubayd ibn ‘Umayr on that day ‘...or their kindred (people)...’ for ‘Umar, who killed a relative of his on that day as well as for Hamzah and ‘Alî and ‘Ubaydah ibn Al-Jarrah, who killed ‘Utba and Shaybâh and Al-Walîd ibn ‘Utba on that day. So Allâh knows best.” [Tafsîr Ibîn Kathîr, Vol. 4/422; publication of Dâr Al-Fâyhâ, Damascus and Dâr As-Salâm, Riyâdîh, 2nd Edition, 1418 H.]
And his [Ibrāhīm's] invoking (Allāh) for his father's forgiveness was only because of a promise he had made to him (his father). But when it became clear to him that he (his father) is an enemy to Allāh, he dissociated himself from him. Verily Ibrāhīm was oft remembering and was forbearing. 217

And from it was His, the Most High's, statement:

And argue not with the people of the Scripture (Jews and Christians), unless it be in (a way) that is better...

Then He, Glory be to Him, made the exceptions:

...except with such of them as do wrong... 218

And likewise was the security of An-Najāshī towards the emigrants (Muhājjīrīn). And refer to the story of Ja’far and his stance, may Allāh be pleased with him, concerning his making his religion and his beliefs known regarding ’Īsa, which contradicted the religion of the one who they were amongst (i.e. An-Najāshī), despite his (i.e. Ja’far’s) weakness and those who were with him, and despite his entering into his protection (Amān). However, An-Najāshī wept when he heard the words of Allāh being recited and openly showed his support and acceptance and he gave them security so that they were able to openly show their religion and their beliefs to everyone. So the Islām of An-Najāshī and those who entered into Islām from the people of Abyssinia (Habashah) was due to the successful achievement (Tawfiq) from Allāh, the Most High, and then due to their openly showing their religion. May Allāh, the Most High, be pleased with them all. And review for a refutation of this doubt (Shubhah) and a demonstration of its falsehood, the treatise Al-Mawrid Al-‘Athb Az-Zalāl, 219 by the Shaykh, ‘Abdur-Rahmān ibn Hasan, son the Shaykh, Muhammad ibn ‘Abdul-Wahhāb, may Allāh be merciful to them all, from the same volume, as it is valuable in refuting this doubt (Shubhah). And (it is also beneficial in refuting) another doubt, which is their using “The Believers from the Family of Pharaoh” as evidence. 220

• And the summary of the saying concerning all of that is that the enmity towards the people of falsehood and openly showing disavowal (Barā’ah) to them and their so-called gods and their false religions and their rotten laws, is a great principle and a well-founded pillar in the Da’wah of the Prophets and the Messengers. And it is, as you have come to know, a clear (Muhkam) legislation, which is based upon the foundation of the religion of Islām and its basis. So if all the Earth’s people united in order to refute it and (attempt) to demonstrate its falsehood, then they would not have been able to do so. And those who oppose it, are unable to find evidence, as you have seen, other than these types of limited, individual issues, which have no generality, according to the majority of the principle-oriented scholars (Usūliyīn) and the people of research. Rather, they are in-and-of-themselves cast upon this restrictiveness and limitation. And so if it is established that this path is a great clear (Muhkam) foundation, then these partial evidences and others fall into that which is erroneously used by the opposition, with self-contradiction and ambiguity, which necessitates our referral to what is clear (Muhkam). As opposed to the Book of Allāh clashing against itself or the Sunnah of Al-Mustafā [i.e. the Prophet ﷺ] doing likewise. So pay attention and do not be tricked by the doubts of those who deceive.

“And likewise, it is a must for the people of the Da’wah to stand up to their people with a stance of utter separation. And on the day that this separation takes place; the occurrence of Allāh’s promise of assistance to His supporters, along with the destruction of His enemies will also take place. Because throughout the history of the Da’wah to Allâh, Allâh did not ever separate between His supporters (Awliyâ’) and His enemies, except after His supporters separated themselves from His enemies, based upon their belief ('Aqîdah). So they (i.e. those who separated) chose Allâh alone, and the people of the Da’wah unto Allâh have an excellent example in the Messengers of Allâh and that they must have their hearts full of trust until they (i.e. their hearts) overflow with it. And it is upon them to trust in Allâh alone, in the face of the Tâghût, no matter who they are and the Tâghût will not harm them except for annoyances; a test from Allâh. (And this test is) not due to His inability, Glory be to Him, to give victory to His supporters, nor is it to just leave them to be surrounded by His enemies. Rather, it is a test by which the hearts and the ranks are purified. Then the opening will be returned to the believers and the promise of Allâh will take place for them with victory and establishment....” 221

And lastly, you must know that the people concerning this truth are of types:

- A man who is firm and who makes the Millah of Ibrâhîm and the religion of all the Messengers to be known according to its aforementioned description and he does not fear the blame of any blamers for (the sake) of Allâh. So this one is from the open Victorious Assembly (At-Tâ’ifah Al-Mansûrah), 222 while being a caller to the truth who mixes with the people and remaining patient with their harm. And he is the one who has won the honor of both abodes (i.e. this life and the hereafter). And he is the one about whom, Allâh said:

221 From Ath-Thilâl, with some rearrangement.

222 Trans. Note: As for the Hadîth of “The Victorious Assembly” (At-Tâ’ifah Al-Mansûrah), the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said, “There will never cease to be a movement (Tâ’ifah), from my nation (Ummah), establishing the order of Allâh. They are unharmed by those who betray them or oppose them, until the matter of Allâh arrives while they are dominant over the people.” – narrated by Muslim from Mu’awiyyah, may Allâh be pleased with him. And he ﷺ said, “And this religion (Dîn) will never cease to be established. A group (‘Isâbah) from the Muslims will fight upon that until the hour arrives.” - Narrated by Muslim from Jabir ibn Samurah.
And who is better in speech than he who says: “My Lord is Allāh,” and then stands straight, and invites (men) to Allāh and does righteous deeds, and says: “I am one of the Muslims.” 223

And he is the one meant in the Hadith, “The believer who mixes with the people while being patient upon their harm is superior…” 224

And the harm only takes place because he comes with what the Messengers came with. He neither cozies-up to the people of falsehood, nor does he incline towards them nor is he satisfied with their falsehood. Rather, he has disavowal (Barā‘ah) from them while openly showing enmity towards them and abandoning all that which assists them in their falsehood including their positions and their employment or careers or their paths. And whoever’s condition is this; he is not sinful for living in their society or their countries. And it is not obligatory upon him to emigrate away from any country he may be in. The Shaykh, Hamad ibn ‘Atiq said within his discussion about His, the Most High’s, statement:

Indeed there has been an excellent example for you in Ibrāhīm and those with him... 225 – the verse.

And the meaning of His statement: “…become openly seen...” in other words, made apparent and clear. And the intent is to clearly continuously show enmity and hatred towards those who unify their Lord. So whoever fulfills that, both in knowledge and action, while openly making it clear so that the people of his country perceive it from him, it is not obligatory upon him to perform the emigration away from whichever country he is in. But whoever is not like that, and yet he assumes that if he is left to pray and to fast and perform the pilgrimage (Hajj), that the (obligation of) emigration falls 223 Fusilat, 33.

224 Trans. Note: Narrated by Imām Ahmad and At-Tirmithi and others as mentioned earlier.
225 Al-Mumtażmah, 4.
off of him, then this one is ignorant of his religion, and he is someone who is unaware of the essence of the message of the Messengers…” 226

And this category of people; if they openly make the truth known and are thereafter threatened with being killed or tortured and yet there is no country, which they can emigrate to, then they have a good example in the people of the cave who withdrew with their religion and fled with it to the mountains. 227 And another example (for them) is in the companions of the trenches 228 who were burned (to death) in the path of their belief ('Aqidah) and their Tawhid. And they neither weakened nor did they surrender. And an example is the companions of the Prophet, who performed the emigration (Hijrah) and performed Jihad and fought and were killed. And your Lord is sufficient as a guide and a victor.

If it were not for them, it would have collapsed along with its people. But its unshakable mountains and its pegs were there.

And if it were not for them then darkness would have shrouded its people.

• Or a man who is at a lower level than the first, who is unable to take this path, which is surrounded by hateful things. And he fears for his religion and is unable to openly declare it. So he secludes himself with his provisions, with which he follows the streams and the paths of the mountains. He worships Allah and flees, with his religion, from the trials.

• Or a weak man who shuts his house upon himself and concentrates on his family (affairs) and strives to save them and to preserve them from the Shirk and its people and from a fire (i.e. Hell) whose fuel is men and stones. He avoids the disbelievers (Kuffur) and turns away from them and he does not show any satisfaction with their falsehood nor does he assist it in any way. And this is a must for the safety of his Tawhīd, that his heart remains calm with enmity and hatred for the Shīrkh and the Mushrikin. He awaits the removal of the preventing factor (of his leaving) and he waits for opportunities to flee with his religion and for the emigration (Hijrah), to a country, which has less evil and wherein he will be able to show his religion, such as the emigration (Hijrah) of the emigrants (i.e. the companions) to Abyssinia.

228 Trans. Note: As in the story of the Boy and the King mentioned earlier.

- Or another (type) would be one who openly shows the pleasure with the people of falsehood, while cozying-up to their lies and their misguidances. So this one has three different (possible) conditions, which the Shaykh, Ibn ‘Atiq mentioned 229 when he said:

“The First Condition: That he complies with them both internally and externally. So he is a disbeliever (Kāfir), whether he was compelled or not compelled. Therefore, he is from those about whom Allāh said: ...but such as open their breasts to disbelief, on them is wrath from Allāh, and theirs will be a great torment.” 230

“The Second Condition: That he complies with them and inclines towards them internally, while opposing them externally. Therefore, this one is also a disbeliever (Kāfir) and they are the hypocrites (Munāfiqīn).”

“The Third Condition: That he complies with them externally, while opposing them internally. And this is of two types; the first of which is he who does so due to the fact that he is under their power, while they beat him and hold him and threaten him with death. Therefore, he in such a condition is allowed to comply with them externally, while his heart is calm with faith

(The Religion of Ibrāhīm)

(Imān), as it happened with ‘Ammār. 231 He, the Most High, said: ...except him who is forced thereto and whose heart is at rest with Faith...” 232

I say: And it is a must for the one such as this, as we have mentioned beforehand, to continuously strive – just as the weak ones from the companions of the Prophet ﷺ – to flee with his religion and to continuously supplicate:

“Our Lord! Rescue us from this town whose people are oppressors; and raise for us from You one who will protect, and raise for us from You one who will help.” 233

Then he (i.e. Hamad ibn ‘Atūq) said, “And the second type is that he complies with them externally, while opposing them internally, without him being beneath their power. And instead, he was held upon that either by hope for authority or wealth or extreme devotion to one’s nation or family or fear of what may happen with his wealth. So he, in such a condition, would be an apostate (Murtadd) and his hatred for them internally would not benefit him. And he would be from those about whom Allāh said: That is because they loved and preferred the life of this world over that of the Hereafter. And Allāh guides not the people who disbelieve. 234 So He informed us that they were not held upon their disbelief (Kufr) because of ignorance or their hatred or their love of falsehood, rather it was only because they took a share from the shares of this worldly life (Dunya) and they put that ahead of their religion.” He said, “And this is the meaning of the words of Shaykh Al-Islām, Muhammad ibn ’Abdul-Wahhāb, may Allāh, the Most High, be merciful to him.”

231 Trans. Note: Referring to the story of ‘Ammār ibn Yāsir, may Allāh be pleased with him, and what occurred when the polytheists tortured him. This will be discussed further in an upcoming footnote.
232 An-Nahj, 106.
233 An-Nisā’, 75.
234 An-Nahj, 107.
I say: The meaning of the words of the Shaykh, Muhammad ibn ‘Abdul-Wahhāb, which Ibn ‘Atīq was referring to are present at many places within his books and his treatises. From them, for example, were his words:

“Know that the evidence for the declaration of disbelief (Takfīr) of a righteous Muslim, if he makes Shirk with Allāh or allies himself with the polytheists (Mushrikīn) against the monotheists (Muwahhidīn) while not making Shirk, is more than can be enumerated from the words of Allāh and the words of His Messenger and the words of the scholars (‘Ulamā). And I will mention a verse for you from the words of Allāh, which the people of knowledge formed consensus (IJmā’) upon its interpretation, saying that it refers to the Muslims, and that if a man says such a thing, then he is a disbeliever (Kāfir), no matter when it happens. He, the Most High, said: Whoever disbelieved in Allāh after his belief, except him who is forced thereto and whose heart is at rest with Faith... 235 – the verse. And in it (i.e. its interpretation) they mentioned that they (i.e. these people) chose this worldly life (Dunyā) over the life of the hereafter. So if the scholars (‘Ulamā) mention that it was revealed regarding the companions (Sahābah), when the people of Makkah put them through tribulation (Fitnah), while mentioning that if the companion uttered the words of Shirk upon his tongue while at the same time he hates that (i.e. Shirk) and has enmity towards its people, but only due to fear of them, then he is a disbeliever (Kāfir) after having faith (Imān).” 236

And this complies with the words of the Shaykh, Ibn ‘Atīq, which have passed as well as the words of Shaykh Sulaymān, which are forthcoming. And they are threatening words and I know for certain that if they were from my own words as opposed to being the words of these Imām scholars, it would have been said, “Khawārij!” and “Takfīr!” despite the fact that this verse is a clear text concerning that. And this issue differs from the matter of compulsion upon uttering disbelief (Kufr), wherein the one who utters it is excused. So we are among people who were neither compelled nor have they been beaten nor were they tortured. Rather, they were only held upon openly showing...

235 An-Nahl, 106.
236 Majmū‘at Ar-Risā‘il An-Najdiyyah, page 42.
the compliance and the allegiance with the polytheists (Mushrikīn), due to loving this worldly life (Dunyā) and the fear of (losing) it, as well as hope for wealth and extreme devotion to one’s dwellings; “The Land and the Prosperity,” as they say.

So this is prioritizing this worldly life (Dunyā) over the life of the hereafter and purchasing the luxuries of this life, which come to an end by throwing away the religion and the Tawhīd and the belief (‘Aqidah). Perhaps they shield themselves by invoking (the excuse) of compulsion and their claim that it was a necessity, while in reality they are not from its people (i.e. the compelled people). For this (reason), Allāh, the Most High, said in Sūrat Āl-‘Imrān, after He prohibited the allegiance towards His enemies and permitted the Tuqyah for the one who is actually compelled; He warned by saying:

And Allāh warns you against Himself (His Punishment), and to Allāh is the final return. Say: “Whether you hide what is in your breasts or reveal it, Allāh knows it…” 238

And He said in the verse, which directly follows it:

237 Trans. Note: His use of the word “Tuqyah” here, refers to making it appear as though the words of disbelief (Kufr) have been uttered, while being compelled or tortured or beaten etc., when in reality, what has been said is only interpreted or understood to be disbelief (Kufr) by the one who is compelling.

Imām Al-Qurtubi, may Allāh be merciful to him said, “Those who have studied in-depth from the scholars (‘Ulamā) have said, ‘If the compelled one utters disbelief (Kāfir), then it is not permitted for him to say upon his tongue (anything) except that which is slightly different than it. Because in that slight change, there is an option to deceive (i.e. to not utter actual Kufr) but whenever it is not like that (i.e. he has the option to alter the words, but chooses not to) then he is a disbeliever (Kāfir) because the compulsion would not have power over the slight changes to the wording.’ An example of that is if they say to him, ‘Disbelieve in Allāh! (Yakfur Billāh!),’ but instead he (i.e. the compelled one) says, ‘…Billāh,’ such that he adds the letter ‘Ya’. And likewise, if it is said to him, ‘Disbelieve in the Prophet! (Yakfur Ban-Nabī!),’ but instead he says, ‘I disbelieve in the ‘Nabi,’ stressing (the last part), which refers to the place which is elevated from the ground.” [Al-Jāmi‘ Li-Aḥkām Al-Qur’ān , Vol. 10/187.]

238 Āl-‘Imrān, 28-29.
On the Day when every person will be confronted with all the good he has done, and all the evil he has done, he will wish that there were a great distance between him and his evil. And Allāh warns you against Himself (His Punishment)...

And this is from the greatest threats of punishment and warnings towards those who contemplate the Book of Allāh and understand it. But whomever Allāh wishes to fall into tribulation (Fitnah); then you cannot control anything, regarding him, besides Allāh. That is because many of those who have no share in goodness use compulsion as an excuse, while they are not from its people. And the scholars (Ullamā) have mentioned conditions for the compulsion to be considered genuine. From them:

1. That the compeller is (actually) able to perform that which he is threatening to do and the compelled one, who is commanded, is unable to repel that even by fleeing.

2. That his assumption is certain that if he refuses, then he (i.e. the compeller) will put him into that (i.e. his threat).

3. That what he is being threatened with is immediate, such that if he were to say, “If you do not do such-and-such, I shall beat you tomorrow,” then he is not considered someone who has been compelled.

4. That nothing indicates the excessiveness of the one who is commanded, such as his exceeding (i.e. doing of saying even more) in that which would remove the trial (i.e. torture, beating etc.) from him.

• Just as they differentiated between that which the compelled one is threatened and frightened with, regarding the compulsion upon the disobediences and the compulsion upon uttering statements of disbelief (Kufr) or forming allegiance to the disbelievers and the likes of that, as they did not permit the second (type) except for the one who is tortured with a torment that he cannot endure. And they mentioned being killed or being burned with fire or the severing of limbs or eternal imprisonment and the likes of that. And ‘Ammâr, may Allâh be pleased with him, was the one whom the verses of Tuqyah were revealed about, and it is known that he did not say what he said except after seeing his mother and his father killed after he tasted several colors (i.e. experienced many types) of torture. 240 So his ribs were broken and he was harmed for Allâh’s sake.

240 Trans. Note: “And like that is when the polytheists (Mushrikûn) took ‘Ammâr, may Allâh be pleased with him, and they did not leave him alone (i.e. stop tormenting) him until he swore at the Prophet ﷺ and mentioned good things about their gods. So he came to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and was asked, “What has passed behind you?” He said, ‘Evil, O Messenger of Allâh. I was not left alone until I spoke badly about you and good things about their gods.’ So the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said, ‘How was your heart (when you said it)?’ He said, ‘I found my heart calm with Iman.’ He said, ‘If they return (to torment you), then you too return (to what you said).’” [Look to Hayât As-Sahâbah, Vol. 1/292]

And Ibn Hajar said, “And it is well known that the aforementioned verse (i.e. An-Nahîl, 106) was revealed for ‘Ammâr ibn Yâsîr as it has come from the path of Abî ‘Ubaydah ibn Muhammad ibn ‘Ammâr ibn Yâsîr, who said, ‘The polytheists (Mushrikûn) took ‘Ammâr and tortured him until he complied with them in some of what they wanted. So he complained about that to the Prophet ﷺ. So he said to him, ‘How did you find your heart?’ He said, ‘Calm with faith (Imân).’ He said, ‘Then if they return (to the torture) then return (to what you said).’ And it is Mursal, and its men are all trustworthy. And was narrated by At-Tabari and before him, ‘Abdur-Razzâq and from him, ‘Abd ibn Humayd.” [Fath Al-Bârî, Vol. 12/312]

And Shaykh Abu Basîr ‘Abdul-Mun’îm Mustafâ Halîmah said, “But those who commit Kufr under circumstances that are easy and then consider that to be from compulsion (and claim that it was only) due to torment, although it could have been easily endured with the least amount of patience and steadfastness – and then they use as their proof, the story of ‘Ammâr; they are (certainly) wrong and mistaken. This is because ‘Ammâr, may Allâh be pleased with him, went to them (i.e. his tormentors) in order to command (the good) and forbid (the evil) and they killed his two parents in front of his eyes and burnt him with fire and immersed him in water. So he gave them what they demanded (i.e. the swearing at the Prophet ﷺ).
with a severe harm, while most of those who use the excuse of Tuqyah from those who became corrupted in the tribulation (Fitnah) and drown in the falsehood and Shirk, were not even reached by a tenth of a tenth (i.e. 1%) from what reached him. But as we stated earlier, “Whomever Allāh wishes to fall into tribulation (Fitnah); then you cannot control anything, regarding him, besides Allāh.”

Add to this, the fact that the people of knowledge have mentioned within the chapters dealing with (the subject of) being compelled to utter words of disbelief (Kufr), that taking the ‘Azīmah (i.e. the more difficult path) while remaining patient upon the harm and hoping for the reward of Allāh, the Most High, is greater and far superior. 241 And here were the stances of the companions (Sahābah) and their followers and the Imāms, which bear witness to that. So with the likes of these stances, the making apparent and making the religion to be supreme would take place. And look to Sāhīh Al-Bukhārī; “Chapter: The One Who Chooses the Beating and the Killing and the Humiliation Rather than Disbelief (Kufr).” And the supportive evidences for that are more than what can be counted, such as the stance of Imām Ahmad during the tribulation (Fitnah) of “The Creation of the Qur’ān” 242, and others, are many. 243

241 Trans. Note: From the proof of this rule is the saying of Abī Ad-Darda’, “My beloved one advised me, ‘Do not associate anything with Allāh, even if you are mutilated and burned.’” [Narrated by Ibn Mājah and Al-Bayhaqi and authenticated by Shuykh Al-Albānī in Salāḥ Al-Targhīb, #566 and his saying, “Three (situations) - whoever is in them will taste the sweetness of faith (Imān)…” and from what was mentioned, “…that he would hate to return to disbelief (Kufr) like he would hate to be thrown into the Fire.” [Agreed upon].

242 Trans. Note: “The Fitnah of the Creation of the Qur’ān”, refers to the period wherein the Jamāhīriyah; those who denied the attributes of Allāh such as speech, innovated and called to the belief that the Qur’ān was not the spich of Allāh, rather it was His Creation. Imām Ahmad
And they mention His, the Most High’s, statement:

And of mankind are some who say: “We believe in Allāh,” but if they are made to suffer for the sake of Allāh, they consider the trial of mankind as Allāh’s punishment... 244

And likewise, they mention being offered the choice (of torture or showing Kufr) would negate it being compulsion and that this would be like the condition of Shu’ayb with his people, as they gave him the choice between returning to the disbelief (Kufr) or leaving their village. And for that (reason), they (i.e. those scholars) did not permit the responding with and making disbelief (Kufr) to be apparent in such a situation. And we only mention all of this so that the one whom Allāh has bestowed the virtues of intellect and Tawhīd upon him, would recognize the strangeness of the was from the foremost scholars of his time who opposed this belief and was subsequently beaten and imprisoned for this stance against their innovation.

243 Trans. Note: One example from the scholars of the predecessors (Salaf) is what occurred between Imām Ahmad ibn Hanbal and his contemporary, Yahyah ibn Ma’in; both of whom were great scholars from Āhl As-Sunnah Wal-Jamā’ah, during “The Fitnah of the Creation of the Qur’ān”. Shaykh Abu Basir ‘Abdul-Mun‘im Mustafa Halimah narrated: “And Yahyah ibn Ma’in during the days of the Fitnah of the creation of the Qur’ān - took for himself, the concession (Rukhsah) and took for himself, the excuse of fear and said, ‘The Qur’ān is created.’ And when he entered upon Imām Ahmad, may Allāh be merciful to him, while he was ill, he gave Salām to him but he (i.e. Imām Ahmad) did not return his Salām. So he (i.e. Yahyah ibn Ma’in) did not stop making excuses and repeating the Ḥadīth of ‘Ammār and saying, ‘Allāh, the Most High said: ...except him who is forced thereto and whose heart is at rest with Faith...’ So Ahmad turned his face away to the other side and Yahyah said, ‘He will not except any excuse.’ So when Yahyah left, Ahmad said (to his students), ‘He uses the Ḥadīth of ‘Ammār but the Ḥadīth of ‘Ammār is, ‘...I passed them and they were swearing at you (i.e. the Prophet ﷺ) so I forbade them (from that) and they beat me...’ whereas it is said to you (i.e. his students), ‘We want to hit you.’ So Yahyah said, ‘By Allāh, I have not seen anyone under the cover of the sky who is more knowledgeable in the religion (Din) of Allāh than you.’” [Qawā’id Fī At-Takfīr, pp. 68-69; publication of Dār Al-Bashir, ‘Ammān, 1415 H.]

244 Al-‘Ankabūt, 10.
Millat Ibrāhīm

religion in our time and the strangeness of its callers and its people who know it with real knowledge. And (also), that most of today’s people have entered into the religion of governments and the religion of the Tawāghīt, out of choice and with no real compulsion at all, and merely due to love of this worldly life (Dunyā) and its abodes and its wealth and its luxuries and its positions, ahead of the religion of Allāh as they cast it away and sell it for a miserable price. So beware from being like they are, such that you would become regretful.

• And with this (explanation), and the likes of it, the strangeness of the sayings of the Shaykh, Ibn Ṭātīq, concerning the one who complies with the Mushrikīn externally, while opposing them internally when he is not under their power, is removed. And rather he (i.e. the man who does this) was held to do this due to what was mentioned from the worldly life (Dunyā) and not due to compulsion. And his statement, “…while opposing them internally…” he means by that, and Allāh knows best, “…according to his claim (of opposing them)…” Otherwise, how could we know and see the reality of his inside in such a condition of his, except by the means of revelation, just like in the story of Hātib ibn Abī Balta‘ah. And Allāh, the Powerful, the Majestic, did not hold us responsible for the internal, rather we judge upon the external. So just as we withhold our swords from the one who conceals the hypocrisy (Nifāq), while openly showing the allegiance towards Islām, and while making its apparent practices (i.e. prayer, Hajj) etc. then likewise, we use them (i.e. our swords) upon the head of the one who makes the allegiance to the disbelievers to be apparent while entering their group and siding with them, even if he claims that he has Islām upon the inside. Because Allāh, the Powerful, the Majestic, has made our worship – according to the rulings of this life – to be external. And He, glory be to Him, alone is the One who is responsible for their insides. And He knows the truthful from the liar and so He holds the people accountable for their deeds and He will resurrect them upon their intentions. As in the Hadīth of the Mother of the Believers (i.e. ‘Ā’ishah), which is agreed upon, concerning the army, which sinks (into the Earth) while there are clear-sighted ones amongst them as well as those who are compelled. 245 So Allāh destroys them all in this life (Dunyā) and He will resurrect them upon their intentions on the Day of Resurrection. And this is the meaning of the saying of ‘Umar ibn Al-Khattāb, may Allāh be pleased with him, as it is in Sāhīh Al-Bukhārī: “Verily, there are people who were held accountable by revelation, during the time of the Messenger of Allāh لَهُمْ سَبَابِيْشِ! أَوْهُمْ. So whoever makes apparent to us goodness, then we give him security and draw near to him but we have nothing to do with his insides. Allāh holds his insides accountable. And whoever makes evil apparent, then we will not give him security nor will we believe him, even if he says, ‘My inside is good.”

And likewise was the matter of the Prophet لَهُمْ سَبَابِيْشِ! أَوْهُمْ concerning his interaction with the people during battle and elsewhere. (For example) was Al-‘Abbās ibn ‘Abdul-Muttalib, while claiming Islām and attributing himself to it. 246 Yet he remained in Makkah, while it was a land of disbelief (Dār Al-Kufr) at that time and he did not perform the emigration (Hijrah) to the land of Islām (Dār Al-Islām) and he went out with the polytheists (Mushrīkin) on the Day of Badr. So when the Muslims captured him they treated him according to outward appearance and not according to what he claimed from Islām upon his inside. And this was because he went out in the ranks of the polytheists (Mushrīkin) increasing their numbers. And it is even narrated that he claimed that he was compelled to go out with them, as in some of the narrations (from the sources) previously referred to. And in some of them, the Prophet لَهُمْ سَبَابِيْشِ! أَوْهُمْ says to him, when he saw him use the excuse of compulsion, while claiming Islām, “Allāh knows best about your condition. If 245 Trans. Note: Referring to the Ḥadīth of ‘Ā’ishah, may Allāh be pleased with her, who said, “The Messenger of Allāh لَهُمْ سَبَابِيْشِ! أَوْهُمْ said, ‘An army will set out against the Ka’bah and when it reaches a smooth, desolate land, the first of them to the last of them will be swallowed up by the earth.’ She (i.e. ‘Ā’ishah) asked, ‘O Messenger of Allāh, why will all of them be swallowed up when amongst them there will be market places and those who are not from them?’ He answered, ‘The first of them to the last of them will be swallowed by the earth and then they will be resurrected in accordance to their intentions.” [Narrated by Al-Bukhārī and Muslim.]

what you claim is true, then Allāh will reward you for that. But the outward appearance of your matter is that you were against us, therefore pay your ransom.”

In any case, it is sufficient for us here what was affirmed in Sahīh Al-Bukhārī and others from that (event). The Prophet ﷺ treated him according to his outer appearance and did not free him until he paid his ransom, just like the rest of the captives from the Mushrikīn. And perhaps from this point, also, is that which came in Sahīh Muslim from the Ḥadīth of ʾIbrāhīm ibn Husayn, in the story of the man from (the tribe of) Bāni ʿUqayl, who was from those who formed a treaty with (the tribe of) Thuqayl, who was captured. And the Prophet did not release him, despite his claim of Islām.

So it becomes known from all of this that we are held accountable regarding our interactions and rulings in this life, based upon the outward appearance, as opposed to the insides. And this is from the favor of Allāh, the Powerful, the Majestic, upon us. Otherwise, Islām and its people would become the pawns and amusements for every spy and vile one and Zindiq.

247 Narrated by Imām Ahmad and its men are trustworthy except that in it was a narrator who was not named.
248 Look for it in Mukhtasir Al-Manthirī below #1,008.
249 Trans. Note: A “Zindiq” or the “Zanāḍiqah” are similar to the hypocrites (Munāfaqīn) in that they show Islām on their outside while having disbelief (Kufr) upon their inside. The difference is that the Zindiq will occasionally demonstrate actions or statements of disbelief but when he is approached, he denies that he has disbelieved and claims that he is upon Islām.

Abu Idrīs narrated, “People from the Zanāḍiqah who had apostated, were brought to ʿAli. He questioned them yet they denied it, so it (i.e. their disbelief) was clarified to them.” He (i.e. Abu Idrīs) said, “So he killed them without giving them time to repent (i.e. return to Islām).”

He (i.e. Abu Idrīs) said, “A man who was a Christian and became a Muslim but latter apostated, was later brought before him (i.e. ʿAli) so he questioned that man and found that this man admitted to what he had done therefore ʿAli) asked him to repent. It was said to him (i.e. ʿAli), ‘Why did you ask him to repent but you didn’t ask the others to repent?’ He said, ‘This one admitted what he had done but those others did not admit it and they even denied (their Kufr) until it had to be proven to them. So this is why I did not give them time to repent.” And according to another narration, “Do you know why I asked the Christian to repent? I asked him to repent because he (openly) showed his religion but the Zanāḍiqah -
And from this point, is the story of Hātib and what came from his deed in the year of the Conquest [(Fath)] of Makkah. So the basic rule is that the judgment, upon the outward appearance of the one who commits the likes of his deed, is with disbelief (Kufr) and that the Muslims are to judge upon him with what his outward appearance would dictate from the rulings of this life regarding (either) killing or capture. And (this applies despite) whoever noticed the condition of the apostates and their categories and some of their arguments and (false) interpretations. And the of those who were deceived by the testifying, by some of the men, to the (so-called) Prophethood of Musaylamah and the story of Thumāmah and Al-Yashqarī and the likes of that, and in how (Abū Bakr) As-Siddiq treated them all according to the outward appearance. So he treated them with the killing and with 250 Trans. Note: Referring to the events during the war against the apostates, during the Khilāfah of Abu Bakr and his subsequent treatment of them all as disbelievers; whether they were from the apostates themselves or from those who assisted them. And the evidence of this treatment of Abu Bakr comes in how he fought them all with the rulings (Ahkām) of the disbelievers, by testifying that their slain were all in the fire, and by neither praying upon them, nor accepting blood-money from them on behalf of the slain Muslims or other than that from the rulings (Ahkām) of fighting the disbelievers (Kuffār). And this treatment was all based upon their outward actions. Ash-Shawkāni narrated that Tāriq ibn Shīhāb said, “A delegation of Buzākhah, from the Asad and Ghūftān (tribes) came to Abu Bakr asking him for reconciliation. So he gave them the choice between an economically harmful war or a humiliating treaty. So they asked, ‘We know what this economical harm is, but what is the humiliation?’ He said, ‘The weapons and horses will be taken away from you and we shall kip as war booty (Ghanāmah), what we took from you. And you shall return to us, what you took from us. And you shall pay the blood-money for our slain. And your slain shall be in the fire. And you shall be left as a people who follow the tails of camels (i.e. farmers) until Allāh shows the successor of His Messenger (i.e. Abu Bakr) and the Emigrants (Muhājirīn), something by which to excuse you.’ So (later) Abu Bakr presented what he had said to the people. So ‘Umar stood up and said, ‘I have an opinion that I shall advise you with. As for what you mentioned from the economically harmful war and the humiliating reconciliation, then what you have mentioned is great. And as for us keeping what we took from them as war booty (Ghanāmah), while they return what they took from us, then what you mentioned is great. As for what you mentioned about them paying us the blood-money for our slain, and their slain being in the Fire, then our slain fought and were killed upon the command of captive and this was from his greatest virtues and merits and good deeds (Hasanāt). He understood the correctness of that which we are intending (i.e. in the explanation of this rule) and to which we are referring. And review for that, the words of the Shaykh, Muhammad ibn ‘Abdul-Wahhāb, may Allah, the Most High, be merciful to him, as they are plentiful in this subject. 251 And this was completely what was understood by ‘Umar, may Allah be merciful to him, in the story of Hātb, while he made it clear in the presence of the Prophet (saw) yet it is known that the Prophet (saw) did not object to ‘Umar’s understanding, nor did he say to him at that instance, “If a man says to his brother, ‘O disbeliever (Kāfir),’ then one of them has been reached by it.” 252 Rather, he approved his judgment and did not object to it concerning those who do not have a preventative factor, such as the preventative factor of Hātb. 253 And he validated Hātb’s inside for us, with his statement, “And what informs you? Perhaps Allāh looked upon the people of Badr…” And Hātit, may Allāh be pleased with him, said – as it has would excuse him from having the declaration of disbelief (Takfīr) applied to him specifically.

Ibn Taymiyyah, may Allāh be merciful to him said, “The truth of the matter regarding this, is that a statement may be disbelief (Kufr). So it is said, ‘Whoever says this (thing) is a disbeliever (Kāfir).’ However, an individual who says this thing is not immediately called a disbeliever (Kāfir) until the clarification – the kind of which will render a person a disbeliever (Kāfir) if he denies it, has been established upon him…”

‘And the sayings, which – whoever says them, disbelieves; it may be that this man did not posses the texts, which are required to understand the truth (or maybe they) did not reach him or he might have them but he did not consider them acceptable (i.e. authentic etc.) or he may not have understood them correctly or he may have misunderstandings that Allāh will excuse. So whosoever, from the believers, is juristically qualified (Mujtahid), yet makes an error, then surely Allāh will forgive his error, whoever he may be. (This applies) whether it is in matters of belief or matters of deeds. This is what the companions (Sahābah) of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ and the majority of the leaders of Islām are upon. And they did not divide matters into matters of fundamentals (Usūl) – such that whoever negates it (automatically) disbelieves or into branches (Farū’) – such that he who negates it never disbelieves…”

‘And the general curses do not always implicate the cursing of the specific individual (because) that (person may) have something that prevents the curse from applying to him. And like that, is the general declaration of disbelief (Takfīr) and the general threats of punishment. Based on this, the general threat of punishment in the Book and the Sunnah, is made subject to the precondition of the establishment of conditions and the elimination of all the preventative factors…”

‘...And I used to make it clear to them that it has been narrated to them from the predecessors (Sala’f) and the Imāms that issuing the declaration of disbelief (Takfīr) to one who says such-and-such is also correct, but it is compulsory to differentiate between the general and the specific (by declaring), ‘Whoever does this, then he is such-and-such!’ And this is the same way the predecessors (Sala’f) did it when they would say, ‘Whoever says such-and-such, then he is such-and-such.’ The specific individual will prevent the general threats of punishment from applying to him through his repentance or rewards, which would cancel it (i.e. punishment) or the trials, which befall him that might cancel it or the intercession, which may be accepted (by Allāh).” [Look to Majmū’ Al-Fatāwa, Vol. 3/230; Vol. 10/329; Vol. 23/41.]
come in Al-Bukhārī and elsewhere, “And I did not do so while disbelieving, nor while apostatizing, nor while being pleased with disbelief (Kufr) after Islam.” So he  sáng! ﻷ ﻖ ﻲ ﻲ ﻲ ﻲ said, in his approval of him, “He has told you the truth.” And the rushing to this statement of his, may Allāh be merciful to him, is from the most apparent evidences that the companions (Sahabah) had it embedded in themselves that the basic rule, regarding the outward appearance of this deed, is apostasy and disbelief (Kufr). 254 And in the narration of Abī Ya’la and Ahmad, he said, “Verily, I did not do it in order to betray the Messenger of Allāh ﻷ ﻖ ﻲ ﻲ ﻲ ﻲ nor due to hypocrisy (Nifāq). I knew that Allāh would make His Messenger dominant and fulfill His Light for him.” And in another narration of theirs, as well, “By Allāh, O Messenger of Allāh, the faith (Īmān) did not change from my heart…” 255 And contemplate the statement of the Prophet ﻷ ﻖ ﻲ ﻲ ﻲ ﻲ in the narration of Al-Bukhārī, “…he has told you the truth.” So this companion who participated in Badr, was made an exception by the Prophet ﻷ ﻖ ﻲ ﻲ ﻲ ﻲ and he approved of him and bore witness upon the truthfulness of his insides and that he did not do so out of apostasy or disbelief (Kufr). Rather, it was a major sin from the major sins, which he committed as opposed to the fact that he was a participant at Badr. So is there, from those who act so easily in the allegiance to the disbelievers who overuse the story of Hātib? Are any of them today, on the face of the Earth, who is a participant at Badr whom Allāh has looked upon his heart so that if they were to perform this deed; a major sin, in absolute terms and become easy in it and collapse, breaking down? 256

254 Trans. Note: The Shaykh’s point here is that the fact that Hātib, may Allāh be merciful to him, said this, shows that the companions who were present, were holding him as one who had apostated due to disbelief (Kufr) and being pleased with disbelief (Kufr). Therefore, Hātib said this statement in order to remove this assumption of him and this is proof that the companions did, in fact, hold this action to be an action of disbelief and apostasy. Otherwise, he would not have felt it necessary to say this in his defense.

255 Trans. Note: This section from the Shaykh, Abu Muhammad Al-Maqdisi, may Allāh preserve him, is somewhat ambiguous. This is because there is no real explanation of what the preventative factor from the declaration of Hātib’s disbelief (Takfīr) was. Refer to the Appendix: “Refuting the Doubts Related to the Event of Hātib ibn Abī Balṭa’ah”, for a more detailed discussion of this topic and the opinions of the scholars regarding assisting the
And we would not ask this question except after we knew the truthfulness of their insides and that they did not commit it due to apostasy nor out of disbelief (Kufr), furthermore, like the shedding of leaves of the Tragacanth plant. So from where would we now, after the revelation has been cut off, discover the validity of their insides? And who would approve of them and bear witness for us, with that, after the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ?

So this (i.e. example of Hātib) was a preventative factor, from the preventative factors of disbelief (Kufr), coming from the interior as opposed to the exterior. But we are not held upon that after the cutting off of the revelation. And therefore, the basis of he who makes apparent the inclination towards the disbelievers and the compliance with them and allegiance towards them, is that we judge upon him according to his outward appearance, as it has passed. And Allāh will be responsible for their insides if they are upon other than that, then he will be resurrected according to his intention in case the Muslims kill him while he is among the ranks of the disbelievers (Kuffār). And if he is captured, then the rulings (which are applied to) the disbelievers are (also) to be implemented upon him, as it has passed. And the Muslims are excused in killing he who makes the likes of this apparent, even if he profess and claims that inside him is Al-Islām as well as his allegiance to its people. And concerning this, look to the discussion of Shaykh Al-Islām, Ibn Taymiyyah, may Allāh, the Most High, be merciful to him, regarding the army that will attack the Ka‘bah, such that it shall sink down (into the Earth) and to the story of the capture of Al-‘Abbās on the day of Badr, while he claimed Islām. And likewise, the words of his student, of the ‘Allāmah, Ibn Al-Qayyim and elsewhere from the verifying (Muhāqaq) scholars. And contemplate, also, the reason for the revelation of His, the Most High’s, statement:

Trans. Note: The “Qatād” or Tragacanth plant is one, which does not shed its leaves. Therefore, this expression implies that the ability to know the truth of one’s insides is as unlikely as the Tragacanth plant shedding its leaves.

Verily! As for those whom the angels take (in death) while they are wrongdoing themselves... 261

Refer to it in Sahih Al-Bukhari” and elsewhere, as it is beneficial in this topic also. Pay attention and contemplate all of that and remove the dust of sleep from your eyes and do not be from the lazy, blind-followers.

• And lastly, Al-Hafith (i.e. Ibn Hajar) mentioned from some of the people of the battles, “He said, ‘And it is in ‘Tafsir Yahyah ibn Salam’, that the phrasing of Hâtib’s letter was: ‘And to proceed: O people of Quraysh, verily the Messenger of Allâh Î£££! ãb has come to you with an army like the night, which flows like a stream. So by Allâh, if he came to you alone, then Allâh would have granted him victory and fulfilled His promise to him. So beware of yourselves (i.e. be careful) and, ‘As-Salâm’.’ And likewise, this was mentioned by As-Suhayli.” 262

I say: So if the intelligent one contemplates this letter of Hâtib and what was in it from his trust in the victory of Allâh to His Prophet Î£££! ãb and his glorification of his status and yet, despite that, Allâh, the Most High, sent revelation concerning this, due to his deed; great verses, which make the skin of those who believe tremble. He said:

O you who believe! Take not My enemies and your enemies as friends, showing affection towards them, while they have disbelieved in what has come to you of the truth and have driven out the Messenger and yourselves because you believe in Allāh your Lord! If you have come forth to strive in My Cause and to seek My Good Pleasure, (then take not these disbelievers and polytheists, etc., as your friends). You show friendship to them in secret, while I am All-Aware of what you conceal and what you reveal. And whosoever of you (Muslims) does that, then indeed he has gone (far) astray from the Straight Path. 263

So if you contemplate this, may Allāh guide you, and how Allāh, the Most High, discussed it as being severe, and made it to be from the allegiance (Muwalāt) and love of His enemies, then you look to the conditions of many of those who attribute themselves to the Da’wah and to Islām in this time and that which comes from them such as blessing, and coying-up to, and even supporting, and assisting the slaves of the law and the tails of the Europeans (Franjī) and the enemies of the Shari’ah, and the Tawhīd, and that which they make apparent from their constitutions and their allegiance to their governments and the making oaths upon honoring their laws; then you will know the true strangeness of the religion and the strangeness of its people who know it with real knowledge and their rarity. So beware from negligence in the religion. Beware, (and again) beware.

The Shaykh, Hamad ibn ‘Atīq said, “As far as that which many of the people believe is an excuse, then verily it has been beautified (for them) by the Shaytān and his pleading. And that is that some of them; if the supporters of the Shaytān frighten him with fear, which has no (basis in) reality, then he assumes that it is permissible to comply with the polytheists (Mushrīkīn) and to make their obedience apparent…” Then he mentioned words from Shaykh Al-Islām, Ibn Taymiyyah, concerning the description of cimpulsion upon words of disbelief and that it could not be except while being beaten and tortured and killed, rather than with mere words or out of threats of separating him from his wife or his wealth or his family. Then he, may Allāh, the Most High, be merciful to him said, “So if you know that and you know what has come from many of the people, then the statement of the Prophet ﷺ has become clear to you: ‘Islām began strange and it shall return

strange as it began…’ 264 And it has returned (to being) strange. And what is even rarer than that, are those who know its true reality. And with Allâh is the successful achievement (Tawfîq).” 265

• And the Shaykh, Sulaymân ibn ‘Abdullâh ibn Asb-Shaykh, Muhammad ibn ‘Abdul-Wahhâb, the author of the book Taysîr Al-’Azîz Al-Hamîd, said in the introduction to the treatise Hukm Muwâlât Ahl Al-Ishrâk: “Know, may Allâh be merciful to you, that if the person openly shows to the Mushrîkin compliance with them in their religion, due to fear of them and the willingness to please them and cozying-up, in order to repel their evil, then he is a disbeliever (Kâfir) like them, even if he dislikes their religion and hates it while loving Islâm and the Muslims…”

Then he mentioned what was even harsher than that from the supporting of the polytheists (Mushrîkin) financially and allegiance with them, while cutting off the allegiance to the Muslims. Until he said: “And no one is excused from that except for one who was compelled. And he would be one whom the polytheists (Mushrîkin) overpowered, such that they say to him, ‘Disbelieve and do such-and-such, or else we do such-and-such to you and kill you,’ or if they take him and torture him until he complies with them. In that case, it is allowed for him to comply with them upon his tongue, while his heart is calm with faith (Iman). And the scholars have formed a consensus (Ijmâ’) that whoever speaks with disbelief, out of joking, disbelieves. So how about the one who openly shows the disbelief (Kufr) out of fear and lusting after this worldly life (Dunyâ)?”

Then he began mentioning over twenty evidences for that. And for that (reason), the book became famously titled, Ad-Dalâ’il. So all of that should be contemplated by those who attribute themselves to the Da’wâh, from those who openly show allegiance and compliance to the slaves of the Yāsiq, while they defend them and their laws and their governments and their armies.

264 Trans. Note: Referring to the Hadîth of Abu Hurayrah, that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said, “Islâm began strange and it shall return strange as it began. So Tâbah (i.e. a tree in paradise) for the strangers!” [Narrated by Muslim and others.]

265 From Sabîl An-Najât within the same chapter.
And they must understand this well, as it is very important for them, especially if they know that all of it was dedicated to the soldiers of the Egyptian state when they entered Najd, during the era of the Shaykh, Hamad ibn ’Atiq and the Shaykh, Sulaymān, may Allāh be merciful to them both, as they wrote the book Sabil An-Najāt Wal-Fikāk and the book Ad-Dalā’il, during that time, in order to warn the people from forming allegiance with those soldiers who used to adhere to, with much innovation (Bid’ah) and superstitions and the manifestations with the Shirk of the graves. And from that which is known is that the famous scholars of Najd, from the descendants of Muḥammad ibn ’Abdul-Wahhāb, and his followers in that era, used to declare the disbelief (Takfīr) to the Egyptian state and its soldiers who were following the Turkish state, as it is known from many of their treatises. Furthermore, they even declared the disbelief (Takfīr) to those who formed allegiance to them or entered into their obedience, while being satisfied with them and taking them as guardians besides the believers. And the question, which urgently throws itself here, is: If this was the ruling of those Imām scholars, concerning the soldiers who followed the state, which most of the Muslims nowadays weep for and its days (i.e. they wish it would return), and if these books and their writings concerned those who formed allegiance with it and loved it or longed for it to be dominant, then what do you suppose they would say about the slaves of the modern-day Yāsiq? And with what do you see them ruling upon these who openly show allegiance to them and to their armies and their police, due to fearing banishment from their homes and livelihood or employment or other than that from portions (lit. peels) of this worldly life and its luxuries. And with what do you see them judging those who take an oath upon being sincere to them or upon honoring their laws if they saw this time?

“So beware, (and again) beware, O you people of intellect. And repent, (and again) repent, O you unaware ones, as the tribulation (Fitnāh) has occurred in the (very) roots of the religion, as opposed to its branches, nor in this worldly life. So it must be that the family and the spouses and the wealth and the trade and the homes are a shield for the religion and a ransom for it (i.e. they are to be sacrificed for Islām). And the religion should not be made a ransom for them or a shield for them. He, the Most High, said: Say: If your fathers, your sons, your brothers, your wives, your kindred, the wealth that you have gained, the commerce in which you fear a decline, and the dwellings in which you delight ... are dearer to you than Allāh and His Messenger, and striving hard and fighting in His Cause, then wait until Allāh brings about His Decision (torment). And Allāh guides not the people who are Al-Fāsiqūn. Therefore, understand it and contemplate it because Allāh has obligated that Allāh and His Messenger and Al-Jihād are more beloved than all of those eight matters (i.e. the aforementioned verse), much less one of them, or several (of them) from that which is even lower than them from something that is considered even more repugnant. So the religion should be with you, the most valuable and highest commodity..."

Chapter: [From the Methods of the Transgressing Rulers (Tughāt) in Dissolving the Millah of Ibrāhīm and Eliminating it Within the Selves of the Callers (Duʿāt)]

And to proceed:

Therefore, if you have understood the Millah of Ibrāhīm with a clear understanding, and you have come to know that it was the methodology of the Messengers and their followers and that it is the path to victory and success and happiness in both abodes (i.e. this life and the hereafter), then you must know afterwards, with certain knowledge, that the transgressors (Tughāt) in every era will never be satisfied with it. Rather, they fear this great Millah and are frightened by it and they are keen and enthusiastic in eliminating it and removing it from the selves of the callers (Duʿāt) via numerous paths and methods.

267 At-Tawbah, 24.
268 Ad-Durar As-Saniyyah, Volume of Jihād, page 127.
As he, the Most High, informed (us) about them, from a long time ago when He said in Sūrat Al-Qalam, while it is from the Makkah-period:

They wish that you should compromise (in religion out of courtesy) with them, so they (too) would compromise with you. 269

So they wish that the callers (Du‘āt) would take other than it (i.e. this Millah) from the crooked paths so that they would stray from the Da‘wah of the solid, straight-forward Da‘wah of the Prophets, and they will not cease to plot to steer the callers (Du‘āt) off this straight path, towards paths in which their lays silence upon much of their falsehood, which will please their hearts or compromise with them in some of their matters. This way, the Da‘wah will die and its matters will dissolve and this matter dissolves away and its callers will stray from its straight, clear and apparent path. So the Tughāt know that the first retreat is a step backwards and then this step is followed by even more steps in which the callers (Du‘āt) forget the basic methodology of the Da‘wah (itself). And from this astrayness, without doubt, comes compromises with the people of falsehood in many of their falsehoods or (at least) in some of them. And that is the height of what they hope for from the very beginning, such that when they see those callers (Du‘āt) stepping down and retreating, then they will make apparent to them how pleased they are with them and their Da‘wah. Then they draw near to them and praise their efforts and show love and affection towards them. He, the Most High, said:

Verily, they were about to tempt you away from that which We have revealed (the Qur‘ān) unto you to fabricate something other than it against Us, and then they would certainly have taken you a friend! 270

Sayyid Qutb, may Allāh, the Most High, be merciful to him, mentioned something at this verse, after he mentioned the efforts of the polytheists 269 Al-Qalam, 9.

270 Al-Isrā’, 73.
in negotiating with the Messenger upon many of the issues of his religion and his Da’wah. And from that, (he mentioned) leaving the criticism of their gods and that which their fathers were upon, to other than that. He said:

“These efforts, from which Allāh protected His Messenger; they are the efforts of the people of the authority (Sultān) towards the people of the Da’wah in all times. They are efforts to deceive them so that they would stray ever-so-slightly from the straightness of the Da’wah and its solidarity. And they become pleased with the mediocre life, which they use to deceive them, at the expense of many virtues. And from the carriers of the Da’wahs, are those who were caused to fall into tribulation (Fitnah), in this fashion, away from his Da’wah because they saw the matter as easy. So the people of the authority (Sultān) do not seek from him to leave his Da’wah completely, rather they only seek slight adjustments from him, so that the two sides can meet in the middle of the path (i.e. compromise). And the Shaytān might come to the carrier of the Da’wah from this gap so that he may see that the best Da’wah is to gain the people of authority (Sultān), to it (i.e. the Da’wah) even if this means stepping down from a part of it! However, the slight astrayness at the outset of the path ends with the complete astrayness at the end of the path. And a person of the Da’wah who accepts the surrender of part of it; even if it is a small part, and (submits) to give up a piece of it – even if it is small, is unable to stop at what gave into originally, due to (the fact that) his being prepared to surrender increases every time – he will backslide! And the people of the authority (Sultān) work gradually with the people of the Da’wahs, so that when they surrender a part of it, then they will lose their dignity and their shield. And the ones being overtaken know that both the continuing of the negotiation while raising its cost, and in attaining the people of authority to their ranks, is a spiritual defeat in that they come to depend upon the people of the authority, in order to give victory to the Da’wah. And Allāh alone is the one whom the believers depend upon in their Da’wah. And whenever the defeat spreads in the depths of the self, then this defeat will never result in victory!”
Yes, and we see many of the Du’āt nowadays whom the transgressors (Tughāt) have taken as friends such that they neither harm them nor do they take them as enemies, because these callers (Du’āt) have openly shown their satisfaction with much of their falsehood. So they met with them in the middle of the road (i.e. compromised) and sat with them in the seminars and at the celebrations and destructions.

And from the examples of those methods in our current situation:

- What we have already referred to from what many of the transgressors (Tughāt) have established such as parliaments and councils of the nation and the likes of that, so that they join therein with their oppressors from the Du’āt and others. So they sit with them in it (i.e. parliaments etc.) and convene there while mixing with them until they resolve the issues between them. So the issue never materializes into a matter of disavowal (Barā‘ah) towards them or disbelief in their laws or in their constitutions or disconnection from all of their falsehood. Rather, (it is) cooperating and assisting and advising and sitting at the discussion tables for the benefit of the country and its economy and its security and…and…and… – all for the country whose Tāghūt controls it and rules it according to his desires and his manifestations of disbelief (Kufr). And this is a lapse, whose people we have lived amongst, and have seen most of those who attributed themselves to the methodology of the predecessors (Manhaj As-Salaf) or they envelope themselves in the words of Sayyid Qutb and the likes of him. Yet despite that, after they have fallen into this lapse they applaud the Tawāghīt and stand up for them out of honor and respect and they address them according to their titles. They even call out for allegiance to their governments and their armies and their security and they take oaths upon honoring their constitutions and their laws and other than that. So what have they left for their Da’wahs? We seek refuge in Allāh from the astrayness.

And also from that is what many of the Tawāghīt seek refuge in from the recruitment of the scholars (‘Ulamā), while preoccupying them with what benefits them (i.e. the rulers). Examples include waging war against their opposition and those who threaten them and their institutions and their governments, such as the communists or the Shi‘ah or others from those who threaten them or threaten their rule. So the Tāghūt seeks refuge in some of those scholars ('Ulama‘), who are enthusiastic and outraged by, and who hate these astray ideologies (i.e. those of the Shi‘ah, communists etc.). So he assists them against their common enemy while deceiving those scholars in showing his enthusiasm for the religion and upon its people and his fear of those people regarding the sanctities of the Muslims, while backing them (i.e. the scholars) with assistance and endowments and titles in order to wage war against them. So those poor ones fall into his (i.e. the Tāghūt’s) snare, while spending their lives and their time and their Da‘wahs in giving victory to one enemy against another enemy. The situation has even reached the point where many of them have completely ceased their enmity towards the near Tāghūt and they befriended him and perhaps they even become, (slowly) day-by-day, from his soldiers and assistants, who are sincere to him and his government. They dedicate their lives in his service and cementing his throne and his rule and his state, whether they perceive it, or it takes place in a way that they do not perceive it. And we wish they would comprehend the saying of the righteous slave (i.e. Mūsā)

“My Lord! For that with which You have favored me, I will never more be a “Thalīr” for the Mujrimūn (criminals, disobedient to Allāh, polytheists, sinners, etc.)!” 271

As Al-Qurtubī narrated at this verse from some of the narrations, “The Israelite who sought the assistance of Mūsā was a disbeliever (Kāfir) and it was only said that he was from his group, due to his being an Israelite, but it was not intended to mean compliance in terms of religion. So based upon this, he (i.e. Mūsā) was regretful because he had assisted one disbeliever (Kāfir) against another disbeliever (Kāfir). So he said, “I will never again, after this, be a helper for the disbelievers.”

271 Al-Qasas, 17.
And the “Thahīr” – in other words, “a helper”. And we wish that they would understand His, the Most High’s, statement:

O you who believe! Fight those of the disbelievers who are close to you, and let them find harshness in you... 272

That way, they would have avoided falling into what they fell into, because those communists and other than them; while they are (certainly) enemies to Islām and its people, and although having enmity towards them and disavowal (Barā‘ah) from them with disbelief in their falsehood is also sought, the point is that (the Muslims) begin with the most important (enemy) then the (next) most important, then the next nearest (enemy) and then the next nearest (enemy). This is an issue, which is approved of and known from the history (Sīrah) of our Prophet Muḥammad ﷺ. Rather, the genuine intellect rebuffs the opposite (of this) because the threat of the nearest (enemy) and the more directly (involved) one, and his influence and all his evil (Fasād) and his tribulation are greater and far more serious than the farther one or (even) the near one (i.e. enemy) who is not as directly involved. 273 And for this (reason), the striving against oneself (i.e. his desires etc.) and against the Shayṭān, precedes the Jihād against the enemies, in a general sense.

272 At-Tawbah, 123.
273 Trans. Note: And this issue is known in the books of Islāmic Jurisprudence (Fiqh) as “The Near Enemy and the Far Enemy”. For example, Ibn Qudāmah said, “‘Topic: And Every People Fight Those Who Are Nearest to Them From the Enemy’ – And the basic principle in this is His, the Most High’s, statement: O you who believe! Fight those of the disbelievers who are close to you... [At-Tawbah, 123] and because the nearest one is more harmful. And in fighting him, there is the repelling of his harm from those who are directly facing them and from those who are behind them. And in being preoccupied with the further one, it gives him (i.e. the near enemy) an opportunity against the Muslims, due to their being preoccupied with other than him.” And he went on to say, “If this is established, then if there is an excuse for starting with the further one, due to his being more feared or for a benefit in starting with him, due to his proximity or a possibility of overpowering him, or due to the nearest one being submissive or if there is something, which prevents fighting against him, then there is no problem in starting with the further one, due to it being a situation of nīd.” [Al-Mughnā Wash-Sharh Al-Kabīr, Vol. 10/372-373.]
And the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ; it would not be for him to begin (war) with Persia or with Rome or against the Jews while abandoning (the fighting of) those whom he was amongst. 274

- Rather, perhaps many of the Tawâqûf would seek to take advantage of this dangerous hazard and exploit many of those ignorant scholars in blocking several of the callers (Du‘ât) and the alienation of their Islâmic groups who are the opponents of those scholars in the Da‘wah unto Allâh, or the discipline (Matthâb) or the methodology (Manhaj) or other than that. Furthermore, they may even elicit religious verdicts (Fatâwa) from them in order to eliminate them and their Da‘wahs by using the argument that they are from the Khawârij or the unjustified rebels (Bughât) who go out spreading mischief (Fasâd) in the land:

[Verily! They are the ones who make mischief... 275]

And they are aware of this and they can feel it too. And we have witnessed this backsliding often from the people of our time. And to Allâh are the grievances. And those poor scholars and their brothers, the callers (Du‘ât) did not know that no matter what level they reach in misguidance, it is misguidance due to ignorance or (mistaken) interpretation – furthermore, even if it were from stubbornness while being knowledgeable, then it still

274 Trans. Note: And in his interpretation (Tafsîr) of the verse: O you who believe! Fight those of the disbelievers who are close to you... Al-Hûfîth, Ibn Kathîr said, “Allâh commands the believers to fight the disbelievers, the nearest in proximity to the Islâmic State, then the furthest. This is why the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ started fighting the Mudhrikîn within the Arabian Peninsula. When he finished with them and Allâh gave him control over Makkah, Al-Madinah, At-Tâ‘îf, Yemen, Yamamah, Hajr, Khaybar, Hadramawt and other Arab provinces, and the various Arab tribes entered Islâm in large crowds, he then stated to fight the Romans who were the nearest in proximity to the Arabian Peninsula, and as such, had the most right of being called to Islâm, especially since they were from the People of the Book.” [Tafsîr Ibn Kathîr, Vol. 2/528-529; publication of Dâr Al-Fayhâ’, Damascus and Dâr As-Salâm, Riyâdîh, 2nd Edition, 1418 H.]

would not reach the level of the misguidance of the Tawâghît and their opposition to Allah and His religion.

- And from that also, is the deception of the believers and the callers, with the positions and centers and employments and titles and granting them honor and wealth and homes while showering them with the charities and other than that, so that they can restrain them and burden them and seal their mouths with it and so that they can use these (provisions) to put in place the statement of the one who declares: “Do not bite the hand (lit. breast) that feeds you.” And in this way, those callers and those scholars will fall into tribulation (Fitnah) due to them or due to their governments, until the situation reaches the point where they approve of the falsehood (Bâtil) of those transgressors (Tughît) through their various religious verdicts (Fatâwa) and with their reiteration of their merits while glorifying their praises, night and day.

Ibn Al-Jawzî said, “And from the deception of Iblîs upon the jurists (Fuqahâ’) is their intermingling with the Amîrs and the Sultâns and their cozying-up to them and abandoning the making objections upon them, while being able to do so.” 276 And he said, “And in general, the entrance upon the Sultâns is a huge threat because the intent may be for good at the start, but then it might change, due to their generosity and favors along with their greed for it. And he might not be able to refrain from cozying-up to them, while abandoning the making objections upon them. And Sufyân Ath-Thawrî, may Allah be pleased with him, used to say, ‘I do not fear their humiliating me, rather I only fear their generosity such that my heart might incline towards them.” 277

And if the intelligent one reflects upon those whom Sufyân used to fear about the possibility of his heart inclining towards them, then he would find that the difference between them and the transgressors (Tughâl) of our time is quite wide and vast. So Allah is the One from Whom we seek help. And may Allah be merciful to the one who said:

277 Page 122.
No one makes a worse bargain than a scholar who is manipulated by this Dunyā amongst the ignorant.

He then starts to divide his religion as the Hands of Saba’ and eliminates it due to his zeal for gathering wealth.

Whoever does not focus upon his Lord and fear Him then both his hands have perished and his wealth departs.

- And from this also is the demonstration of some of those Tawāghīt of their enthusiasm upon some aspects and branches of the religion (Dīn) and the Da’wāh to it, so that they may gather with that, many of the callers (Du’āt) and the scholars (‘Ulamā), whose sincerity they fear, along with the love of the people towards them. Therefore, they establish colleges for them and curriculums and radio programs while preoccupying them with the ministries of endowments and its projects and its encyclopedias and other than that from whatever does not touch the transgression of those Tawāghīt and their evil (Fasād).

And from the likes of that also, are the leagues and establishments of harm, which those Tawāghīt establish, such as “The Muslim World League”, which some of our poor scholars have been deceived into joining, despite its clear black path of cozying-up to the mischievous (Fāsid) governments generally, and to the Sa’ūdī government and its Tawāghīt in particular. And it has reached the point where it is rare that you would find any distributions or even a book from their publications, except that it overflows with the flattery and hypocrisy (Nifāq) towards that state, much less its direct ties and the ties to its shifty authorities of other various states. And its (i.e. these establishments) contradiction and its being opposed to some of those states would only result from loyalty to its mother-state. So when the matters between the Tawāghīt are upon that which is sought (i.e. peaceful), then it will publicly appear this way between them. But if a Tāghūt, such as Qathāfi, for instance, attacks its state or its Tawāghīt and their politics, then the religious verdicts (Fatāwa) and the condemnations flow as well as the continuous chastisement. Then later on, when the matters return to their original situation, these verdicts (Fatāwa) subside and become hushed and we cease to hear even a whisper, despite the fact that this Tāghūt has not changed nor has he been altered in the slightest. Rather, his situation may even have become worse and more harmful than it was previously. And if they see him with their eyes performing the circumbulation (Tawāf) of the House (i.e. Ka‘bah) with his impurity (Najāsah) and his transgression (Tughyān), then they do not move a muscle. So to Allāh are the grievances. And in any case, this establishment and the likes of it does not exceed the fact that it is a government-based establishment and we have become accustomed to distrusting that which comes from the governments. And what a good custom that is.

Trans. Note: “Divided as the hands of Saba’ (i.e. Sheba),” is an Arabic expression, which means that they became extremely divided. [Look to Majma’ Al-Bahrān Wa Matla’ An-Niyān, Vol. 1/212.]

- And from that, also, is what they grant to many of the callers (Du‘āt) from permits and licenses for the Da‘wah and delivering sermons (Khutbahs) and that which they establish from “Committees for the Commanding of the Good and the Forbiddance of Evil”, which strive to assimilate and appease the zealous callers (Du‘āt), while at the same time, preventing them from (objecting to) the evil of the government itself and its politics and its falsehood (Bātil) and the greatest evils of its Tawāghīt. And they do this by preoccupying them with some of the evils of the general masses, which amount to a threat to the security of the state and the permanence of the rule of the Tawāghīt. And they (i.e. the scholars) would be unable to surpass that (i.e. forbidding the evil of the general masses) to the higher and greater levels (of evil), as long as they remain tied to those committees or those permits, which govern them or and their Da‘wahs by binding them firmly.

- And from that, as well, is their destruction of and the elimination and killing of this Millah in the selves of the youth from the descendants of the believers, by means of their schools and colleges and their media and their various Tāghūt-oriented establishments. So even though those Tawāghīt are worse in terms of their filth and greater in terms of their plotting than Pharaoh, such that they do not seek refuge in his methods of eliminating their sons, except as a last resort when their other filthy methods fail. Therefore, they strive hard prior to that in order to eliminate this Millah in their selves so that instead of them destroying the generations, by means which would be perceived (i.e. actual killing them) as Pharaoh did, they eliminate this Millah within them. So they destroy them with all forms of destruction and that occurs by raising them (i.e. students) upon loving them (i.e. the Tawāghiṭ) and having allegiance towards them and to their laws and their governments, by means of these evil (Fāsid) schools and their other various media, which many of the ignorant Muslims enter into and bring into their homes. So rather than the Tawāghiṭ causing the people to revolt by swiftly executing them in reality, they follow this vile policy so that the people will glorify their praise and their merits that they (i.e. the governments) have wiped out ignorance and spread the knowledge and civilization. And beyond all that, under this cover, they raise sincere followers and servants for the governments and their laws and to their governing families, from the descendants of the Muslims. Or at least they will raise a shapeless, ignorant, misguided generation, which turns away from this straight, concrete Da’wah and this solid Millah, while cozying-up to the people of falsehood (Bāṭil), which will be unable and unfit to confront them or even to consider it. And we have explained this matter and uncovered their vile methods in our treatise I’dād Al-Qādat Al-Fawāris Bi Hajrī Fasād Al-Madāris. 279

And how often does the caller (Dā’î) fall and stumble when slipping in any of these hazards? So this situation in which we now live, including the people’s distrust of the Islāmic leaderships and the scholars, is nothing more than one of the results of these hazards. And how small does he become in the eyes of the transgressors (Tughāṭ) themselves while removing his fear from their hearts, such that they neither fear him nor are they threatened by his Da’wah and they do not give him any consideration at all? Yet, if they were to witness from him, firmness and solidarity, such as the solidarity of the mountains, with disavowal (Barā’ah) and refusal and disdain from lowering himself to them in any of the points of their paths, which oppose the methodology (Manhaj) of the proper Da’wah, then they, at that point, they would give him a thousand considerations. And Allâh puts terror and dread in the hearts of the transgressors (Tughâṭ), just like the dread of the Prophet ﷺ existed in the hearts those disbelievers (Kuffâr). And just as he would be given the victory, due to that terror, by the distance of one month. 280 So beware these hazards and beware from falling into the games of the transgressors (Tughâṭ).

Finally, then Allâh, the Powerful, the Majestic, has clarified these steps for us and uncovered these games for us and He warned us about them. And He has given us the solution and the cure, while pointing us to the correct path. As He said, prior to His statement:

They wish that you should compromise with them, so they (too) would compromise with you. 281

He said:

So obey not the deniers. 282

Do not obey them and do not incline towards them and do not accept being half of their solutions (towards their goals) as your Lord has given you the religion of truth and He has pointed you to a straight path and He has guided you to the Millâh of Ibrâhîm.

280 Trans. Note: Referring to the Hadîth narrated by from Al-Bukhâri and Muslim, from Jâbîr that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said, “I have been given five things that were not given to anyone before me: I have been made victorious due to terror for a distance of one month’s journey; the earth has been made a place of prayer for me – wherever and whoever of my nation wants to pray, he may pray; and the war booty has been made lawful for me, and this was not lawful for anyone before me. I have been given permission to intercede. The prophets used to be raised for their own people only, but I have been raised for all of mankind.”

The Religion of Ibrāhīm

- And precisely like that, is His, the Most High’s, statement in Sūrat Al-Insān, and it was also from the Makkah-period:

And in mentioning the Qur’ān and Allāh, the Powerful, the Majestic’s appreciation of His Prophet, in revealing this to him prior to the prohibition of obeying the sinful disbelievers, the correct path of the Da’wah was clarified, because this path was not chosen by the callers (Du’āt) or by the selves. And it is not for them to submerge it or to identify its distinctive qualities as they wish or choose. Rather it is only the Millah of Ibrāhīm and the Da’wah of the Prophets and the Messengers, which is mentioned in full detail within this Qur’ān.

- And also like that, is His, the Most High’s, statement in Sūrat Al-Furqān, which is also from the Makkah-period:

“...and make Jihād against them with it...” In other words, with the Noble Qur’ān. So do not drift to a methodology or practice or path in the Da’wah other than the path with which you have been ordered in the Qur’ān. And warn them with this Qur’ān and do not take other than it from the crooked, deviated paths, in which there lies the obedience to the disbelievers (Kuffār) or the remaining silent upon some of their falsehood (Bātil).

283 Al-Insān, 24.
284 Al-Furqān, 52.
And likewise also, was His statement to His Prophet ﷺ after He ordered him to make Tilāwah (precise recitation) with His Book 285 a little:

And obey not him whose heart We have made hīdless of Our Remembrance; one who follows his own lusts and affairs. And say: “The truth is from your Lord.” Then whosoever wills, let him believe, and whosoever wills, let him disbelieve. 286

And these verses were from the Makkah-period (as well).

And likewise, is His, the Most High’s, statement in Sūrat Ash-Shoorah, while it was also from the Makkah-period, after He mentioned what He had legislated for the previous Prophets, Nūh, Ibrāhīm, Mūsa and ‘Īsā:

285 And from the meanings of At-Tilāwah is: “The Following”. So whoever makes Tilāwah upon something; in other words, “He has followed it.”

And there is no doubt that the Tilāwah of the Book of Allāh, the Powerful, the Majestic, by reading it and studying it while adhering to it and following its commands, is from the greatest causes of steadfastness upon this path, as it has passed. And similarly, the constant remembrance of Allāh, the Powerful, the Majestic, and focusing upon Him while performing the Night Prayer (Qiyām Al-Layl), as He, the Most High said directly after the aforementioned verse, from Sūrat Al-Insān:

And remember the Name of your Lord every morning and afternoon and during night, prostrate yourself to Him, and glorify Him a long night through. [Al-Insān, 25 – 26].

286 Al-Kahf; 28-29.
...be on the straight path as you were ordered, and follow not their desires...

And His, Glory be to Him, command to His Prophet, after a while, that he should declare to the disbelievers (Kuffār):

For us our deeds and for you your deeds.

...is a clear disavowal (Barā‘ah) from them and their astray desires and their methodologies and their paths.

And likewise, as well, was His, the Most High’s statement to His Prophet ﷺ in Sūrat Al-Jāthiyah, which was also from the Makkah-period:

Then We have put you on a plain way of (Our) commandment. So follow you that, and follow not the desires of those who know not. Verily, they can avail you nothing against Allāh. Verily, the Thālimūn (polytheists, wrong-doers, etc.) are Awliyā‘ (protectors, helpers, etc.) to one another, but Allāh is the Wali (Helper, Protector, etc.) of the Muttaqūn (pious).

And in this way, if we were to follow all of the verses of the Qur‘ān, then we would have found verses in the tens or even hundreds, which would indicate these important meanings, as Allāh, the Powerful, the Majestic, did not create His slaves for mere playing nor did He leave them without responsibilities. Isn’t the clarity of this methodology (Manhaj) and its stability sufficient for the callers (Du‘āt)? And won’t that which sufficed the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ and the Prophets before him, suffice them? Isn’t it time for them to awaken from their heedlessness and for them to rectify the astraynesses and the misguidances? Wasn’t it enough that they have fallen into the games of the transgressors (Tughāt), while concealing the truth and deceiving the people and wasting the efforts and the lives? So by Allāh, there is but one choice:

“Either the Shari’ah of Allāh or the desires of those who have no knowledge. And there is no third option as there is no middle ground between the straight Shari’ah and the unstable desires.

“And these verses identify and outline the path for the individual of the Da’wah. And they are far better in this (issue) than any statements or commentaries or explanations. Verily, it is one Shari’ah, which deserves this description and all things other than it are desires, which sprout from ignorance. And it is upon the individual of the Da’wah to follow the Shari’ah alone and to abandon all of the desires. And it is upon him also, never to stray from the Shari’ah at all to any of the desires, because the people of these desires cooperate amongst themselves against the person of the Shari’ah. So it is not allowed for him to hope for some victory for them, as they have rallied against him; each one of them being guardians of the other. Yet despite that, they are too weak to inflict harm upon him, except for mere annoyances. So Allāh is his guardian and his victor. And where is (their) allegiance compared to (his) allegiance? And where are the weak, ignorant jokers who are guardians of one another, compared to the individual of the Shari’ah, with whom Allāh has allegiance with…”

…but Allāh is the Wali (Helper, Protector, etc.) of the Muttaqūn (pious).

This is the path...

So are there any men?

Appendix:

Refuting the Doubts Related to the Event of Hātib ibn Abī Balṭā‘ah
The reason for including the explanation of the event of Hātib ibn Abī Balta’ah is the following:

1 – The frequent mentioning of this event by the author, Abū Muḥammad Al-Maqdisī, may Allāh preserve him, and to give it a more comprehensive explanation than what was available in the context of his points concerning it.

2 – The general need to address this issue and how it relates to the modern-day apostate regimes and governments and their allegiance with the disbelieving nation states of the West or other than them.

3 – The mistaken conclusions, which have been deduced from this event and the need to clarify them to avoid falling into the mistakes related to this topic in general.

And among the mistaken conclusions, which have been assumed from this event, is the following:

- What Hātib, may Allāh be pleased with him, did was not disbelief (Kufr), and this is why the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ did not execute him or declare his disbelief (Takfīr).

- Informing the enemies of the Muslims about their intentions and vulnerabilities is not considered allegiance (Muwalāt).

- Actions of allegiance (Muwalāt) towards the disbelievers against the Muslims are only considered to nullify a person’s Islām when they are combined with allegiance of the heart.
The declaration of disbelief (Takfīr) cannot be issued for the mere action alone because the action cannot conclusively prove that allegiance exists in the heart of the one who commits this action.

The fact that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said, “He has told the truth,” upon hearing Hāṭib’s excuse, is an indication of these conclusions.

The fact that Hāṭib, may Allāh be pleased with him, participated in the battle of Badr, was a preventative factor (Māni’) from declaring his disbelief (Takfīr).

Performing actions of allegiance (Muwalāt) is not considered disbelief (Kufr) if it is done for a benefit from this worldly life (Dunyā).

During our research for this issue, we came across an excellent treatise, which addresses most, if not all of the misconceptions regarding this event. And it comes from the noble Shaykh, ’Abdul-Qādir ibn ’Abdul-'Azīz, may Allāh preserve him, from his enormously beneficial book Al-Jāmi’ Fi Talab Al-‘Ilm Ash-Sharīf.292

In his lengthy refutation of the errors in the book Ar-Risālah Al-Limāniyyah, the Shaykh entered this section regarding the mistakes related to the event of Hāṭib, and has basically gone through the misconceptions of the author of that book, as well as some of those from his contemporaries, one-by-one. Therefore, it seemed a fitting and comprehensive chapter to include here, as it serves our purpose equally well, which is to point out the mistakes of some of the people in relation to this Hadīth and what it indicates.

Trans. Note: Vol. 2/636 – 644 [This book has not yet been published by a major publication company. Our copy was printed and published for limited distribution, in a full-sized, two-volume soft cover format. It is worth noting here that as of the writing of these words, the author of this book, the Shaykh, ’Abdul-Qādir, may Allāh preserve him, currently resides in his prison cell in Yemen just as the Shaykh, Abu Muhammad Al-Maqdīsī sits in his prison cell in Jordan. And may Allāh, the Most High, give victory to our imprisoned scholars and Mujāhidīn and humiliate their enemies from the disbelievers (Kuffār) and apostates (Murtadīn)!]
As for the translation, we have attempted to be as precise to the terminology of Shaykh 'Abdul-Qādir, while retaining the fluidity of the English language. Again, we have lowered the Shaykh’s references into footnotes and added some of our own as well, to clarify some of his points. We have also added some headings to help identify the points, which the Shaykh addresses throughout this section, which we’ve denoted with square parenthesis, in order to differentiate ours from those of the author. We would also like to inform the reader that, in this section, the author occasionally alludes to certain points and principles, which he had covered in earlier chapters from the same book, which were obviously not included here. So please bear this in mind, while reading.

We hope that the addition of this appendix section will assist in the understanding of the matter and add to the clarification of the Millah of Ibrāhīm; particularly with regards to the apostate, disbelieving governments and regimes, who have allied themselves with the enemies of Allah and assisted them in hunting for the believers and callers, by imprisoning them and eliminating their Da'wah. And we ask Allah, the Most High, to give victory to His religion and the believers and the soldiers of the Millah of Ibrāhīm.

And may the peace of blessings of Allah, be upon our Prophet, and his family and his companions and those who followed them in goodness, until the Last Day.

[The Text of the Event of Hātib:]

And he (i.e. the author of Ar-Risālah Al-Limāniyyah) began on page 17 by mentioning the Hadīth of Hātib ibn Abī Balta’ah, may Allāh be pleased with him. And the Hadīth is agreed upon. And in the narration of Al-Bukhārī, he said, “Al-Humaydī narrated to us, ‘Suqyān narrated to us, ‘Amr ibn Dinār narrated to us, ‘He said, Al-Hasan ibn Muḥammad ibn ‘Ali, narrated to me that he heard ’Ubaydullāh ibn Abī Rāfi’, the scribe of ‘Ali saying, ‘I heard ‘Ali, may Allāh be pleased with him, saying, ‘The Messenger of Allāh ُٓٛ sent me, Az-Zubayr and Al-Miqdād somewhere saying, ‘Proceed till you reach Rawdat Khakh. There you will find a lady with a letter. Take the letter from her.’ So, we set out and our horses ran at full pace till we got at Ar-Rawda where we found the lady and said (to her), ‘Take out the letter.’ She replied, ‘I have no letter with me.’ We said, ‘Either you take out the letter or else we will take off your clothes.’ So, she took it out of her braid. We brought the letter to the Prophet ُٓٛ and it contained a statement from Hātib ibn Abī Balta’ah to some of the people of the Mushrīkin of Makkaḥ informing them of some of the plans of the Prophet ُٓٛ. So the Prophet ُٓٛ said, ‘O Hātib, what is this?’ Hātib replied, ‘O Messenger of Allāh, do not rush to judgment in my case. I was a man closely connected with the Quraysh, but I did not belong to their tribe. While the other emigrants with you, had their relatives in Makkaḥ who would protect their families and wealth in Makkaḥ. So, I wanted to recompense for my lacking blood relation to them by doing them a favor so that they might protect my relatives. I did not do that, while disbelieving nor while apostatizing from my religion.’ So the Prophet ُٓٛ said, ‘Verily, he has told you the truth.’ Then ‘Umar said, O Messenger of Allāh, permit me to strike his neck.” So he (i.e. the Prophet ُٓٛ) said, ‘Verily, he participated at Badr. And what informs you? Perhaps Allāh, the Powerful, the Mighty, looked upon the people of Badr and said, ‘Do as you wish, for I have forgiven you.” ‘Amr said, ‘And for him, was revealed: O you who believe! Take not My enemies and your enemies as friends (Awliyā’)... 293 – The Hadith. 294

And in a narration of Muslim, “And I did not do so while disbelieving, nor while apostatizing, nor while being pleased with disbelief (Kufr) after Islām.”

[Refuting the Doubts Regarding this Hadith:]

The author of Ar-Risālah Al-Limāniyyah said on page 18, “In this Hadith, there is evidence that Ḥātib, may Allāh be pleased with him, came with an action from the actions of allegiance (Muwalāt) towards the polytheists (Mushrikīn). And that was from the text of the verse: O you who believe! Take not My enemies and your enemies as friends (Awliyā’)... 295 And it was revealed concerning him, just as the Hadith indicates that he did not disbelieve with this allegiance (Muwalāt) of his. And that was from the text of the statement of the Prophet ﷺ to ʿUmar: “He has told the truth.” He meant that he told the truth in his statement: “And I did not do so while disbelieving, nor while apostatizing from my religion, nor while being pleased with disbelief (Kufr) after Islām.” What we extract from that clear evidence is that the allegiance (Muwalāt) of Ḥātib was outwardly apparent allegiance (Muwalāt Thāhīriyyah), which he committed for a benefit in this worldly life (Dunyā), while his heart was at rest with faith (Īmān). And if it were internally hidden allegiance (Muwalāt Bātīniyyah), then he would have disbelieved. And that is not possible, due to the statement of the Prophet ﷺ: “He has told the truth,” and by the address of His, Glory be to Him, statement: O you who believe! Take not...296 Therefore, he was not stripped with the label of faith (Īmān).”

And he also said on page 21, “And that is because, although Ḥātib committed an action from the actions of allegiance, since his belief was unharmed, it was not judged upon with disbelief (Kufr). The reason for that is that his inside

294 #4,890.
295 Al-Mumtalūnāh, 1.
296 Al-Mumtalūnāh, 1.
remained unharmed. And this is what was meant by Muwalât Thâhiriyah as opposed to that of the internally hidden (Bâtin). Because if the pleasure of the heart with what he committed were combined with what he committed, then his allegiance (Muwalât) would have been internally hidden allegiance (Muwalât Bâtiniyyah). And that is when the outwardly apparent (Thâhir) combines with the internally hidden (Bâtin) and that which the committer disbelieves, after giving consideration to his circumstances.”

[Doubt 1: The Label of Faith (Īmân) in the address:]

As for his saying that Hâtit committed outwardly apparent allegiance (Muwalât Thâhiriyah), towards the polytheists (Mushrikîn) but that he did not disbelieve with that, then this is correct.

As for him basing his (i.e. Hâtit’s) non-disbelief upon the fact that he (only) committed outwardly apparent allegiance (Muwalât Thâhiriyah), for a benefit in this worldly life (Dunyâ), while not having allegiance of the heart (Muwalât Qalbiyyah), then this is an error and that the outward, apparent allegiance (Muwalât Thâhirah), which is free from internal, hidden allegiance (Muwalât Bâtînah), does not bring one to disbelief (Kufr), then this is (also) a mistake. And we shall explain this, by Allâh’s will.

And likewise, was his statement that the address of:

– in the beginning of Sûrat Al-Muntaqînâh – indicates that he did not disbelieve. Then this is a mistake (as well). And the author attributed this, also on page 19, to the Shaykh, Sulaymân ibn Sahmân. And he also erred because the address with the label of faith (Īmân), does not indicate the non-disbelief of those being addressed. Rather, it is permissible for the individual 297 Trans. Note: Allegiance of the heart (Muwalât Qalbiyyah) is what is meant by internally hidden allegiance (Muwalât Bâtiniyyah), because the intent of both terms refers to the inside of the person. So these two terms are synonymous.

to be described according to his former condition, even if he changed from it. And examples of this are:

- His ﷺLinearLayout! ﷺLinearLayout's saying: “The blood of a Muslim man is not permissible except in one of three (situations)…” and from them, “…the abonder of his religion…” – the agreed upon Hadith. And ‘the abonder of his religion’; he is the apostate, yet he (i.e. the Prophet ﷺLinearLayout! ﷺLinearLayout) described him in the beginning of the Hadith with Islām, based upon his former condition. And about this, Ibn Hājar said, “And in this Hadith, is the permissibility of describing the individual with that which he was upon, even if he changed from it, due to his (i.e. the Prophet’s ﷺLinearLayout! ﷺLinearLayout) made the exception for the apostate from the Muslims. And that was based upon what he used to be upon.” 298

- And another example of that is his ﷺLinearLayout! ﷺLinearLayout's saying: “Three will receive their rewards doubled…” and he mentioned from them, “…and a man from the People of the Book (Ahl Al-Kitāb), who believed in his Prophet and believed in me.” – the agreed upon Hadith. So he described him as being from the People of the Book (Ahl Al-Kitāb) despite his entering into Islām, with the evidence of his ﷺLinearLayout! ﷺLinearLayout's saying, “…and believed in me.” So his saying, “…and a man from the People of the Book…” is from the point of labelling him based upon his former condition. And the equivalent of this Hadith, from the Book of Allāh, is His, the Most High’s, statement:

And there are, certainly, among the People of the Book, those who believe in Allāh and in that which has been revealed to you... 299

And likewise is the verse in Al-Mā’idah:
...those who say: “We are Christians.”

– Until His, the Most High’s, statement:

They say: “Our Lord! We believe... 300

• And likewise is His, the Most High’s, statement:

O you who believe! Whoever from among you turns back from his religion... 301

So does the address with faith (Iman) prevent the apostasy of some of them? And like that is His, the Most High’s, statement in the beginning of Sūrat Al-Muntahinah:

O you who believe! Take not My enemies and your enemies as friends (Awliyā’)... 302

– Until His statement:

And whosoever of you (Muslims) does that, then indeed he has gone (far) astray, (away) from the Straight Path. 302

So the address with faith (Iman) does not prevent the disbelief (Kufr) of some of those being addressed. And their description with those who believe would be from the point of describing the individual based upon his former condition, as we have affirmed. This is with the agreement that Hātib did not disbelieve, but I wanted to make a point of this error, which was his (i.e. author’s) using the address with the label of faith (Īmān) as evidence for the non-disbelief. So there is no evidence in it from that, especially when it is a general address. Therefore:

301 Al-Ma’idah, 54.

...you who believe...

And upon the three who remained behind... 303

And His, the Most High’s, statement:

When two parties from among you were about to lose heart, but Allāh was their Wali (Supporter and Protector). 304

[Doubt 2: Outward Actions vs. Actions of the Heart]

As for the author using the fact that it was outward, apparent allegiance (Muwalāt Thāhirah) as evidence for the non-disbelief of Hātib, may Allāh be pleased with him, which does not bring one to disbelief (Kufr), as long as it is not accompanied with allegiance of the heart (Muwalāt Qalbiyyah), then his usage of this as evidence is bogus (Fāsid). And here is its clarification:

a) There is no disagreement that what Hātib committed was outward, apparent allegiance (Muwalāt Thāhirah), towards the polytheists (Mushrikin) by the text of His, the Most High’s, statement:

303 At-Tawbah, 118.
304 Āl-‘Imrān, 122.
O you who believe! Take not My enemies and your enemies as friends, showing affection towards them... 305

And it was revealed concerning him.

b) And there is no disagreement that the outward, apparent allegiance (Muwalât Thâhirah) towards the polytheists (Murshîrîn) is major disbelief (Kufr Akbar), without it being accompanied with allegiance of the heart (Muwalât Qalbiyyah). And we have established the evidence upon that earlier, using the Book and the Sunnah and the consensus (Ijmâ’). 306 As for the Book, then it is His, the Most High’s, statement:

305 Al-Mumtahînah, 1.
306 Trans. Note: As for the Book and the Sunnah, then its verses are clear, as are the events such as the position of the companions (Salâhâh) towards those who allied themselves with the disbelieving apostates during the Khilâfah of Abu Bakr are clear examples.

As for the consensus (Ijmâ’) regarding the allegiance (Muwalât) towards the polytheists (Murshîrîn) being major disbelief (Kufr Akbar), then the Shaykh, ‘Abdul-Qâdir ibn ‘Abdul-‘Azîz did not narrated the references for this here so we’ve brought a few from other sources:

Ibn Hazm, may Allâh be merciful to him, said, “It is correct that His, the Most High’s, statement: And if any amongst you takes them as Auliyâ’, then surely he is one of them. [Al-Mâ’idah, 51] is upon its outer meaning and that he is a disbeliever (Kâfir) from the group of the disbelievers (Kufîr) and this is correct. No two (people) from the Muslims would disagree about this.” [Al-Muhala, Vol. 11/138.]

And the Shaykh, ‘Abdullâh ibn Humayd said, “As for the allying (Tawllî); then it is being cordial to them and praising them and giving victory to them and assisting them against the Muslims and forming fellowship, as opposed to having disavowal (Barâ’ah) against them.
And if any amongst you takes them as Awliyā’, then surely he is one of them. 307

And that which took place in their hearts (i.e. those who committed what the verse was revealed for) was fear and not being pleased with the disbelievers (Kuffār) and their religion. And as for the Sunnah, then it is the ruling of the Prophet ﷺ upon his uncle, Al-‘Abbās, with the ruling of he disbelievers (Kuffār), due to his helping the polytheists (Mushrikīn) against the Muslims. 308 And as for the consensus (Ijmā’), then it is the consensus of the companions (Sahābah) upon the declaring the disbelief (Takfīr) of those who assisted the leaders of apostasy. And I have elaborated upon this point in the clarification of the second section: “The Clarification of the Ruling Upon Those who Assist the Tawāghīt”, and in my earlier refutation of the claim of the author that no one disbelieves with the outward, apparent allegiance (Muwalāt Ath-Thāhir), and that this was the statement of the extremists of the Murji‘ah. 309 And this is sufficient to clarify that what Hātib committed was disbelief (Kufr), yet he negated that from himself saying: “And I did not do so while disbelieving, nor while apostatizing from my religion, nor while being pleased with disbelief (Kufr) after Iṣlām.” – from the narration of Muslim. And ‘Umar ibn Al-Khattāb described him with that also, as Ibn Hajar mentioned it, saying, “And in the Ḥadīth of Ibn ‘Abbās, ‘Umar said, ‘I drew my sword and said: ‘O Messenger of Allāh, enable me over him, as he has disbelieved!’ Ibn Hajar said, “Its chain is Sahīh.” 310 And this Ḥadīth of Ibn ‘Abbās was narrated by At-Tabarī. And all of this concerns the clarification that what Hātib committed was disbelief (Kufr).

308 Trans. Note: And the Shaykh, Abu Muhammad has mentioned this event previously.
309 Trans. Note: Refer to the earlier explanation of Irjā’ and the Murji‘ah sect from the footnote in the introduction.
[Doubt 3: The Meaning of, “Hātib has told the truth.”]

This, plus there is no evidence in the saying of the Prophet ﷺ: “He has told the truth,” that what Hātib committed was not disbelief (Kufr). (Rather), his action was disbelief (Kufr) according to the Book and the Sunnah and the consensus (IJmā’), upon the disbelief (Kufr) of the one who stands with the disbelievers (Kuffār) against the Muslims. 311 So with that, it is obligatory for the affirmation of truthfulness (Tasdiq) by the Messenger ﷺ to be redirected towards another matter, which is the compliance of the statement of Hātib, with his own conviction and not the compliance of the statement with his present situation and with the reality, as the Book and the Sunnah and the consensus (IJmā’) is contrary to that. 312 And these words are in need of clarification. And its clarification is: Is the truthfulness of the conveyance applied to the compliance of the statement of the informer regarding his conviction, or does it apply to the compliance of the statement of the informer with the present situation he is informing about?

And this issue has two sayings about it. And the following example will clarify it: Suppose a blind man was to stare at a shining light and say, “I see darkness.” Then upon the former saying, which is the compliance of his statement with his conviction, then he is truthful, even if he made a mistake.

311 Trans. Note: The Shaykh, ‘Abdul-Qādir ibn ‘Abdul-‘Azīz does not mean to suggest that there is scholarly consensus (IJmā’) that what Hātib did was disbelief (Kufr). And this becomes clear ahead when he goes on to mention how the scholars (Ulamā’) disagreed about the ruling upon Hātib’s action. And he even quotes some of the scholars (Ulamā’) such as Al-Qurtubī and others who did not consider the action of Hātib to be disbelief (Kufr). Rather, what he is saying is that there is no doubt that the one who stands with the disbelievers (Kuffār) against the Muslims has committed disbelief (Kufr), even if some of the scholars mistakenly concluded that Hātib did not commit this action. And some narrations of this consensus (IJmā’) were mentioned in a previous footnote.

312 Trans. Note: This is with the understanding that when Hātib said, “And I did not do it while disbelieving, nor while apostatizing, nor while being pleased with disbelief (Kufr) after Islām,” he said so with the meaning: “What I did was not Kufr, nor apostasy nor is it being pleased with disbelief (Kufr) after Islām.” And so this would be incorrect in the sense of describing his action, itself, but correct in the sense that he, himself, did not disbelieve, nor did he apostatize, nor was he pleased with disbelief (Kufr) after Islām.
And upon the second saying, which is the compliance of his statement with that present situation, he is a liar. And both of the sayings have been taken by some of the scholars (’Ulamā). And this issue is included in the issues of “The Science of Meanings.” 313 And the truth is that both of these sayings are correct – even if the second one is more known – and they can be combined or be separate, as the truthfulness can be labeled upon the compliance of his statement with his conviction, or it could be labeled upon the compliance of his statement with that reality and with the present situation together, which would be the absolute truth. And that which identifies the intent of it is the context and the outward indicators (Qar‘īn) and the examples of that from the revelation:

- His, the Most High’s, statement:

When the hypocrites come to you, they say: “We bear witness that you are indeed the Messenger of Allāh.” Allāh knows that you are indeed His Messenger and Allāh bears witness that the hypocrites are liars indeed. 314

So Allāh declared them as liars from the point of the contradiction of their statement with their convictions only – because they did not believe that he is the Messenger of Allāh, even if their statement was in compliance with the present situation (i.e. reality) and that he was truly the Messenger of Allāh. So it becomes clear from that, how the truthfulness and lying, in this example, was based upon the compliance of the statement of the informer with his conviction, as opposed to its compliance with the present situation and the reality.

- And His, the Most High’s, statement, about the saying of Sulaymān ṣ.a. to Hud-hud:

313 And it was pointed out by Al-Khattib Al-Qazwī in his book, Al-‘Iḍāḥah Fi ‘Ullm Al-Balāghah, page 18; published by Dār Al-Kutub Al-‘Ilmiyyah, 1405 H.
314 Al-Munāfiqūn, 1.
He said: “We shall see whether you speak the truth or you are (one) of the liars.” 315

Therefore, the intent of the truthfulness here was the compliance of the statement with the present situation (i.e. reality), which is being conveyed, as it was been indicated in the context of these verses.

• And His, the Most High’s, statement:

Say: “O mankind! Verily, I am sent to you all as the Messenger of Allāh...” 316

Therefore this is a truthful conveyance from the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ And its truthfulness is from both aspects; from the aspect of the compliance of this statement with his conviction and from its compliance with the present situation (i.e. reality). This is because he ﷺ believed that he was the Messenger of Allāh – being from the point of his conviction – and he was truthfully the Messenger of Allāh – being from the point of the present situation (i.e. reality).

So these examples clarify the difference between the truthfulness of the informer, from the point of the compliance of his statement to his conviction as well as the point of the compliance of his statement with the present situation (i.e. reality) and that there wasn’t necessarily a tie between these two points, as they can sometimes be combined or they can be separate.

315 An-Naml, 27.
[Doubt 4: What was Hātib telling the truth about?]

And by applying this to the affirmation of truthfulness (Tasdiq) of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم to Hātib, may Allāh be pleased with him, we see that Hātib conveyed two matters; that he did what he did in order to protect his relatives in Makkah and that he did not do so from disbelief (Kufr). And the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم said that he had conveyed the truth in his saying. So was this truthfulness from the point of the compliance of his statement with his conviction or from the point of its compliance with that present situation (i.e. reality). Or was it from both points combined? And that which identifies the intent here is looking to the outside indicators (Qarā’īn) and the other evidences.

So his statement that he did not do what he did from the allegiance (Muwalāt) of the disbelievers (Kuffār), from disbelief (Kufr), nor from apostasy from the religion; in other words, he did not do so with the intent of disbelief (Kufr), then his truthfulness is from the point of the compliance of his statement with his conviction, and that he did not intend disbelief (Kufr), and not from the point of its compliance with that present situation (i.e. reality) of allegiance to the disbelievers not being disbelief (Kufr). And the evidence upon offsetting his truthfulness to the first point but not the second, is the indication of the Book and the Sunnah and the consensus (Ijmā’), regarding allegiance (Muwalāt) of the disbelievers (Kuffār), by helping them against the Muslims – as Hātib did – being disbelief (Kufr). So it is confirmed that his statement is contrary to the present situation (i.e. reality), even if it complies with his conviction.

And as for his (i.e. Hātib’s) using his fear for his relatives as an excuse, then he was truthful in his excuse and that this was what caused him to do what he did. So his truthfulness in this case was from the point of the compliance of his statement to that of his conviction, not from the point of its compliance with that present situation and the reality. And that is due to the establishment of the evidence upon that fear alone – without any refuge-seeking compulsion (actually) taking place – that does not entitle the concession (Rukhsah) for committing disbelief (Kufr), which in this case is the allegiance (Muwłat) of the disbelievers (Kuffār).

So it has been affirmed by looking to the outside indicators (Qara‘in) and the other evidences, that the affirmation of truthfulness (Tasdiq) of the Prophet ﷺ towards Hātib, was from the point of the compliance of his statement with his (i.e. Hātib’s) conviction and not its compliance with that present situation. And upon this, the affirmation of the truthfulness (Tasdiq) of the Prophet ﷺ towards him, is not an approval of his statement, nor does it indicate that what he did was not disbelief (Kufr), just as it does not indicate that his excuse is correct, or that it (i.e. this excuse on its own) is to be considered in the (Islāmic) legislation (Shara‘).

And all of this is in the clarification that what Hātib, may Allāh be pleased with him, committed was disbelief (Kufr). And Shaykh Al-Islām, Muḥammad ibn Ḥāmid-Wahhāb, mentioned it in Nawāqidh Al-Islām, and it is the helping the polytheists ( Mushrikīn ) against the Muslims. And the ‘helping’ could be in the form of fighting alongside them, like Al-‘Abbās, may Allāh be pleased with him, did, or by pointing out the vulnerabilities of the Muslims to them, like Hātib, may Allāh be pleased with him, did. And with this, ‘Umar described him, as Ibn Ḥajar said, “And Al-Hārith added, ‘So ’Umar said, ‘But yes, and he betrayed and helped your enemies against you.” 317 And I narrated previously, the saying of the Shaykh, Ḥamad ibn Ḥātim An-Najdī, “Verily, the helping the polytheists (Mushrikīn) and pointing out the vulnerabilities of the Muslims, or defending them with the tongues, or being pleased with what they are upon; all of these are things, which cause one to disbelieve. And those whom they (i.e. these actions) come from; if they are not from any of the aforementioned compulsion, then they are apostates, even if, while doing so, they hate the disbelievers (Kuffār) and love the Muslims.” 318

[Doubt 5: What Excused the Declaration of Hāṭib’s Disbelief (Takfīr)?]

This, plus it has come in the magazine Al-Murābitūn, which comes from the same group, which the book Ar-Risālah Al-Limānīyyah came from, their saying: “And there is to be no attention given to that which some of the ignorant ones repeat, saying that Hāṭib committed disbelief (Kufr), but was forgiven because he was from the people of Badr. This is because, verily, Allāh forgives not that partners should be set up with him in worship, but He forgives except that (anything else) to whom He pleases. And Allāh had protected the people of Badr so that they did not fall into Shirk. This is beyond the fact that the clear text in which there is the affirmation of truthfulness (Tasdīq) of the Messenger towards him for what he (i.e. Hāṭib) said, that he did not do so disbelieving, nor while apostatizing.” 319 And the author of Ar-Risālah Al-Limānīyyah, has similar words to these on page 21-22, so I say: That is the extent of their knowledge. And I comment on their statements with what follows:

• As for Hāṭib committing a disbelief (Kufr), then this is the correct (thing), according to the Book and the Sunnah and the consensus (Ijmā’, concerning the one who helps the disbelievers (Kuffār) against the Muslims.

• And as for the affirmation of truthfulness (Tasdīq) of the Prophet ﷺ towards him, then the saying has passed that it was the affirmation of truthfulness (Tasdīq) of his statement and not an approval of his claim. In other words, he told the truth in the compliance of his statement to that of his conviction, not by its compliance with that present situation and the reality.

• And as for him being forgiven because he as from the people of Badr, then he (himself) did not disbelieve anyway such that he could be forgiven for Shirk. And this is the difference between the absolute description with the declaration of disbelief (Takfîr) vs. the declaration of disbelief (Takfîr) of a specific individual. So he committed a disbelief (Kufr), but he did not (personally) disbelieve, due to the presence of a preventative factor (Mâni’) from declaring his disbelief (Takfîr). And the preventative factor (Mâni’) here is not his participation at Badr. Rather, it is another issue, which shall be clarified shortly, by the will of Allâh.

• And for their using of His, the Most High’s, statement:

Verily, Allâh forgives not that partners should be set up with him...  320

...then this concerns the dead and not the living one. In other words, He does not forgive the one who dies as a polytheist (Mushrik). And this is a matter of consensus (Ijmâ‘). As for the living one, then everything is forgiven from him with repentance (Tawbah); the Shirk and what is less than it – whether he was a participant at Badr or not a participant at Badr. But Allâh had protected the participants from Shirk – just like He, the Most High, said:

Say to those who have disbelieved, if they cease (from disbelief) their past will be forgiven. But if they return (thereto), then the examples of those (punished) before them have already preceded (as a warning). 321

And the verses concerning the forgiveness of the disbelief (Kufr), through repentance, are abundant as in the end of Al-Furqân and as in the verse of Az-Zumar.

And after the clarification concerning that what Hâtib committed from the outward, apparent allegiance (Muwalât Ath-Thâhirah), was disbelief (Kufr); and this is the general declaration of disbelief (Takfîr), which is applied for the cause itself (i.e. allegiance), we shall mention the preventative factor 321 Al-Anfîl, 38.

(Ma‘nî’), which prevented declaring his disbelief (Takfîr), as a specific individual.

c) As for this preventative factor (Ma‘nî’), then it is the excuse that he offered in his defense. And that was his fear from the disbelievers (Kuffâr) upon his family and his wealth in Makkah. And Hâtîb assumed that this excuse entitled him to the concession (Rukhsah), for what he did. And this excuse of his is not considered in the (Islâmîc) legislation (Shâra’), as it has passed regarding fear of the disbelievers, that on its own – without any compulsion occurring – does not entitle one to the concession (Rukhsah) for the allegiance (Muwalât), which causes one to disbelieve, which was what he committed. And for this, Allah, the Most High, admonished him in the same Sûrah, with His statement:

Neither your relatives nor your children will benefit you on the Day of Resurrection (against Allah). He will judge between you. 322

The Shaykh, Sulaymân ibn ‘Abdullâh, ibn Muḥammad ‘Abdul-Wahhâb, said in his treatise Hukm Muwalât Ahl Al-Ishrâk, “Then He, the Most High, mentioned the doubt (Shubhah) of he who uses the ties of kinship and the children, as He said: ... your relatives nor your children will benefit you on the Day of Resurrection (against Allah). He will judge between you. And Allah is the All-Seer of what you do. 323 So He, the Most High, did not excuse those who use the ties of kinship and the children and the fear upon them or the hardships in parting from them. Rather, He informed that they will be of no benefit on the Day of Resurrection and that they would not benefit at all from the punishment of Allah, as He said in the other verse: Then, when the Trumpet is blown, there will be no kinship among them that Day, nor will they ask of one another. 324 325

[Doubt 6: Why Did the Misinterpretation (Ta’wil) of Hātib Prevent the Declaration of his Disbelief (Takfir)?]

And Hātib, may Allāh be pleased with him, (mistakenly) interpreted that his fear of the disbelievers (Kuffār) upon his family and his wealth, entitled him to the concession (Rukhsāh) for what he did. But he was mistaken in his interpretation, so Allāh admonished him concerning that, as it was indicated by the previous verse, which shows that he was mistaken. And this mistaken interpretation was the preventative factor (Māni’) from declaring his disbelief (Takfir), just as the mistaken interpretation was a preventative factor (Māni’) from the declaring the disbelief (Takfir) of Qudāmah ibn Math‘ūn, may Allāh be pleased with him. And he was also from the people of Badr, when he consumed the alcohol, assuming it was permissible by interpreting that from His, the Most High’s, statement:

Those who believe and do righteous good deeds; there is no sin on them for what they consumed... 326

...until ’Umar, may Allāh be pleased with him, said to him, “You are mistaken, your backside in a pit! 327 If you feared Allāh, then you would not have consumed it.” 328 And I mentioned this story and its references from the 327 This is an Arabic phrase which is said to someone who makes a big mistake. It is as if to say that their backside has fallen into a pit, which is like a mistake, which is meant to show the severity of the mistake.

328 Trans. Note: “So they drank the alcohol and said that it was lawful (Halāl), while they were in Shām. So ’Umar went to them and the people pointed them out and said, ’O Amīr Al-Ma’mūnīn, we see that they have lied against Allāh and legalized in His religion something that He did not permit. So cut off their heads!’ ’Ali, (who was present) was silent. So he (i.e. ’Umar) said, ’What do you say about them, Abul-Hasan?’ He (i.e. ’Ali) said, ’We shall give them time to repent. If they do so, we shall whip them eighty time for their consumption of the alcohol, but if they do no repent, we shall cut off their heads for lying against Allāh and legalizing something in His religion, something that He did not permit.’ So they gave them time to repent and they repented and were whipped eighty times. Then ’Umar said to Qudāmah, ’You were mistaken. If you feared Allāh and believed and did righteous deeds, then you would not have consumed the alcohol.” [Ma‘ānī Āthār At-Talḥāwī. Some of its chains books of knowledge in “The Important Notice”, within my commentary upon Al-‘Aqidah At-Tahawiyyah, concerning those of the sins, which the declaration of disbelief (Takfīr) is conditional upon the one who commits it rejecting or making it to be permissible vs. those which are not conditional upon that. So just as the mistake in interpretation prevented declaring the disbelief (Takfīr) of Qudāmah, it likewise prevented declaring the disbelief (Takfīr) of Hātib, while they were both participants in Badr. And He, the Most High, has stated:

And there is no sin on you if you make a mistake therein...

And concerning the clarification of Hātib’s excuse, Ibn Hajar said, “And the excuse of Hātib was what he mentioned, as he did this while interpreting that there was no harm in it.”

Ibn Hajar was referring to what was narrated in some of the phrasings of the Hadīth, wherein Hātib said, “And I knew that this would not have any harm upon you (i.e. the Prophet ﷺ).”

And also concerning the clarification of Hātib’s excuse, Ibn Kathīr said, “And He, the Most High, said: Let not the believers take the disbelievers as Awliyā’ (supporters, helpers, etc.) instead of the believers, and whoever does that will never be helped by Allāh in any way, except if you indeed fear a danger from them. And Allāh warns you against Himself (His Punishment)...”

And for this (reason), the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ accepted the excuse of Hātib, when he mentioned that he only did so in order to coax Quraysh (into his favor), due to what remained with them from (his) wealth and children.”

of narration are in Fath Al-Bāri beneath the chapter entitled: “The Punishment for Consuming Alcohol” and in Iktīf Al-Mulhādin, page 95.]

329 Al-Ahzāb, 5.

330 Fath Al-Bāri, Vol. 8/634.

331 Ibn Taymiyyah pointed this (narration) out in Majmū’ Al-Fatāwa, Vol. 35/68.

332 Trans. Note: Al-‘Imrān, 28.

Ibn Kathîr’s intent was to say that Hâtit assumed that what he committed entered beneath the point of the Tuqyah, which is permitted out of fear. And he (i.e. Hâtit) was mistaken because what he committed was allegiance (Muwalât) that causes one to disbelieve, which is not entitled to the Rukhsah out of fear, as He, the Most High, said:

And if any amongst you takes them as Awliyâ, then surely he is one of them.

– Until His statement:

...they say: “We fear lest some misfortune of a disaster may befall us.”

So Allâh judged upon them with disbelief, due to the allegiance (Muwalât) of the disbelievers (Kuffâr), despite their using the excuse of fear. But Allâh did not label them as liars in this excuse of theirs. So with that, it becomes known that the fear does not entitle one to the concession (Rukhsah) for the allegiance (Muwalât) of the disbelievers (Kuffâr), and it becomes known that Hâtit was mistaken in his assumption that his fear for his family and his wealth entitled him to the concession (Rukhsah), for that which he committed from the allegiance (Muwalât) of the disbelievers (Kuffâr).

And in clarifying that the one who mistakenly interprets is not to be judged upon with disbelief (Kufr) – if he were to commit something, which causes disbelief (Kufr), due to his interpretation – until it has been made clear to him. Then if he continues after the clarification; at that point, he is judged upon with disbelief (Kufr). Ibn Taymiyyah, may Allâh be merciful to him, said, “So if the one who was mistaken in his interpretation is not judged upon with disbelief (Kufr) except after the clarification has been made to him and after he has been approached to repent – like the companions (Salhâbah) did with the assembly who made the alcohol permissible – therefore in other than that, it is even more appropriate and more suitable.” And Ibn Taymiyyah also said, “As for the four compulsory deeds (i.e. prayer, alms-giving, fasting and pilgrimage); then if he rejects the obligation of any of them after he has been reached by the clarifying argument (Al-Hujjah), then he is a disbeliever (Kāfir). And likewise is whoever rejects the forbiddance of the openly forbidden things, about which their forbiddance has been often repeated (Mutawātir), such as all forms of illicit sexual activity (Fawāhiš) and the oppression (Thulm) and the lying and the alcohol and the likes of that. As for the one whom the clarifying argument (Al-Hujjah) has not been made to, such as if he were new to Islām, or was raised in a remote Bedouin region, such that the legislations of Islām did not reach him there, or the likes of that, or if he is mistaken and assumes that those who believe and do good deeds have been made an exception in the prohibition of the alcohol, like those whom ’Umar approached for their repentance, were mistaken in, and things like that; then approaching them to repent is to be done and the clarifying argument is to be made upon them. Then if they persist, they disbelieve at that time. And they are not judged upon with disbelief (Kufr) prior to that, just as the companions (Ṣahābah) did not judge upon Qudāmah ibn Mathʿūn and his companions with disbelief (Kufr) when they made the mistake in that which they erred in their interpretation.”

[Doubt 7: If Hātib Did Commit Disbelief (Kufr), Then Why Wasn’t He Approached to Perform Repentance (Tawbah)?]

Then if it is asked, “If it is obligatory to approach him for repentance and to clarify to him, then why wasn’t it confirmed that the Prophet ﷺ approached Hātib for repentance?” Then the clarification has passed in the rule of declaring disbelief (Takfīr), that the approaching for repentance; even if its meaning in principle is to request the repentance from the one who has been judged upon with apostasy and disbelief (Kufr), except that it became customarily used by the scholars (ʿUlamā) for what comes prior to the judgement of apostasy from clarifying the circumstances and the removal of the preventative factors from the individual who committed an action of disbelief (Kufr). And it is confirmed that the Prophet ﷺ clarified Hātib’s circumstances by saying to him, “What is this, O Hātib?” So he (i.e. Hātib) presented his excuse, which was considered a preventative factor (Māni’) from declaring his disbelief (Takfīr). As for Hātib’s confession concerning the evil of what he had done and regarding his mistake in what he used as an excuse, then this was taken into consideration by Allāh, the Most High, when He revealed about Hātib in the beginning of Sūrat Al-Mumtalāhinah and this clarification of Allāh is sufficient as a clarification. And He, the Most High, has said in these verses:

And whosoever of you (Muslims) does that, then indeed he has gone (far) astray, (away) from the Straight Path. 337

This concerns the clarification of the evil of what he did. And He, the Most High, said:

Neither your relatives nor your children will benefit you on the Day of Resurrection (against Allāh). He will judge between you. 338

And this concerns the clarification of his mistake in what he used as an excuse (saying) that his family and his children did not entitle him to the Rukhīsah for what he committed, because they would not benefit him at all if Allāh becomes angry with him, due to his action.

[Doubt 8: Even if Hātib Was Excused from the Disbelief (Kufr), Why Wasn’t He Punished for Committing That Act?]

d) Then if the one, who commits disbelief (Kufr), due to a misinterpretation, is not judged upon with disbelief (Kufr), due to his 337 Trans. Note: Al-Mumtalāhinah, 1.

338 Al-Mumtalāhinah, 3.
excuse of misinterpretation, so is it obligatory to apply the punishment upon him afterwards? And the answer is that his punishment depends on the type of sin and whether that sin is from those sins, which have a specific penalty (Hadd) from penalties associated with it – and this is the punishment that has been decreed in the (Islāmic) legislation (Sharā') as one of Allāh, the Most High’s, rights. So (in this case) is it obligatory to establish the penalty (Hadd)? Or was it from the sins that do not have a specific penalty (Hadd)? And those sins, which do not have a specific penalty (Hadd) are punished with Ta'zīr, which can range in degree from shaming (the offender) to his execution, according to the level which would repel his evil and mischief 339 just as Shaykh Al-Islām, Ibn Taymiyyah affirmed in his treatise As-Siyāsah Ash-Shar'iyyah. And this (verdict) is up to the discretion of the Imām or the ruler – in other words, the judge (Qādī). And the difference between these two types could be clarified by offering an example of both types:

So Qudāmah ibn Math‘ūn and Hātib ibn Abī Balta‘ah both committed disbelief (Kufr), due to misinterpretation. Therefore, they did not disbelieve

339 Trans. Note: Ta’zīr refers to the penalties, which are instituted by the Imām or the judge (Qādī) for sins, which do not have specified penalties (Hudūd) in the Shari‘ah. The ‘Allāmah, Ibn Al-Qayyim, may Allāh be merciful to him, said, “And the sins are thri types; a type, which has a specific penalty (Hadd), and for which there is no expiation (Kaffārah), such as illicit sex (Zinā) and theft and drinking alcohol and slandering (in regards to chastity). And sufficient in these (sins) are the penalties, without imprisonment or Ta’zīr. And (secondly), a type for which there is an expiation (Kaffārah), such as sexual intercourse in the state of Ihjām (as in Hajj or ‘Umrah) or during a day in Ramadān, or sexual intercourse with one’s wife whom he has forbidden to himself (through Thilhūr), prior to offering the expiation (Kaffārah). And sufficient in these (sins) are the expiations, without any specified penalty (Hadd). But is it sufficient without Ta’zīr? There are two opinions in this, from the jurists (Fuqahā‘) and they both come from the companions of (Imām) Ahmad as well as others. And (thirdly), a type, for which there is no expiation (Kaffārah) nor is there any specified penalty (Hadd), such as stealing something, which does not reach the level of amputation and the intentional false oath, according to Ahmad and Abī Hanifah or gazing upon the foreign (i.e. marriageable) female. Therefore this allows a Ta’zīr out of obligation, according to most (scholars), and out of permissibility according to Ash-Shāfi‘ī.” [Al-Turuq Al-Ḥukmiyyah Fī As-Siyāsah Ash-Shar‘iyyah, page 119, publication of Dār Ihyā’ Al-‘Ulūm, Beirut.]

\text{وَأَلْيَاءُ الْرَّجُمَ،}

Those who believe and do righteous good deeds; there is no sin on them for what they consumed…\(^{340}\)

And Hātib formed allegiance with the disbelievers (Kuffār) and helped them against the Muslims, due misinterpreting an excuse for that and (assuming) that it would not harm the Muslims. But despite the fact that neither of them disbelieved from this, Qudāmah received the penalty (Hadd) for drinking wine, whereas Hātib was excused, while both of them participated in Badr. So what was the difference?

And the difference is that the sin of Qudāmah was one, which had a specific penalty – and that was his drinking of the wine – therefore he was not pardoned for that, due to his participation at Badr. And the one who established the penalty (Hadd) upon him was ‘Umar, during his Khilāfah, just as the Prophet ﷺ established the penalty (Hadd) for slander upon Mustīh ibn Uthāthah – while he was a participant at Badr – when he took part in the Event of the Lie, \(^{341}\) while at the same time, the sin of Hātib was one of Ta’zīr, which can be excused or pardoned by the Īmām. So the Prophet ﷺ pardoned that, due to his passed (deeds) and his participation at Badr. And this is from the point of what was narrated from him ﷺ when he said, “Pardon the missteps of the people of status, except in the prescribed penalties (Hudūd).” \(^{342}\) And the people of status are those who are not known for evil, just as Ibn Al-Athîr mentioned. 343 And concerning the difference between the two types of sins; those with the specified penalty (Hadd) and those without a specified penalty (Hadd), Ibn Hajîr, may Allah be merciful to him, said, “And the establishment of the penalty (Hadd) upon Mustih, due to the slandering of ʿĀ’ishah, may Allah be pleased with her, despite the fact that he participated at Badr, was confusing. Therefore what he committed from this major sin (Kabîrah) was not excused, while Hâtib was excused. So was that based upon his being from the people of Badr? And the answer is what has passed in the Chapter: The Virtue of Those Who Participated at Badr,” which is that the excusing the people of Badr is in matters for which there is no specific penalty (Hadd).” 344 And in the chapter he referred to, Ibn Hajîr said, “And they agreed that the aforementioned glad tidings concern the rulings in the Hereafter, not in the rulings of this worldly life (Dunya), such as the establishment of the specified penalties (Hudûd) and other things.” 345 And the glad tidings mentioned were the forgiveness of the sins for the people of Badr.

[Summary]

And I shall summarize what I said concerning the Hadīth of Hātib, may Allāh be pleased with him, in what follows:

- That Hātib, may Allāh be pleased with him, formed allegiance (Wilayah) with the disbelievers (Kuffār) and helped them against the Muslims and he was the one for whom (Allāh) revealed:

  O you who believe! Take not My enemies and your enemies (i.e. disbelievers and polytheists, etc.) as friends...

- That the allegiance (Muwalāt) of the disbelievers (Kuffār) is disbelief (Kufr), without making the condition that it must be accompanied with allegiance of the heart (Muwalāt Al-Qalbiyyah), as the author of Ar-Risālah Al-Limāniyyah claimed. And this is due to His, the Most High’s, statement:

  “And if any amongst you takes them as Awliyā’, then surely he is one of them.”

  …until His statement:

  “…they say: ‘We fear lest some misfortune of a disaster may befall us.”

- We conclude from this that Hātib committed disbelief (Kufr) and not (merely) a disobedience as the author and others have claimed.

- However, Hātib did not (personally) disbelieve due to the presence of a preventative factor (Māni’) in his defense from the Takfir. And that was the interpretation – even though he was mistaken in that – and the preventative factor (Māni’) was not his participation at Badr, as some people assume.

- And that this preventative factor (Mani’); even if it prevented declaring his disbelief (Takfīr), it did not prevent his deserving of Ta’zīr punishment. And due to this, ʿUmar referred to the Prophet ﷺ a second time concerning his execution, yet his participation of Badr prevented that. And due to this, a school (Mathḥab) from a group of the scholars (ʿUlamā) became (of the opinion) that a spy is to be killed and that this was to be referred to the discretion of the Imām. Ibn Al-Qayyim mentioned this in “The Benefits From the Battle of the Conquest of Makkah”. 348 And Ibn Ḥajar also mentioned it, just as some of the scholars (ʿUlamā) held the disbelief (Kufr) of the spy who is attributed to Islām, saying that this is Zandaqah.349

And with this, you will see that there were (actually) two preventative factors (Mawāni’), which were present in the event of Ḥātib, may Allāh be pleased with him:

The First: A preventative factor (Māni’) from declaring his disbelief (Takfīr), which was the interpretation (Taʾwil), even though it was mistaken. And this was precisely what took place with Qudāmah ibn Mathʿūn.

The Second: A preventative factor (Māni’) from his unspecified penalty (Taʿzīr), which was his participation at Badr.

This is the verified saying, which is backed by the reconciled evidences in the Ṣharī’ah, concerning the event of Ḥātib. And many disagreements have been narrated concerning the extracted points by the scholars (ʿUlamā) from this event and they are confirmed in the Tafsīrs and the explanations of the 349 Fath Al-Bārī, Vol. 8/635 and look to the passed references.

Hadiths. And I have avoided mentioning them, except for what the evidences support. And He, the Most High, said:

Had it been from other than Allâh, they would surely have found therein many contradictions. 350

And the teacher, ‘Abdul-Majid Ash-Shâthili, said in his book Hadd Al-Islâm, that all of the allegiance (Muwalât) to the disbelievers (Kuffâr) is disbelief (Kufr). And this is correct; however he had difficulty with the Hadith of Hâtib and that he did not disbelieve by his action. So he said that it was not from the allegiance (Muwalât) and this was a mistake, because Sûrat Al-Mumtaţînâh was revealed for him and it is clear that what he committed was allegiance (Muwalât).

[Issue: The One Who Shows Islâm While Spying on the Muslims for the Disbelievers (Kuffâr)]

And know that those who declared the execution of the spy and those who said that he is not killed; both of them used the Hadith of Hâtib as evidence as it is known in the books of jurisprudence (Fiqh) and Hadith, until one of the contemporaries came and said that showing the Islâm is alone sufficient to prevent the execution of the spy, and he disputed the saying of Ibn Al-Qayyim, and others that the preventative factor from the execution of Hâtib was his participation at Badr, but that it is allowed to kill the one who is not of this description. And this contemporary used the Hadith of Furât ibn Hayyân as evidence. And in it, “…the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ ordered his execution, while he was an eye for Abi Sufyân, while he was pledged (i.e. in terms of loyalty and inheritance) to a man from the Helpers (Ansâr). So he passed by a group (lit. circle) of the Helpers (Ansâr) and said, “I am a Muslim.” So a man from the Helpers (Ansâr) said, “O Messenger of Allâh, he says, ‘I am a Muslim.’ So the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said, “Verily, from you are men who we leave them to their faith (Imân); from them is Furāt Ibn Ḥayyān.” 351 So this contemporary – and he is Dr. Muḥammad Khayr Haykal – said that the reason, which prevented the execution of Furāt ibn Ḥayyān, was the fact that he openly declared his Ḩādith. Then he mentioned the saying of Ibn Al-Qayyim and then he said, verbatim: “These words of Ibn Al-Qayyim; in them there is an overlooking of the Hadith of Furāt ibn Ḥayyān, which indicates that Ḩādith, on its own, is the only preventative factor (Māni’) for the execution of a spy. And it is known that reconciling the evidences is more appropriate then using some of it while overlooking the other part of it.” Then he said that perhaps his (i.e. Ibn Al-Qayyim’s) failure to mention the Hadith of Furāt was due to the weakness of some of its narrations. 352 And I say that the issue is not like the author assumed, because this Hadith of Furāt concerns the covenanted disbeliever (Muʿāhid Kāfir) if he spies upon the Muslims. And due to this, Abū Dāwūd narrates it in his Sunan beneath his chapter: “The Thimmī 353 Spy.” Therefore, if he spies, then his covenant (ʿAhd) is broken and he deserves to be executed. But if he entered into Islām, then his blood becomes protected, due to his صلِّ ﻋﻠَیه ﺑﺴﻠﻢ ﺎﷲ statement, “Islām erases what came before it.” – The Hadith. 354

And this was what happened with Furāt as there was no Islām known from him beforehand. Then when he entered Islām, his Islām erased what he had done. And this is contrary to a Muslim, whose Islām is known, spying (on the Muslims on behalf of the disbelievers). And this (situation) has no Hadith concerning it except for the Hadith of Ḥātib. So Ibn Al-Qayyim did not overlook the Hadith of Furāt; rather the author was the one who overlooked the difference between the two matters, because the Hadith of Ḥātib concerns one issue and the Hadith of Furāt concerns another issue.

354 Narrated by Muslim.
A Notice Concerning a Huge Mistake

The author of Ar-Risālah Al-Limāniyyah said in what I narrated from him earlier, “What we extract from that clear evidence is that the allegiance (Muwalāt) of Hātib was outwardly apparent (Thāhirīyyah), which he committed for a benefit in this worldly life (Dunyā), while his heart was at rest with faith (Īmān). And if it were internally hidden allegiance (Muwalāt Batinīyyah), then he would have disbelieved.” 355 And in this, he is a blind follower (Muqalid) upon what was mentioned by Abū Bakr ibn Al-‘Arabī and Al-Qurtubī, in their Tafsīrs. Al-Qurtubī said, “Whoever actively searches for the vulnerabilities of the Muslims to provide intelligence about them and inform their enemy about their (secret) formation, then with that he is not a disbeliever (Kāfir) if this action was due to a benefit of this worldly life (Dunyā), while his belief upon that (i.e. Islām) remains intact, just as Hātib did, when he intended with that to gain the hand, while not intending apostasy (Riddah) from the religion.” 356

And this saying is from the worst of what is said. And it opens the door of apostasy (Riddah) and disbelief (Kufr) to the point where it is wide open to whomever wills to commit disbelief. Then, he (i.e. the one being questioned about his action) will use as his excuse, that he had a benefit of this worldly life (Dunyā) and I shall comment on this in what follows:

- As for the statement of Al-Qurtubī, “…while not intending apostasy (Riddah) from the religion,” then this mistake was made into a notice and it passed in the section dealing with the mistakes of declaring disbelief (Takfīr) and that what is considered is the intention of committing the action, which causes one to disbelieve; not intending to disbelieve with that. And I elaborated concerning the notice upon this with abundant evidence. And I mentioned there, the saying of Shaykh Al-Islām, Ibn Taymiyyah: “And in general, whoever says or does that which is disbelief (Kufr), then he disbelieves with that, even if he did not intend to become a

disbeliever (Kāfir), as no one intends the disbelief (Kufr) except by that which Allāh wills.” 357

- As for the saying that the one who points out the vulnerabilities to the enemy of the Muslims does not disbelieve if he did so for a benefit from this worldly life (Dunyā), then this is a mistaken extraction from the event of Hātib, because what made him commit what he did was not only due to a benefit from this worldly life (Dunyā), rather it was the fear of the disbelievers (Kuffār) upon his offspring. So contemplate the difference.

- And the majority of the disbelievers (Kuffār) did not disbelieve except for the worldly life benefits by choosing the worldly life over the Hereafter, as He, the Most High, said:

And woe unto the disbelievers from a severe torment; those who prefer the life of this world instead of the Hereafter... 358

And Allāh described the disbelievers (Kuffār) of the People of the Book (Ahl Al-Kitāb) as being:

Those are they who have bought the life of this world at the price of the Hereafter. 359

And He described them as follows:

357 As-Sārīm Al-Maslūl, page 177-178.
358 Ibrāhīm, 2-3.
359 Al-Baqarah, 86.
360 Āl-‘Imrān, 187.
And Herqal did not disbelieve and refuse Islam except due to being reluctant about giving up his kingdom, as it is apparent from the Hadith, which is agreed upon (i.e. Bukhārī and Muslim), from Ibn ʿAbbās from Abī Sufyān. Nor did Al-Maqūqas refuse Islam – after the Prophet (SAW) sent to him inviting him to it – except out of love for his worldly life (Dunyā) and fear of losing his kingdom. 361 And Ibn Taymiyyah narrated his story and said in its conclusion that when he refused Islam, the Prophet (SAW) said to him, “The vile one is reluctant about giving up his kingdom, while there is no eternity for his kingdom.” 362 And Herqal and Al-Maqūqas along with the Jews and many of the disbelievers (Kuffār) used to know that he was truly the Messenger of Allāh, yet they refused Islam out of love for the worldly life (Dunyā). He, the Most High, said:

And when there came to them, a Book from Allāh confirming what is with them, although aforetime they had invoked Allāh in order to gain victory over those who disbelieved, then when there came to them that which they had recognized, they disbelieved in it. So let the Curse of Allāh be on the disbelievers. 363 And those kings and these disbelieving leaders, who rule the countries of the Muslims nowadays by other than Islam; nothing prevents them from ruling with Islam, except for love of this worldly life (Dunyā) and indulging in its delights and fear of losing their kingdoms and the restriction of their authority. And this is from the blinded perception, which Allāh has punished

them with, as a result of their turning away (from His laws). And if they entered Islâm, then their worldly life (Dunyâ) and their Hereafter would have been safeguarded for them, just as the Prophet ﷺ said in his letter to Herqal: “Enter Islâm and you will be safeguarded.” And Ibn Hâjar pointed to the safety, which was promised, and mentioned that it includes the safety of this worldly life (Dunyâ) as well as the Hereafter and the remaining of his kingdom, as the Prophet retained the kings who entered into Islâm, upon their kingdoms. But the issue is just as He, the Most High, said:

And Allâh will cause to go astray those who are Thâlimûn, and Allâh does what He wills. 364

And the outcome is that what Hâtit did was disbelief (Kufr) and no one is entitled to the concession (Rukhsah) for disbelief (Kufr), except with compulsion (Ikrâh). There is no concession (Rukhsah) for it due to benefits from this worldly life (Dunyâ) nor due to fear alone, as long as the compulsion (Ikrâh) has not occurred. And whoever disbelieves willingly, without compulsion; then his heart has been opened to disbelief. And most of those who do that, only do so for the benefits of this worldly life (Dunyâ). And that is indicated by His, the Most High’s, statement:

Whoever disbelieved in Allâh after his belief, except him who is forced thereto and whose heart is at rest with Faith but such as open their hearts to disbelief, on them is wrath from Allâh, and theirs will be a great torment. That is because they loved and preferred the life of this world over that of the Hereafter. 365

And in commenting upon these verses, Shaykh Al-Islâm, Muhammad ibn ‘Abdul-Wahhâb, may Allâh be merciful to him, said, “But it is upon you to understand two verses from the Book of Allāh. The first of the two is: Make no excuse; you have disbelieved after you had believed. 366 So if it has been affirmed to you that some of the companions (Sahābah) who battled against the Romans alongside the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ disbelieved due to a word, which they said out of joking and playing, then it becomes clear to you that the one who speaks disbelief (Kufr) or performs it out of fearing a decrease in wealth or high status or anyone’s favor, is greater than the one who speaks a word, while joking in it.” 367

“And the second verse is: Whoever disbelieved in Allāh after his belief, except him who is compelled thereto and whose heart is at rest with Faith... 368 Therefore Allāh did not excuse from those people, except the one who was compelled, while his heart was at rest with faith (Īmān). As for other than this one, then he has disbelieved after his faith (Īmān), whether he did so out of fear or to gain someone’s favor or extreme devotion to his nation or his family or his tribe of his wealth or whether he did so while joking or other things than that, except the one who is compelled. And the verse indicates this from two points:

366 At-Tawbah, 66.

367 Trans. Note: The incident being referred to in this point of the Shaykh, Muhammad ibn ‘Abdul-Wahhab, may Allāh be merciful to him, is what was narrated by Ibn Kathir in his Tafsīr of: Make no excuse; you have disbelieved after you had believed. [At-Tawbah, 66] ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Umar said, ‘During the battle of Tabūk, a man was sitting in a gathering and said, ‘I have never seen the likes of these reciters (i.e. the companions) of ours! They have the fattest stomachs, the most lying tongues and the most cowardice in battle.’ A man in the Masjid said, ‘You have lied! You are a hypocrite, and verily, I shall inform the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ a section of the Qur’ān was revealed about it.” ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Umar said, “I saw that man afterwards holding the reigns of the camel of the Messenger of Allāh while being dusted with pebbles (i.e. from the strides of the camel) saying, ‘O Messenger of Allāh, we were only engaged in idle talk while jesting.” And the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would recite: Was it at Allāh, and His Ayāt (verses) and His Messenger that you were mocking? [At-Tawbah, 65].” [Tafsīr At-Tabari, Vol. 14/333 and Tafsīr Ibn Kathīr, Vol. 2/484; publication of Dār Al-Fayhā’, Damascus and Dār As-Salām, Riyād, 2nd Edition, 1418 H.]

368 An-Nahl, 106.
“The First: His statement: ... except him who is compelled... Therefore Allāh did not exempt anyone except the one who was compelled and it is known that the person is not compelled except upon a deed or a statement. As for the belief (‘Aqidah) of the heart, then no one is compelled in that.

“The Second: His, the Most High’s, statement: That is because they loved and preferred the life of this world over that of the Hereafter. Therefore Allāh clearly stated that this disbelief (Kufr) and punishment was not due to belief or ignorance or hatred of the religion or love for disbelief (Kufr). Rather, its cause was only that he had in that, a portion from the shares of this worldly life (Dunyā). So he prioritized that ahead of the religion, and Allāh, Glory be to Him, and Most High, knows best.”

And in the commentary upon the same verses of Sūrat An-Nahl, Ibn Taymiyyah, may Allāh be merciful to him, said, “And Allāh, Glory be to Him, and Most High, made the prioritization of this worldly life (Dunyā) over that of the Hereafter to be the basis for which necessitated their loss. And choosing this worldly life (Dunyā) over the Hereafter could occur even with knowledge (‘Ilm) and inner assent (Tasdiq) that the disbelief (Kufr) will harm his Hereafter and that he will have no share in the Hereafter.”

And so with this, it becomes clear to you that disbelief (Kufr) is not granted any concession (Rukhsah) due to the benefits of the worldly life (Dunyā) in any case, and that this is a false excuse. And even more false that that is the usage of the Hadīth of Hātib to be an evidence for this (conclusion). Rather, most of the disbelievers (Kuffār) only ever disbelieved out of love of this worldly life (Dunyā) because of what is in it from positions and governance and wealth. And because of this, Allāh put them under the authority of the believers in order to remove their wealth from them, which prevented them from the faith (Imān) – through the war booty (Ghanimah) and the voluntary tribute (Fay’) – and to subdue them physically, as they were too proud to humble themselves to Allāh – through execution or slavery. And these are from the fruits of the ḥ in the path of Allāh, the Most High.

This is what concerns the notice upon the huge mistake in using the benefits of this worldly life (Dunyā) as an excuse.
About the author:

He is Abū Muhammad ‘Isām [or ‘Āsim, which the Shaykh prefers to be called by] ibn Muhammad ibn Tāhir al-Burqāwī, known as al-Maqdisī [of Jerusalem, Palestine], al-‘Utaybī in family descent. Originally from the village of Burqā from the districts of Nablus. He was born there in 1378 AH [1959 Christian Calendar]. His eldest son is Muhammad, and then ‘Umar, and then Ibrāhīm.

He then left it at the age of 3 or 4, along with his family- and headed for Kuwait, where he had resided until he had completed his high school studies. He then studied the sciences in the University of Mosul in Northern ‘Irāq, in accordance with the wishes of his father. And there, Allāh allowed him to connect with a number of Islāmic groups and movements.

After that, he traveled about Kuwait and the Hijāz. He had a beautiful experience there and a great connection with the students of knowledge, and some of the scholars, from whom he took the keys of knowledge. A few names amongst those with whom he studied, are Ibn Bāz, whose lessons he had attended within his own home; and he also resided in ‘Unayzah for a period of time, where he had also attended the lessons of al-‘Uthaymīn.

However, this did not quench his thirst for finding what the Muslim youth search for of understanding regarding the true state of affairs, and applying the correct Sharīʿ rulings upon them, and the correct stance regarding the governments of today, and clarifying the path by which to change the state of the Ummah today.

So he dedicated himself to the study the books of Shaykh al-Islâm Ibn Taymiyyah and his student Ibn al-Qayyîm. He also devoted himself for a very lengthy time to the study of the books of the Shaykh Muhammad ibn ‘Abdil-Wahhâb, and his students, his sons, and his grandsons from the Da’wah of Najd. Since then, these books had a great impact in his direction and path.

He traveled to Pakistan and Afghanistan several times, and got acquainted with many brothers and many groups from all over the Islâmic world. Over there, he joined some educational activities and also Da’wah. And over there, the book “Millat Ibrâhîm” was first published, which he had written during that time.

He also had debates and confrontations with some of the extremist Mukaffirah (those who pronounce Muslims to be infidels), which led to the writing of some books, the most important of which is perhaps, “The Thirty-ness Treatise in Warning from Excessiveness in Takfir”. Likewise, he had debates and confrontations with some of the groups of Irjâ’, which led to the writing of a number of books, amongst them, “Delighting the Sight by Lifting the Doubts the Murji’ah of the Era”, and “The Distinct Difference Between the Excuse of Ignorance and Turning Away from the Din.”

And then finally, he came to reside in Jordan, in the year 1992, and came out openly with the Da’wah of the Prophets and Messengers, that “Worship Allah and join none with Him in worship”. He began by giving a number of lessons, and contacting some of the brethren who had joined the Afghan Jihâd.

And then this blessed Da’wah began to spread throughout the spaciousness and width of the land. And when the enemies of Allâh from amongst the sects of the Murji’ah and the puppets of the government had become infuriated and constrained, they accused our brethren with ‘excessiveness in Takfir’ and similar accusations which the groups of Irjâ’ stir against the People of the Truth. And thus, some of the preachers of the Truth were expelled from there, and some were imprisoned.

And in the year 1994, the Shaykh was imprisoned along with a number of the Muwahhidīn [Pure Monotheists] brethren, those who were given a verdict by the Shaykh regarding the permissibility of carrying out operations against the Zionist occupiers in Palestine with explosives, which he had saved for them to use.

The Shaykh spread his Da’wah within the prisons, and he wrote many of his treatises from there. And one of the first things he wrote in prison was the series of treatises entitled, “O two companions of the prison! Are many different lords better or Allāh, the One, the Irresistible?” [Yūsuf: 39]- and these treatises contained various topics regarding Tawhīd, the Path of Ibrāhīm, ‘Ībādah, shirk, and Lā Ilāh Illā Allāh, and its nullifications, its stipulations, and its requisites. And with the Grace of Allāh, the Da’wah spread amongst the prisoners.

The Shaykh remained in the prisons of Jordan for a number of years, and was later released, even though he was still restricted and watched. His writings and Da’wah spread, and as a result, he was imprisoned a number of times by the Jordanian intelligence for a period of time, and likewise, anytime any activity took place in the country.
And then came the events of the Blessed Tuesday, and the thrones of the kuffār were shaken. And the preachers of the Truth were oppressed... the Shaykh issued a verdict regarding the permissibility of these blessed operations, and he wrote a treatise with the title, “This is What I Take as My Din to Allāh”, in which he expounded upon the legality of these operations, and the permissibility of targeting that people with these types of operations, and even operations which are more severe than those. The Shaykh was then imprisoned due to that for a several months, and then he was released, and he gave his Da’wah, and incited the Believers to fight against the kuffār.

Then came several operations against American forces in the region, and he wrote the book, “A Declaration of Disassociation by the Muwahhidin from the Covenants of the Tawāghīt and Their Security to the Enemy Combatants”. And so the people returned him to prison, and he has not ceased being there, till this day - firmly established upon the Da’wah to Allāh, inciting the Believers.
